PRES. DONOGHUE MAKES A LENGTHY REPORT TO THE FEDERATION CONVENTION

Head of Montana Labor Body Suggests Amendments to Present Compensation Law, Urges Legislation to Protect Workmen From Wildcat Mine Operators, Favors an Investigation by the Legislature of the High Cost of Living and Advocates the Organization of the Montana Teachers into the Ranks of Labor.

Special to the Post.
Helena, Jan. 30.—The report of President M. M. Donoghue, the reading of which occupied three hours, took up nearly all the time of the sessions of the second day of the biennial convention of the Montana Federation of Labor, which opened in this city yesterday, which was referred to the committee on president's report. The delegates adjourned and visited the legislature in a body during the afternoon. They will meet again tomorrow morning. Several committees were named ing; advocated that school teachers should be organized into union ranks; urged that the miners of Butte should be organized again; approved of the Farmers' Society of Equity, and covered the various difficulties which had arisen in labor ranks during the two years and what disposition had been made of them.

Legislative Measures.

Mr. Donoghue opened his address with a report on all the measures introduced at the last session of the legislature in which labor was interested. He devoted much space to the prohibition campaign, explaining how the officers of the federation had followed out the instructions of the last state convention and by means of flying squads campaigned with all their might against the enactment of the law. He traced the history of the workmen's compensation law and pointed out that the provision in the present law which says, "No compensation under the act, except as otherwise provided by treaty, shall be paid to any major or minor dependents not residing within the United States at the time of the injury to the decedent," has caused much suffering in worthy cases and advocated that this provision should be altered and that employers should be compelled to insure their employes instead of allowing them that privilege as elective.

The Compensation Law.

Mr. Donoghue said in part in regard to the compensation bill: "There are many other defects in the law which should be remedied. The amount of compensation is too small, the amount allowed for injuries is inadequate, the length of time which compensation runs is too short, the amount allowed for the first two weeks after an accident occurs should be increased. "We were asked by those having the measure in charge, after its passage to give the law a chance, to see how it would work. We promised we would have kept that promise faithfully. We have not complained, we have given it a fair trial. Now we wish it amended in a great many essentials. We hope that those in authority will assist us to amend it.

Labor Was Active.

Mr. Donoghue told how labor had been successful in killing the bill for establishment of a binding twine factory in the state penitentiary by a referendum vote of 11,109, and how the proposed military bill was killed in the senate two years ago. He urged that the state tuberculosis hospital at Gallatin should be enlarged.

"A law should be enacted to protect workmen from wild cat mine operators. The workmen of the state should be secure in his wages. Some of these wild cat schemes employ workmen in the operation of alleged mines, their wages are paid for some time, then default is made by the employer. The mines are closed down in consequence of a binding twine factory cannot operate the mines because of the lack of finances. Consequently they are unable to protect themselves and must suffer the loss of their wages. The wild cat operators operate under the lease and bond frequently. When that lease and bond is up, they are released from their obligations. A law of some character should be enacted compelling this character of promoters to put up bonds for the securing of wages of employes."

He told the delegates that he would present a bill to the legislature embodying a "Model Labor Law," urged that something should be done to minimize occupational disease through compelling employers to make the place of employment as free from disease as it is possible to do. Mr. Donoghue also gave a thorough account of the teamsters' strike in Butte and its settlement, as well as other labor troubles during the two years.

"The conclusion of his report was in part as follows: "With the knowledge within me of knowing that I have endeavored to perform the duties connected with the office to which you have elected me, and in endeavoring to do so I am conscious that I have not performed the duties to the satisfaction of all. If the majority of you feel that I have honestly, fearlessly and to some limited extent capably performed those duties, that is sufficient satisfaction and mental reward. "I have endeavored to steer the Ship of Unionism clear of the dangerous shoals which have beset it. Men within and without its ranks have tried to disintegrate, separate and destroy it. That class of men I am pleased to classify as my industrial enemies. It is a pleasure to note that they are not very numerous. "The greatest satisfaction one derives from the occupation of a position of confidence and trust is that of a duty well done. I am experiencing that satisfaction. I can point to some accomplishments in behalf of the labor in which I have taken some part. If I have done anything in that direction I must acknowledge that you have given me the opportunity to do so."

THIRD EXAMINATION; IS SENT TO ASYLUM

Mike Creden, aged 25 years and a resident of this city for the last seven years, was this afternoon ordered committed to Warm Springs by Judge Dwyer after a medical examination by Dr. W. L. Benick and Dr. A. C. Knight. It was the third time that Creden had been before the court within a few weeks on an insanity charge. The evidence showed that the condition of Creden's mind was due to the excessive use of liquor. On both occasions Creden had promised to leave liquor alone, but friends informed the court that the man did not seem able to keep his promise.

JOY FUNERAL.

In spite of the bitterly cold weather many friends attended the funeral services today held in memory of Joseph Joy. The cortege proceeded from the home of his sister, Mrs. John Boylan, 1221 First street, to St. Joseph's church, where a mass was celebrated. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

AID TO MEET.

The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Immanuel Presbyterian church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. George McElfeely, 509 South Washington street.

RACING CASES AGAINST POSTAL ARE DISMISSED

Thirteen Informations Thrown Out on Motion of County Attorney.

The misdemeanor Informations filed in the district court many months ago against the Postal Telegraph company, charging a violation of the law relating to the disseminating of information in regard to the result of horse races, were dismissed this afternoon by Judge John V. Dwyer on motion of County Attorney Joseph R. Jackson. There were in all 13 Informations.

When the company was placed on trial before Judge Donlan and a jury, a conviction was secured and Attorney William Meyer, who represented the Telegraph company, took an appeal to the supreme court and a decision was rendered reversing the conviction of the lower court on the ground of insufficiency of the evidence. Attorney Jackson, in asking the court to make an order dismissing the information, said that his office was not in possession of any more evidence than that possessed by the defendant and he deemed it would be useless to go to trial again on the same case. An information against the same company was also ordered dismissed.
