CRISIS IS NEAR IN MINE STRIKE

Outcome Depends on Action of Recognized Labor Unions.

circles. The committee of the metal trades council has already met with a similar committee of the Silver Bow Trades and Labor council and one from the building trades council. The committee from the Silver Bow Trades and Labor council will report tomorrow evening. The regular meetings of the building trades council are held on Wednesday evenings. Although more men were employed in the mines today than at any time during the last ten days, it is known that a crisis is approaching in the labor situation. The strike engineered by the I. W. W. has failed—it can be made a success only by the help of other unions. Whether this support will be given will be determined in the next few days. A very substantial increase was reported in the number of miners at work today, but no one is minimizing the seriousness of the situation, for the mines would have to go down if the recognized unions ordered a strike. The I. W. W. miners union, however, cannot put the mines out of business if unassisted.

Pressure on Unions.

Interest in today's labor situation was centered in the efforts of the strike committee of the Electricians' union to force a complete shutdown of the mines by inducing a walkout of all craftsmen working with the men who replaced the electricians. Chairman R. F. Dunne, at the head of the electricians strike committee, brought most of his pressure to bear upon the Machinists' and Engineers' unions. The Machinists' union has a membership of 387. Of this number approximately 200 are employed in the mines on the hill. If these men walk out it will badly cripple the mines. Dunne's greatest pressure today was brought on the engineers. There are nearly 800 members in this union and of this number, including the firemen, there are about 700 men employed at the mines.

Effort also was made by Dunne to induce the blacksmiths and their helpers to join the forces of the strikers. Whether this union will walk out or continue at work is being decided at a referendum vote which is taking place this afternoon. The referendum started at 9 o'clock and the polls will close at 9 tonight.

Carpenters' Demands.

Another complication was added to the labor situation today when employers received a report that the Carpenters' union is preparing to demand an increase of wages for carpenters employed in the mines. At present the carpenters are receiving $5 per day. They are expected to ask for an increase to $7 per day. W. H. Rodgers, the federal mediator, has been busy since his arrival in the city in an effort to grasp and adjust the trouble. Complicated as the situation is, Mr. Rodgers is of the opinion that he will be successful in averting a complete shutdown of the mines. Yesterday Mr. Rodgers spent considerable time with the officials of the Metal Mines union and this morning he had a long conference with officers of the Metal Trades Council. This afternoon he gave over to a conference with officials of the mines.

At the Smelters.

The Washoe smelter in Anaconda is now closed and all ore being mined is sent to the smelter in Great Falls. The last of the departments comprising ore treatment at the Washoe smelter was shut down yesterday. The other departments were closed from day to day last week. The work of cleaning the large flue of the smelter is under way and will be completed by Thursday. Resumption of work then will depend upon the Butte situation, according to Superintendent L. V. Bender. There is some ore on hand at the smelter. The Great Falls smelter can operate a few more days under the present supply of ore. According to Superintendent J. H. Klepsinger the zinc plant has enough material to continue in operation for three weeks, but there is only enough ore to operate the smelter department four days. Officials at the plant, according to advices from Great Falls, expect to see the plant idle fore long, unless the Butte situation is adjusted.

Even should the Great Falls smelter close there is considerable construction work under way which will give employment to many men.

At a meeting yesterday the Metal Mines workers union passed a resolution forbidding men to return to work in any mine until permission to return to work in all mines is given.

Action of Conference.

Latest developments indicate that three of the four committees in the organized labor conference last week will recommend that their organizations repudiate the I. W. W. metal mine workers until they affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. The committees which decided upon this action are:

Metal trades, including blacksmiths, machinists, sheet metal workers, bridge and structural iron workers, steamfitters and horseshoers.

Building trades, including bricklayers and masons, plumbers, carpenters and joiners, building laborers, painters and decorators, plasterers and wood, wire and metal lathers.

The Silver Bow Trades and Labor assembly committee will report in favor of recognizing the Metal Mine Workers' union. As the majority of the conference was against recognizing the metal mine workers, it is doubted if the trades council will accept the recommendations of its committee.

INFLUENCES BACK OF THE STRIKE DEFINITELY KNOWN

sue of June 16 Solidarity, after referring exultingly to the troubles in Butte, said:

"The I. W. W. delegates of Industrial Union 800 of the I. W. W. were on the job from the start and other I. W. W. organizers were sent to the field at once." The Post already has printed the telegram sent from Whitehall June 7 asking help and organizers for Butte, where the situation was ripe for a strike. That telegram was sent to the editor of the I. W. W. publication at Duluth, the Industrialist. That journal, a Finn publication, devotes considerable space to the Butte strike in each issue. On June 21 it published an article on the Butte situation in the course of which it said:

"The strike was started a little too soon and therefore things are not going just as the Finnish I. W. W.'s would like to have them. The union just started is an independent one now, and is not connected with any of the other federation unions. The name of the new union is 'The Metal Mine Workers' Union,' and the monthly dues are the same as those of the I. W. W. The constitution and by-laws are as neat to those of the I. W. W. as they could make them. Why these things were done I will explain.

"First—When the strike was first started they did not have any English speakers here.

"Second—They have not had any English talking speakers here for three years, and so they did not understand the I. W. W. movement.

"Third—The independent union was already being formed here when the I. W. W. men came to Butte a few days afterwards. If the I. W. W. leaders had started to talk about the I. W. W. movement they would have spoiled the union already started. The Finnish I. W. W. leaders want to make the new union I. W. W. right away, but when they found out that 20,000 in Butte did not understand the I. W. W. movement they decided to let it go for the time being.

"The I. W. W. leaders are going to spread around in all languages I. W. W. papers explaining I. W. W. and after the people know about it, and the right time comes, they are going to turn the new union over to the I. W. W.'s. They know that an independent union cannot live long here unless some big organization is back of it. The I. W. W. organizers who are here think that this is the best way to handle the matter. They are John Down and Brazier. Every Finnish member of the I. W. W. should abide by this decision, but do not give up your I. W. W. card when you join the new union. Everyone who has paid dues to the I. W. W. will not have to pay to the new union. Everything indicates that the turning over of the new union to the I. W. W. will come very soon. James Lord is on the way to Butte to get them to turn the new union over to the International Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers' union,

DR. TURNER IS CALLED BEYOND

Butte Physician Passes Away in Brooklyn After a Long Illness.

Dr. Christopher Turner, one of Butte's pioneer physicians, one time head of the St. James hospital staff, well known throughout the state, died Saturday in Brooklyn, N. Y., according to word received by his nephew, James Finlen, of the Finlen hotel. The body will be interred in Brooklyn.

Dr. Turner was born in Ireland. He was associated in Chicago for some years with the famous Dr. Murphy, recently deceased. He was family physician for the late Marcus Daly and at one time accompanied Mr. Daly, as his physician, to Badnaheim, Germany. He was known far and wide for deeds of kindness. He had practiced in this city for 19 years.

Two years ago Dr. Turner left for the east in failing health. His death brings sorrow to many in Butte who knew him and loved him for his many admirable qualities. Mrs. Finlen, mother of Mr. Finlen, of the Finlen hotel, is a sister. Other relatives are his widow and a daughter, Catherine.

MACHINE GUNS TO QUELL RIOT IN CORK, IRELAND

The Police Bring Out Their Artillery Against Sinn Feiners.

Cork, June 25.—Machine guns were used on the Sinn Feiners in the disturbances here yesterday morning. They were brought into action after which is the same as the old Western Federation of Miners, but to that union we will never belong. The only union we will join is the I. W. W., and every member must work together as one.
