C. P. NEVIN MISSES ATLANTA MEETING

Blames Delay in Chicago, But Explanation is Received by Deaf Ears.

Charles P. Nevin, former mayor, plumber and story-teller, left Butte some weeks ago for Atlanta, Ga., to attend the international convention of Rotary clubs. He did not reach his destination. He switched at Chicago and went to California, arriving home last night. He says that he arrived in Chicago two days late and would have been late for the Atlanta convention and that was why he changed his route to the other corner of the south. His friends don't believe him, and they have good reason, too.

It is confidentially reported here that on his arrival in Chicago Mr. Nevin joined a picnic of the Irish societies in that city and did not show up for several days. By that time other Rotary delegates had passed through and rather than face the explanations which would be required he started for the southwest. There he joined another Irish picnic, where he met many former Butte men, and admits having had an excellent time. It is but natural to suppose that his adventures in Chicago were something the same as in San Francisco, his friends say.

Cuttings from San Francisco papers received here show that Mr. Nevin was toastmaster at several banquets, that he appeared at several parties and told the story "Am I Right, Boys?" that he was besieged with offers for a vaudeville engagement, but that he declined them all, saying there was more and easier money in the plumbing business. At any rate, when Charley appeared on the streets of Butte this morning he wore a new hat which did not exactly fit him and which he probably secured at one of the banquets he attended while in San Francisco. It is a hat of strictly California style, and while no suspicion is entertained that he purloined the hat in any but an accidental manner, some of his friends are uncharitable enough to think the worst of him. He also had a furtive look in his eye as if he suspected he was being shadowed.

Becoming serious for a moment, Mr. Nevin said, as do all other returning tourists, that California is a wonderful state. Probably from folders which are issued by thousands he learned all about the fruit crop and was willing to talk about it, but nobody took any stock in what he said. John J. O'Meara, one of the first men he met this morning, told Nevin straight to his face that he got the inside story on what happened in Chicago and the irresistible after-dinner speaker was non-plussed for a moment, but quickly recovered his composure and continued his old banter. Mr. Nevin went up the coast from California by boat, feeling that he would meet fewer officers of the law by that route. At Spokane he met his wife and family, who had been visiting there, and, chaperoned by them, he was enabled to reach Butte in safety. Many of his friends say that in spite of everything and all the mean tricks he has played on them on various occasions in the past and in spite of his desertion at Chicago they will use all their influence to prevent the issuance of extradition papers.

"I had a great trip," said Charley, closing the interview with his friends. In an effort to show himself completely at ease. He shifted that hat but once more in order to make it fit and then descended to his North Main street store to plot some more.

LONGING FOR A CHILD

Young Wife Almost in Despair. Now has Beautiful Baby Girl.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought joy to many childless women by restoring them to normal health. Here is a notable case.

Omaha, Neb.—"I suffered from female troubles when I was seventeen years old. At eighteen I was married and my trouble was no better so I consulted a physician who said that there was not much I could do and I could not have children. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has proved worth its weight in gold to me for I am not only well but have a baby girl, so when I hear of any woman suffering as I was I tell her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. W. HUGHES, 19 Majestic Apts., Omaha, Neb.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

CONFESSES FORGERY TO BLOT LIFE STAIN
Portland, Ore.—A struggle of three years with the haunting fear of exposure ended here when R. C. Casey arrived from St. Louis ready to go before the circuit court and plead guilty to a small check forgery and pay any penalty asked.

In St. Louis, where he used his true name, which the prosecuting attorney refuses to divulge, he made a success of life and was earning $50 a month. He left behind a wife who says she will await his return for the wedding.

Because of Casey's honest desire to turn back the blotted page of his unusual life the prosecuting attorney will try to have the greatest leniency shown by the court.

Detroit, Mich.—John Vikel, 25 years old, 153 Denton street, Hamtramck, failed to get a marriage license in the county clerk's office because he did not know his fiancée's last name. "I've known her two months, but I never called her anything except Annie," he explained to Marriage License Clerk Pilsarski. "Isn't that enough?" When informed he must know her last name he made for the door and promised to bring Annie and the rest of her name to the county building.

Laterbaugh maintains two residences, one 50 feet from the other, and upon arising at 5 o'clock the other morning noticed two men trying to force in a window in the adjoining house. He went into the yard and called upon the men to state their business.

Their answer was a volley of shots and a shotgun. Returning to the yard she handed the gun to her husband and the battle started.

The Italians took refuge behind one house and Laterbaugh behind the

FEARS WAR FOR SON KILLS SELF ON TRAIN
Pittsburg, Pa.—Leon Block, 55 years old, a Kansas City attorney, committed suicide on a Pennsylvania train between Rochester, Pa., and this city. Block cut his throat with a razor. He was dead when found by a porter. Block was accompanied by Eugene B. Strausburger, a Pittsburg attorney and son-in-law. According to Strausburger, Block had worried considerably, fearing his son, now ill in a Kansas City hospital, would be drafted into the army.
