

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN STRIKE CIRCLES

Electricians Will Consider Proposal of Montana Power Company Tonight.

PRESIDENT McNULTY EXPECTED TOMORROW

International Representatives Hopeful of Settlement of Trouble.

Interest in the labor situation today centers in the meeting of Electric Workers' union No. 65 tonight, at which the proposal of the Montana Power company will be considered...

International labor representatives in the city believe that the electricians will eventually settle their troubles with the Montana Power company.

He Protests.

John Ellipoulos, editor of the Greek News, a local publication, has addressed a letter to the metal mine workers' union in which he demands the elimination of Tom Campbell, I. W. M. leader who is at the head of the miners' organization.

"I regret to say that the tide has turned against the strike since Mr. Campbell made the pitiful and disastrous speech before the Finns last night, saying that he is willing to fight for his country if it were not run by capitalists."

Talk in Finn Hall.

Much has been said in Finn hall about conditions in the mining districts in Arizona. Some speakers have gone so far as to say that strikes in certain districts there were ordered because of the movement in Butte and that they would be continued until the miners here got their demands.

Call Engineers Scabs.

The refusal of the Engineers' union to strike is a blow to the I. W. M. leaders. This became evident when Campbell called the engineers scabs. He declared that "nothing but a scab would lower scab miners into the mines."

In Arizona.

"Globe, Ariz., July 2.—Globe-Miami strike called by International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelterworkers and tied up 100 per cent of the properties affected. A few mines are fair. Clifton Morenci tied up complete and under auspices of the State Federation of Labor. No wobbly influence there.

Still Holds Center.

Mr. Maleta today denied the report that the Butte local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers had given up its charter in the American Federation.

of the Western Federation of Miners before it became merged into the present organization, now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. He was long a member of Butte union No. 1, of the Western Federation, and he went through the jurisdictional troubles of 1914, leaving Butte at that time for Arizona, where he has been active in labor union circles since.

Some excitement was caused late yesterday afternoon when the linemen of the Butte Electric Railway company walked out. They remained on strike for two hours, after which they returned to work.

The trouble started over construction work on a pole line to the Copper Center mine, the right of way of which was given to the mine company through the gardens, by the Columbia Gardens management. In this way the mine company did not have to run its pole line clear around the gardens.

A contract for the work was let by Manager Green of the Copper Center company and a contractor was having the poles put into place. When the electricians learned of this they protested that the work should be done by linemen. Mr. Wharton explained that he had nothing to do with the work, that he only granted permission for the right of way through the gardens.

The electricians then called out the street car linemen. The contractor hearing of this discharged his men and the linemen returned to work.

Called it an Insult.

That the leaders of the I. W. M. Metal Mine Workers' union will not permit the organization to affiliate with organized labor, if they can prevent it, was demonstrated at a meeting of the outfit union in Finn hall yesterday afternoon. A telegram was received from the Burke, Ida, miners in which they promised support to the Butte union if it affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Don Shovin, who alternates with Campbell as chairman at the meetings of the outfit organization, declared that the telegram was an insult. He added that the Butte miners will never return to the fold of the Mover Western Federation of Miners, Shovin sarcastically moved that the Burke miners be given thanks for the support they have not given the Butte miners.

A telegram from Bisbee, Ariz., stated the miners there are on strike in sympathy with the Butte men, and will not return to work until the Butte troubles are settled.

Several times groups of shop girls on their way to work slipped through the police lines and kissed the soldiers, to their great embarrassment. Now and then an American voice could be heard calling out, "Hello, boys!" "Welcome to Paris with your good luck!" When the regimental colors were carried past the men bared their heads. The Americans were greatly surprised to see a number of children kneel in the street as the flag was carried by. They were orphans from an institution in the neighborhood.

W. W. tactics." The strike leaders claimed this agricultural division included 52,000 farm laborers throughout the middle west who are being counted upon to assist in the wheat harvest.

OBJECT TO EXTENDING CONTROL OVER PRODUCTS

At the request of Senator Reed, consideration of provisions prohibiting government employees or members of advisory commissions from selling their own products to the government was deferred.

As to Farmers.

Exemption of farmers' co-operative organizations from the restrictive legislation caused considerable debate. A committee amendment limiting exemptions to agricultural and horticultural organizations which do not make profits was opposed by Senator Wadsworth of New York and Norris of Nebraska. Senator Chamberlain said the committee amendment was suggested by Mr. Hoover in order to reach food-stuffs in elevators operated by farmers' organizations and to prevent pooling in marketing of crops.

Property Loss.

The property loss due to the rioting was heavy because the warehouse of the Southern railway and between 100 and 150 freight cars were destroyed by the flames. The loss will amount to as high as $500,000. The Broadway theater, valued at $100,000, also was destroyed.

Many Brutal Incidents.

Bits of clothing taken from dead negroes were shown today by souvenir hunters. One brutal incident of the night was related, among many others, today. On Fourth street near Broadway three men saw a negro, apparently dead, lying in a gutter. One flashed a pocket light and saw that he still breathed.

Underlying Causes.

The causes deeply underlying the disturbances are said to be of interest to many other northern communities where the negro labor has been brought in from the south to replace men enlisted in the army, or who have been tempted to other sections by the high wages paid in munitions factories.

Threats Against Mayor.

One incident of the night indicated the temper of the mobs. A crowd went about the streets shouting against the mayor. "Let's get Mollman!" they cried, "He's the man who brought them in. Let's lynch the mayor."

Attack Negro Women.

Another incident of the night was an attack on a young negroess. White men and women were among the assailants. "Let the women have her," was cry among the men, and white women began tearing the garments from their victim. The negroess cry, "Please, please; I ain't done nothing." She was stopped by a blow in the mouth with a club which a woman swung like a baseball bat. Another white woman seized the victim's hands and the blow and her waist was stripped from her.

RACE RIOTS SCENE OF UTTER CRUELTY

ing from the Missouri side of the Mississippi, each of whom was pledged to "get a nigger," led to a request by Chief of Police Payne on the chief at St. Louis, Mo., to close the bridges, but the rumor was found baseless and the bridges remained open for the exodus of negroes.

Removing the Negroes.

Later it was decided to remove the homeless who could not be cared for in this city to the Missouri side of the river. The first convoy, numbering 65 men, women and children, presented a pitiable spectacle as they started across the free bridge with their military guard. They were in all stages of dress and undress and carried what worldly possessions they had saved—battered suitcases, rolls of bedding, dolls, saved by the children, a few chickens and other odds and ends of the business of life.

1,500 Soldiers Patrol.

Eleven companies of the Illinois national guard, numbering about 1,500 men, patrolled the streets at daylight with fixed bayonets with orders to prevent any assemblage of people on the streets. Adjutant General Dickson said that military rule had been established and probably would not be. Mayor Mollman of East St. Louis, said the adjutant general, asked for a declaration of military rule and this fact gave rise to the statement that military rule actually had been declared. The adjutant general declared that the transfer of military cases to civil courts involved so much trouble that reluctance to declare military rule was shown.
