SIGN PASTER IS FINED BY WHITTY

To Stop Activities of I. W. W.'s Who Are Littering City With Stickers.

Butte, during the past few days, has been littered with signs pasted upon windows, doors and posts which read as follows:

"Be a man. Don't be a scab."
This morning in police court Mrs. Willis complained against John Lobritz. She claimed he pasted signs upon her house.

Lobritz was fined $10 and a precedent was established which will most likely stop the work, presumably done by the I. W. W. union in Butte.

In a fit of rage from an unknown cause H. Johnson threw a pitcher through his bedroom window yesterday afternoon. The owner of the lodging house complained and Johnson was fined $10.

James Young was drunk last night and kicked over an ice cream freezer on Main street. He was fined $5.

Albert Faulkner got a decision over Max Rex in a fight on Utah avenue last night. The decision for $10 was against Faulkner this morning in court.

Two automobile drivers were fined. Albert Stevenson paid $10 for blocking traffic and Eli Babich was fined $10 for reckless driving.

RECALLS HISTORIC WORDS TO DRAFTED

"I Am Ready" Declared Father of Country When Called to Service.

Washington, July 26.—Representative Julius Kahn of California, the ranking republican member of the house committee on military affairs who led the administration forces to victory when the army draft bill was under attack in the lower chamber, has issued a ringing statement incident to the drawing of numbers for the national army. Mr. Kahn was born in Germany. He came to this country when a child and love of his adopted land has grown with the years.

Mr. Kahn attended the drawing in the government's great lottery in the senate office building. He was blindfolded and drew the fifth number, which was 19,218. The importance of the event and the dramatic and patriotic incidents so impressed Mr. Kahn that he issued this statement:

For the fourth time in our history we are ready to fight for the right of American citizens to sail the seas untrammelled. Our first difficulty after the revolution was with France. In 1798 we broke off diplomatic relations with that government. We ordered the immediate construction of a fleet of many vessels. Washington was appointed, by an act of congress, commander of the American forces. France had interfered with our ships and our shipping. We were determined to fight rather than submit. France yielded our rights and the incident closed.

In 1812 we fought England for the rights of American citizens on the seas. Every schoolboy is familiar with the history of that war. In 1815 we threw down the gauge of battle for the third time and fought the Barbary corsairs, who interfered with American ships in the Mediterranean. We brought them to terms and compelled them to recognize American rights on the seas without the payment of any tribute.

Now we are at war with Germany to again protect the rights of Americans on the seas. Now the national army of the United States is being formed through the medium of our draft. Hundreds of thousands of our citizens between the ages of 21 and 31 years will give their lives, if need be, to the service of the country.

To those who are drawn to bear the burden of the republic on the field of battle, I would like to recall an incident in our national life. In 1798, when we broke off relations with France, the congress appointed George Washington as commander of the American forces. He was in retirement at Mount Vernon. The secretary of war himself brought the commission to General Washington and announced to him the action of congress.

Washington was in the field at the time harvesting his crops. When the matter was stated to him by the secretary of war, he said:

"I am ready for any service that I can give to my country."
In that spirit I am sure the young men of this day will accept their obligation to the republic. In that spirit they will again show the world that American rights must be observed by all the world. In that spirit they will make it possible for future generations to still continue to enjoy the blessings of liberty which this country vouchsafed to its humblest citizens. In that spirit they will again carry the American colors to victory, and may God defend the right.

MEYERS FUNERAL.

The funeral of Fred John Meyers was held this afternoon from Sherman & Reed's funeral chapel. Funeral services were held under the auspices of the Fraternal Order of Eagles No. 11, of which Mr. Meyers was a member. Rev. Mr. Green officiated. Interment was made in the Mountain View cemetery.

GOOD ROADS TEST BUTTE TO SPOKANE

Councilman Hardcastle Will Carry Message to Mayor of Spokane.

One of the most elaborate good road tests ever attempted in the northwest will be made between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday between Butte and Spokane. Ernest W. Hardcastle, an official of the Hennessy company and chairman of the judiciary and finance committee of the Butte city council, will carry a message from the mayor of Butte, W. H. Maloney, to the mayor of Spokane. The trip will be made overland in a Packard Twin-Six and record time will be attempted on the run to Spokane and on the return. The entire run is more than 700 miles, including the return trip, and an average of 40 miles an hour will be attempted on the run.

A dinner will take place at the Thornton hotel at 11 o'clock and the start for Spokane will be made promptly at midnight. Three relays will be made on the trip, and the longest stop will be at Missoula, where the car will stop over for 5 minutes to take gas and oil. There is much local interest in the run, which is being made for the purpose of advertising the good roads of the northwest. All records for traveling through the northwest are expected to be broken on the spin.

CAT ACTS AS A GAS SNIFFER IN TRENCH

New York, July 26.—According to a soldier recently returned from the front this is a true story. It is the story of how one trench section learned to meet a gas attack. The moment that a gas bomb explodes they take to their dugout. The first move, of course, is to put on gas masks. The medicine dog which travels with the ambulance has his own little mask and knows enough not to remove it. There is no mask for the cat that keeps the men company. Perhaps she doesn't need any.

Down in the dugout, 20 feet below the surface, the men sit by candlelight and wait until they think that the gassing has stopped. It is at this time that the "official sniffer" gets busy. He is one of the men who is chosen, or who volunteers, to go above and take a sniff at the air to find out whether or not it is safe for the rest to come up.

After a while he will come up again to go through the same performance. When he notifies his companions that the air is clear, they all emerge. Sometimes when the air has been very thick with gases and there might be danger for a man to take off his mask, the cat is flung out of the dugout to act as a "sniffer." She can sniff better than a man, and if there is the slightest sign of gas she will come scrambling back as fast as she can.

PRESIDENT ACCEPTS BRENT'S RESIGNATION

Washington, July 26.—President Wilson today accepted the resignation of Theodore Brent of New Orleans, vice chairman of the shipping board. Mr. Brent sided with former Chairman Denman in the disagreement with Major General Goethals.

SOMETHING IN NAME BOMB IS EXPLODED

Chicago, July 26.—A bomb explosion in the Berlin room drove scores of guests from the Bismarck hotel early today. The damage is estimated at $1,000. The explosion is blamed on labor troubles.

AMUSEMENTS

FROHMAN PLAY AT RIALTO.

"The Witching Hour," the feature at the Rialto today and until Saturday, is the picture taken from the sensational stage success in New York. It is screened as a six-part photoplay and the superiority of the screen over the stage is amply evidenced by building and sustaining the dramatic interest by means of flashbacks, real scenery, elaborate and costly staging, double exposure and an all-star cast of players.

"The Witching Hour" is the sort of a picture that catches your interest at the start and carries it right up to the end of the last reel.

The comedy feature will be "Wild Beasts at Large," one of the best that have been shown at the Rialto.

Sunday, the super play, "On Trial," will be the attraction.

WARREN LAD BURIED.

Richard Clyde Warren, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warren of 823 Placer street, died yesterday at the family residence. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Richards funeral chapel. The little lad was popular with his circle of friends and scores of them attended the last rites. Interment was made in the Mountain View cemetery.

CAPTURE TOWNS.

Berlin, July 26.—German troops have captured the Galician towns of Buczacz, Tlumacz, Otymia and Delatyn, the war office announced today. The Russians also are said to be retreating in the direction of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina.

HAD NOTHING ON HIM.

The husband of the militant suff had just received a telephone call. "Your wife has been arrested in Washington for picketing the white house," and has been sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse," said the voice at the other end of the wire. "Have you anything to say?" "Yes," replied the husband. "I only regret that I have but one wife to lose for my country."
