Y. M. C. A. BACKS THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Two Banks and Street Railway Co-operating in the Movement Locally.

Young Men's Christian associations of America are running a perpetual "thrift campaign." By means of special posters, exhibits, moving pictures, slides, lectures, annual "thrift" numbers of the trade magazine and in various other ways the organization is endeavoring to stimulate thrift. In the current number of a monthly magazine ex-President Taft makes the following pertinent statement under the title, "Our Prosperity Promises Trouble."

"A striking and threatening circumstance in our business and governmental affairs is the exceedingly great extravagance into which our feverish prosperity has led us. The moderate and well-to-do have generally had profits quite beyond anything they anticipated or have previously experienced. They have felt able to gratify themselves and families in every form of luxury and have greatly stimulated the demand in branches of business which deal in luxuries. While the cutting off of this extravagance would affect detrimentally that kind of business, this is not as serious perhaps as some other results.

"Those who are well to do, even if they have a severe lesson in economy, will still be able to live in comfort and may perhaps profit by their experience and discipline, but with the wage-earners a stimulated extravagance is likely to have results more difficult to bear. While I do not doubt that these higher wages have contributed substantially to the savings of some wage-earners, the evidence seems to be that extravagance among many of them has been quite unprecedented, and the consequent rapid circulation of money in the centers of labor populations has increased retail and wholesale business in a remarkable way. A continuation of this for another year must form habits which will make it real suffering on the part of wage-earners to reduce their standard of living, and which will increase their resistance to a reduction of wages and embitter the industrial controversies that are likely to arise."

"These words are particularly applicable to an industrial center like Butte. While the local organization is not in a position to take the movement up extensively at present, it is endeavoring to stimulate an interest with the assistance of the Silver Bow National bank, the Yagor Bros. bank and the Butte Electric Railway company, all of which are distributing the association literature to their employes and customers.

DENIES MOTION TO DISMISS LITTLE

Attorneys Seeks to Have Man Held for Murder Freed on Technicality.

Attorney W. N. Waugh, who represents W. J. Little, the former constable held at the county jail on charges of first degree assault and also murder, asked Judge Dwyer when court opened this morning for the dismissal of the murder charge on the ground that his client had not been brought to trial within six months.

County Attorney Joseph R. Jackson opposed the motion on the ground that Little would have been brought to trial but for the fact that after the case had been set by his predecessor the jury was discharged and the setting ordered vacated. He said that it was no fault of the county attorney's office that Little had not been placed on trial. The motion was denied.

Attorney Waugh also asked that the county attorney's office be required to disclose the nature and character of the exhibits to be used in the trial of Little. This was also denied after County Attorney Jackson opposed the application on the ground that there was no authority in law for such a proceeding.

The name of Attorney W. G. Sullivan was ordered entered as associate counsel in the Little case.

Sam Malous, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, said that if given another week he might secure counsel, and his arraignment was therefore continued until next Saturday.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION INTO ESTATE AFFAIRS

Rumors That Administrators Are Negligent the Cause of Action.

Reports having reached Judge John Dwyer that attorneys and others in charge of estates are not properly performing their duties, he today made an order directing Public Administrator T. J. Harrington to at once commence an investigation into the condition of all unsettled estates and report to him at the earliest possible day. Information having been received by Judge Dwyer that in some estates there are defalcations and the willful waste of the funds belonging to widows and orphans, the judge informed the public administrator that he desired a very thorough investigation and that if in any case there was found to be a misuse of estate funds to take the matter up with the county attorney with a view of having the guilty parties prosecuted on criminal charges.

U. S. SENATOR-ELECT VISITS FIGHTING FRONT

Hale of Maine Almost Caught by Bursting Shell at Ypres.

With the British Armies in France, Feb. 10 (Via London).—(From a staff correspondent of the associated press.)—Senator-elect Hale of Maine, who has been visiting the British front for the past several days, had a lively experience from German shell fire yesterday. He had expressed a keen desire to see the ruins of Ypres, and his automobile was just rounding Dead Man's corner into the Belgian city when a shell burst a few lengths behind.

A few yards further along the automobile became stalled. When it was found the car would not budge the party sprinted for shelter as several more shells broke over them. Although little is left of Ypres but piles of brick and stone, the town remains a favorite artillery target for the Germans. It is needless to say the exploration trip was shortened.
