CHURCHES CAMPAIGN FOR LIBERTY BONDS

Monday Congregations Hear Arguments in Favor of Loan to Government.
Every church of the city yesterday and Protestant letters read and arguments given in favor of the Liberty loan bonds. It was generally explained to the congregations that purchase of the government bonds for the prosecution of the war was not alone a duty on every citizen but a privilege and from an eminent point of view a most desirable thing.
Attention was also drawn to the offering for this afternoon at the Lyceum theater when visiting speakers will make a plea for the Liberty loan bonds. Some of the speakers pointed out that the purchase of the government bonds for the prosecution of the war, through the purchase of bonds, money which he will have back again with interest, was much a patriot as the man who goes to the front or the man who cultivates the farm and so provides for food supply of the nation.
Addresses in every instance listened to with the greatest interest and there is little doubt but that the will do its part nobly in the matter of raising its percentage of the billions asked for.

John G. Ross of the Trinity M. church was the speaker yesterday afternoon at the annual memorial exercises held by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of this city. The usual musical numbers were given and the program concluded with the singing of "America." The services were very impressive.

COMPENSATION ACT PROVES A SUCCESS

Under it 1,860 Employers and 70,000 Employees Are Reported.

Helena, June 4.—In the 23 months during which the workmen's compensation law has been in operation, 1,860 employers elected to come under the act, bringing with them 70,000 employees. During this time there has been paid out $458,567.85, which, with pending claims of $110,000, makes a total liability to date of $778,567.85.
These figures are shown in a report made by the industrial accident board to Governor Stewart.
The total accidents reported to date number 14,244, of which 226 were fatal; 11 totally disabled; 255 permanently partially disabled; 13,692 temporarily totally disabled; of which number 3,465 received compensation and 10,760 returned to work before the expiration of the two weeks' waiting period, and were only furnished the medical and hospital attention provided by the act. Of the fatalities, 152 were in quartz mines, 31 in coal mines, 32 in smelting, 8 in construction work, 10 in lumbering, 11 in electrical power work and 23 in miscellaneous occupations.

Employers' Self-Insurance.
Of the 1,860 employers, 60 qualified under plan one to carry their own risk and pay compensation direct to their injured employees. They brought with them under the act 23,708 employees (as reported for the year 1915, now fully 40,996), and have paid out in compensation of all kinds (including pending claims) $581,990.86. This, computed on the reported annual payroll for the year 1915 of $12,258,298, which, at the same ratio for the 23 months, amounts to $59,991,724, indicates an accident cost of less than 1 per cent, and if computed on the actual payroll would likely show a cost of less than one-half of one per cent, which, in addition to indicating very cheap insurance, also evidences the gratifying fact of a low accident record.

Risk by Insurance Companies.
Under plan two, which provides company insurance, 1,119 employers operated, reporting 16,060 employees, who, through 13 different insurance companies, paid out in compensation (including pending claims), $149,152.97, which, computed on the reported annual payroll (year 1915) of $12,045,680 or $23,138,879 for the 23 months, indicates an actual accident cost of less than three-fourths of one per cent of the payroll, which would indicate that present premium rates might be safely reduced.

State Fund Insurance.
Plan three, called "state insurance," was selected by 681 employers, with 9,218 employees, account which the state has paid out in compensation of all kinds $3,106.85, with pending claims aggregating about $3,500, making a total of $6,606.85, which, computed on the reported annual payroll of $3,204,893, or $6,142,702 for the 23 months, shows an accident cost of less than one per cent, which is perhaps the cheapest insurance protection in existence.

994 Plants Inspected.
During the past 23 months 994 plants have been inspected and many recommendations for the safety of employees made. Forty-three quartz mines, 26 coal mines and 695 boilers have also been inspected and 1,200 engineers' licenses issued.
The report also shows that in the thousands of cases passed by the board no appeals have been made, the rulings of the board being eminently satisfactory.
The expenses of the board amount to $52,293.66, against which has been earned $4,494.70, leaving a net expenditure of $47,798.96. This is gratifying, as the expenditures in other states where the law has been in operation have been much greater. Nevada spent over $60,000, Oregon $100,000, Washington $220,000 and California $440,000.

Redding, Cal., June 4.—A violent eruption of Lassen Peak, which was preceded by a subterranean explosion felt for miles around, occurred here early today. GLORY HOLE OF TREADWELL MINE TO BE TAILING PIT

Juneau, Alaska, June 4.—Regardless of what may be done in reclaiming the main workings of the Treadwell mine which were flooded recently following a cave-in, the fate of the "glory hole" is sealed. This famous open work of the second largest gold mine in the world is to become a tailing pit.
The glory hole is 560 feet across and some 1,500 feet long. Ore from this chasm was crushed years ago and tons of gold extracted. At one time it yawned open to a depth of 500 feet. Then the sides caved and it filled to within 300 feet of the surface.
This plug of surface rock was the safety catch which prevented the flooding of the lower workings and enabled the men below to escape when one of the big stopes, which will shortly leave for France, was compressed until it forced its way through crevices to the surface under the long tailing dump and the mud boiled up in hundreds of places like so many little craters for hours after the collapse.
The glory hole, while always an attraction to visitors and tourists, has long been a menace, and one of the first decisions of the mine chiefs was to turn the tailings from the mill still in operation into the chasm, which will be filled, but it will take years to complete the job.

EMMA MINE PRODUCING ON A LARGE SCALE

Nearly 200 tons of ore a day is being hoisted from the Emma mine, which is running in the vicinity of 14 per cent zinc, 7 per cent lead and nearly 7 ounces of silver to the ton. The vein on the 1,000 foot level has been encountered and conditions are very encouraging. Sinking of the shaft to a depth of 1,600 feet is now proceeding. Drifting is now going on east and west and on the east end the same rich ore that was found on the 600 and 800 foot levels is being encountered.
