COLONEL GREEN WEDS A REAL HELPMATE
Marries a Chicago Girl Who Will Make Him "a Real Home."

Chicago, July 10.—Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of the late Hetty Green, who in her life-time usually was spoken of as the "richest woman in the world," will be married today. His bride will be Miss Mabel E. Harlow, who since the death of her mother, five years ago, has resided with relatives in Highland Park, a suburb of Chicago.

Colonel Green, who shares the $100,000,000 estate left by his mother with his sister, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilkes, said that he was marrying for something millions cannot buy, "a real home."

"I am marrying the best and most sensible little lady in the world," Mr. Green said. "I am burdened with the troubles of the world. I am not marrying a 'social bud' but one whom I am sure will be a help to me. All I can say is that I am going to try to be worthy."

FIRES TO FRIGHTEN HOLDUP; KILLS DRUNK

two shots in the direction of the saloon to attract any officer who might be in the neighborhood of the saloon and to scare the holdup who followed him away. He said he heard a man groan after he had fired the first shot and thought perhaps that one of his bullets found its mark in the body of one of the holdups.

With firing of the two shots, the two holdups left, taking $4.25 from the cash register with them. Ligan says that he returned to the saloon and talked the affair over with the bartender, little thinking that he had killed anyone.

Denied Shooting at First.
When two deputy sheriffs made

Inquiries of Ligan a little later as to who fired the shots, it is said that Ligan denied knowledge of any shooting. The holdup was not reported to the police nor to the sheriff's office. Con Cronin and Jack Keating, two miners who were in the vicinity at the time, heard the shots but knew nothing either of a holdup or of the killing of Sullivan. Deputies Frank S. Shaffer and Mike Lupeman noted Sullivan lying on the ground at 12:25 o'clock, and they say he was breathing then and bore no evidence of violence.

Martin Hackett of 529 North Wyoming street found Sullivan's body in the rear of the saloon at 5:30 o'clock this morning. There was no blood on the clothing or, in fact, any outward appearance of how Sullivan had met death. He called Larry Duggan, the undertaker who lives nearby, and the latter discovered a bullet wound just under Sullivan's heart.

Coroner Lane and the police then were notified, and Sullivan's body was removed to the Duggan undertaking establishment.

Goggin Arrested.
When the police took Ligan into custody, he told the story of the hold-up and accused George Goggin of being one of those responsible. Goggin was arrested at his home on Anaconda road a few minutes later by Patrolman John L. Sullivan. Ligan immediately identified Goggin as one of the holdups. Goggin had nothing to say and did not deny the identification. He had about $8 in currency and still on his person. He was removed to the county jail and since has made no statement. He is a Butte boy and has three brothers employed in the mines here.

Sullivan was a native of Rutte. With his wife and two children he lived on North Main street. Besides his wife and children, he is survived by two brothers, Jerry and Dan, and a sister, Mrs. Emmett Murphy, all of Butte, and a sister, Sister Luella of Missoula.

Coroner Lane will hold an inquest the latter part of the week. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

THE WISE FOOL.
"Man is made of clay," observed the Sage.
"Maybe that's the reason why he is so easily broke," commented the Fool.

SENATE WILL VOTE ON FOOD BILL JULY 21

the way for final passage of the bill.

Committee Up in the Air.
The democratic steering committee met before the senate convened but was unable to reach an agreement and definite action was deferred. Senators said the situation among the steering committee members was as chaotic as that in the senate.

To meet the constitutional objections that the prohibition amendment imposed illegal burdens on the distillers, Senator Smoot suggested another amendment that would eliminate this objectionable feature.

While the steering committee was in session, Postmaster General Burleson walked in and joined in the discussion. Hope for an agreement later on is the consensus of opinion.

To Limit the Bill.
In an effort to modify the bill to meet various objections, the agricultural committee was called together today. Chairman Gore proposed amendments limiting government control of foodstuffs and fuel, eliminating iron, steel, copper, cotton and many other products.

Lodge's Opposition.
Senator Lodge, acting republican leader, made a long speech criticizing the food bill.

He retorted invoking the cloture rule, he said. "What troubles me in this bill," he said, "is the attempt to set aside economy laws. This bill undertakes to give to the president absolute control of all the business in this country."

Senators from wheat producing states and the great centers of wheat distribution, the Massachusetts senator declared, had told him that they were not in favor of the bill, that it had destroyed the wheat market and destroyed commerce.

"I am told," he added, "that provision has already been made to fix the price of sugar which would make it impossible for sugar manufacturers to make any profit." Senator Lodge opposed forcing copper producers to sell at abnormally low prices. "We may have something," he said, "but we will lose more by closing small mines that are producing the surplus vitally necessary."

Commerce Disturbed.
When Senator Chamberlain suggested that the bill does not direct but merely authorizes the president to take control of various products, Senator Lodge said the mere possibility had already greatly disturbed commerce. He declared congress would freely give any legislation needed to cope with food speculation.

"Such men are nothing more than criminals," he said, "and should be punished to the utmost extent, but that is not all that this bill proposes. It goes far beyond that and we should go extremely slow in disturbing ordinary laws of trade and economics."

REPUBLICANS CLOSE IN ON THE DICTATOR
Peking, July 10.—The western army, under Gen. Tsao Kua, military governor of Chi, is now within a few miles of the city, while the forces of Gen. Chuan Chi Kwein are a few miles southeast of the capital. Heavy artillery fire can be heard in that direction. Reinforcements were placed in position to cut off Gen. Chang Ksun's retreat toward the northwest. Bombs were again dropped on the imperial palace by an airplane of the republicans. Foreign reinforcements have been arriving and arrangements have been made whereby troop trains daily will be permitted between Peking and Tien Tsin each way subject to search.

Liang Chi Shao, chief commander of the republican forces, says there is no question of any compromise with Chang Hsun, as the republicans have determined finally to overthrow him. Negotiations are under way for the surrender of Chang Hsun's forces. Ac-ording to reports, Chang Hsun's whereabouts at Peking is unknown. He has urged the emperor to take personal command.

THREE DAYS OUT OF PRISON; BUYS HOTEL

Specific allegation being that he stole a Willys-Knight automobile valued at $1,583 from W. M. Albee of the Overland-Albee company, local agents for Overland, Willys and Willys-Knight cars.

Paroled Week Ago.
Madden was paroled on July 3, after serving part of a sentence imposed for forgery in Custer county. Last Friday he appeared in a South Main street saloon, introduced himself as the son of a wealthy Custer county cattleman, bought a flock of drinks, and then made it known that he came to Butte to purchase an automobile and make a few other investments. He succeeded in cashing a check at the saloon and was referred to the Overland-Albee company for purchase of an auto.

At the latter's establishment he negotiated purchase of a Willys-Knight car and gave Mr. Albee, the manager, a check for $1,583, drawn on a Miles City bank, for it. Then Madden proceeded to hire a chauffeur. He gave the latter a check for $90 as an advance payment on salary and started for a trip to Divide. At Dewey he bought the hotel there, giving a check for $3,500 for the establishment. Proceeding on to Divide, he made it known among the liquor dealers of that place that he had purchased the Dewey hotel and would like to establish cordial relations with them. He did to the tune of several hundred dollars, for the Divide saloons cashed his checks without question.

Goes Farther South.
At Divide, Madden decided that he would go farther south by train and he sent his car and chauffeur back to Butte. About the time the latter arrived notice was received from Miles City that Madden had no account with the bank there.

Officers throughout the state have been advised to be on the lookout for Madden's appearance, and a charge of grand larceny has been lodged against him.
