BAILLOUD IS POPULAR HERO OF MANY TALES

French General Was Asked by Soldier to Carry a Jug.

Salonica, June 25.—General BailLOUD, commanding part of the French expeditionary force in the Balkans, is so popular that nearly every good story originating in his corps is either about him or attributed to him. The latest anecdote going the rounds tells how a soldier of the rough-and-ready style was returning to quarters near Monastir with a water jug in each hand. Coming across another mud-stained "polla" sitting beside the road, he hailed him: "Hello, old man."
"Hello," replied the other.
"Say, can't you carry one of these jugs for me?"
"Sure," and they went on together.
"Would you believe it," said the first soldier, "they've chucked me into the grade of corporal!"
"What of that," replied the other, "didn't they chuck me into the grade of general?"

After nearly dropping his jug, the soldier drew closer and made out three faint stars on a mud-stained sleeve. He drew himself up at attention and saluted.
"Walk on, corporal," said General BailLOUD, who wouldn't consent to give up his jug.

Youthful, Beautiful Skin Easy to Have

You may be as healthy as a bird in the air and still have a poor complexion. Changing seasons and temperatures, winds, dust and dirt, are apt to injure your skin, even though the general health is good. When these external influences spoil the complexion, the natural thing is to remove the spoil by external means. Ordinary mercurized wax will do this. It will actually absorb the weathered film-skin, a little each day. In a week or two you'll have a brand new complexion, a new skin. The equally beautiful and youthful complexion thus acquired, comes so easily, without harm or discomfort, there's no reason why any woman should not adopt this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will not fall in any case.
To quickly remove wrinkles, signs of care and age, bathe the face occasionally in a solution of powdered azoicite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint of witch hazel. The result, which is instantaneous, will surprise you greatly. The ingredients are of course perfectly harmless.

FAREWELL RUSSIAN BALLET! CZAR'S DIVERSION ENDS WITH HIS DOWNFALL

MME. M. KSCHEINSKA

New York, June 25.—The Russian ballet may be no more.
When the old regime fell in Russia, when popular representatives took the places of the czar, his dukes and duchesses, the famous ballet dancers who thrived on royalty lost their source of existence.

The most famous ballet dancer in Russia, Matilda Kschesinska, who was the ex-czar's favorite and received an immense income besides a magnificent palace from him, and lost both when the people rebelled, was at one time in danger of losing her life and was saved from poverty only by the love the people had for her.

Here in New York remain a few Russian ballet dancers, and if these do not pass the art on to the next generation, the Russian ballet will be no more. At any rate, the art can no longer thrive on the whims of royalty; it must entertain democracy now.

The case of Mme. Kschesinska is only one of many involved in the downfall of Russian royalty. Each duke and duchess had a favorite dancer who had everything but the title to put her in the royal caste. Mme. Kschesinska, protegee of the former czar, was the richest and most popular of all. Her jewels were so valuable, when she danced in London, some time ago, private detectives guarded them. Among them was a coronet of diamonds with sapphires as large as pigeon eggs.

When the house of Romanoff fell, Matilda Kschesinska fled. She left her palace just in time, for next morning a mob broke into her home, looting and burning. Nikolai Lenine, radical socialist leader, made her rooms his headquarters and a socialist newspaper was prepared for the press in her salon.

But despite her friendship with the ex-czar, Mme. Kschesinska was a favorite with the people. By order of the new governor, all her valuables were restored, Lenine and his socialist newspaper ordered out of the palace and proceedings have begun to call the famous dancer back to Petrograd.

WHAT TO NAME PRIZES OF WAR

German Ships May Be Christened After Names of Lawmakers.

The Post's Washington Bureau. Washington, June 25.—How would it sound if one of the big interned German ships that the United States has seized as prizes of war were christened the "Jeanette Rankin" or the "Henry L. Myers"? That very thing may happen, judging from an announcement just made by the committee on public information, which says that the shipping board is giving serious consideration to the renaming of these ships after members of the United States congress. If that happens, several members of the Montana congressional delegation may find their names projected into the national world on the sides of ships that formerly belonged to the Kaiser's country.

Some little difficulty is in the way of carrying out this program, due to the duplication of names of members of congress. For instance, the name "Johnson" and the name "Johnson" are common. The committee on public information, which is in charge of the program, says that the shipping board is giving serious consideration to the renaming of these ships after members of the United States congress. If that happens, several members of the Montana congressional delegation may find their names projected into the national world on the sides of ships that formerly belonged to the Kaiser's country.

FRENCH MAJOR HERE USES FALSE HAND

Port Royal, S. C., June 25.—Not satisfied with only serving their country in the "two-in-one" marine corps way, the recruits undergoing instruction at the marine corps recruit depot here have subscribed for $50,000 worth of Liberty bonds. It was announced today.

JEWELS STOLEN? POOH! SHE MOURNS "HONEY BOY"

Chicago, June 25.—That a bold, bad burglar stole her watch and a valuable set of furs is next to nothing in the life of Mrs. Harriet Dudley, compared with the theft of her "Honey Boy."
Ever since the heartless deed was committed a week ago Mrs. Dudley has not been able to sleep of nights through worrying over her "Honey Boy."
"Honey Boy" is a Pekinese spaniel, of poofie, and Mrs. Dudley not only raised him from a puppy but paid $150 for the privilege.
"You see," she wailed, "I'm a widow and I loved that dog like a baby. He was the whole world to me, and I am almost crazy over his disappearance. Oh, he was the sweetest, brightest, cutest, smartest, dearest little dog that ever was, and he loved me like a mother."
Among French officers assigned to instruct Harvard students in trench warfare is Commandant Major Paul

CATHOLIC PRIEST HAS PRAISE FOR RED CROSS

Cares for Needy of Friend and Foe Alike, Says Father Tracey.

"There is no more deserving object in the whole world today than the Red Cross movement," declared Rev. Father Tracey of Helena, yesterday, speaking at St. Patrick's church. "The Red Cross movement is one of charity; it represents a mission which was founded by Christ himself and all who profess Christianity should feel it their bounden duty to subscribe and subscribe liberally."
Father Tracey in the course of his talk told of a certain Red Cross collector who was offered $500 donation by a wealthy man for the Red Cross fund, "with this reservation, however," the priest continued, "that the money should not be used for helping any Germans. The offer was at once refused by the collector, who explained that the Red Cross cares for all who are in need, friend and foe alike."
Red Cross cards were distributed at the masses in the Catholic churches yesterday and the congregations were urged upon to donate. "Those who have not yet been approached," they were told, "should sign their names on the cards and their addresses and turn in the cards to the church, when official collectors for the fund would call at the people's homes." Many of the cards were signed and handed in.

FAIR SKINNED FOUND TO HAVE BEST NERVES

London, June 25.—Fair-skinned people and those with gray or blue eyes have sounder nervous systems than those of dark complexion or dark eyes, in the opinion of the members of the army medical board, which is investigating cases of shock from exploding shells and similar nervous complaints in the military hospitals. Histories of thousands of cases are being tabulated and compared.
