Postmaster Ed Burke Will Appoint a Temporary Carrier.

Anaconda, Aug. 4.—Preparations for the establishment of the Rural Free Delivery Route No. 1 are going forward in good shape. The mail boxes have arrived and today were being distributed to the patrons. They are galvanized iron and each one bears the name of the subscriber. The route is 32.75 miles in length, and mail will be carried over it on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week.

A count of the pieces of mail distributed on the route will be kept by the Anaconda office and it is thought that within a few months it will be made a daily route. Three applicants for the job of carrying the route were examined on July 28. Pending the returns from the papers which were forwarded to Washington, a temporary carrier will be appointed by Postmaster Ed Burke.

They arrived on the 6 o'clock train, which was met by a delegation of 2,000. A procession was formed and the men marched orderly to the hall. There was no disorder. Campbell in his talk was conservative. He advised all to remain strictly within the law and "if things come to the worst, take a few days off and go fishing." Dan Shovels and others from Butte also made talks. The reception was enthusiastic. After the public meeting there was a closed meeting of the smelters' union.

LEAVE FOR GREAT FALLS TO INTERVIEW SUSPECT

Officers Believe John Doe Parker Was One of Three Mile Bandits.

Anaconda, Aug. 4.—Sheriff Hartsell and Harry Loomis will go over to Great Falls this evening to take a look at John Doe Parker, as there is reason to believe that he may be one of the other three bandits who were with H. A. Taylor in the Three Mile House robbery and the killing of Kuzma Podovich. The man is under arrest at Great Falls for robbery and his description fits closely with that given of Parker.
 Taylor stated yesterday that he believed that the Carl Chamberlain who was shot by a jailer at Malta, Mont., is the man who was with him in the hold up and assisted Taylor after he was wounded. This is the man who escaped from the Butte police at the time Taylor was arrested in the lodging house.

BERRY IS AT HOSPITAL WITH FRACTURED KNEE

Anaconda, Aug. 4.—Merle Berry, taken to St. Ann's hospital yesterday suffering from a fractured knee cap, is the third ball player of this city now at the hospital. He sustained the injury in the game the evening before. He officiates at second base and is captain of the Brickyard team. Captain Lodell of the Anodes is laid up with a broken ankle bone and Harry Gordon of the Knights of Columbus is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

RECORD EXPRESS PACKAGE FORWARDED TO THE EAST

Anaconda, Aug. 4.—The largest express shipment sent from Anaconda was forwarded yesterday by the Anaconda Copper Mining company to a large drill company at Phillipsburg, N. J. The shipment weighed 2 1/2 tons and the charges were $418.10. The piece of machinery was needed badly by the New Jersey company and express was used instead of freight to avoid delay.

K. OF C. WIN.

Anaconda, Aug. 4.—In a close battle, one that kept spectators continuously interested, the Knights of Columbus won from the Goodfriends on the common last evening by the score of 4 to 2.

FEW WILL BE HELD OVER FOR THE SECOND CAMP

Those Remaining at Reserve Camp Tonight Have Been Recommended.
 San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Barring unforeseen contingencies, every man remaining tonight in the reserve officers training camp here may consider that he has been recommended for a commission. It was learned here today. Those who failed of recommendation during the last few days, bolstered by the war department's suggestion, with prospects of noncommissioned officers' posts, and of qualifying for a commission at a later date. A few will be held over for the second training camp.
 No official list of commissions and those who get them will be given out, at any time, in the opinion of army authorities here. Each successful man will be advised by telegraph by the war department. It was also announced that a list of the men now in camp would not be available for military reasons.
 Failure to be recommended for a commission carried, in a large number of instances, no reflection on the candidate's physical or mental ability, it was pointed out. Many young men were passed over because others more mature and seasoned were available. The process was that of selecting the best of a consistently high class of men, and experience in the handling of men was deemed an important factor. Many young men lacked this altogether.

STRIKING LOGGERS HELP TO HARVEST FRUIT AND GRAIN

Seattle, Aug. 4.—Immigration Commissioner Henry W. White reports that great numbers of striking loggers and mill workers of western Washington have gone to eastern Washington to harvest fruit and grain. The shortage of harvesters has been entirely relieved since the lumber strike began, Mr. White reports.
 There has been no change in the lumber strike since the mill owners agreed to arbitrate the question of houses and insisting on the 10-hour schedule.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS AT SEATTLE WILL STRIKE

Seattle, Aug. 4.—Outside electrical workers' local union No. 77 of Seattle has endorsed a decision to strike made at a mass meeting of members, and has voted to call out the construction and maintenance men employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company in its jurisdiction at midnight Aug. 10 if demands made through the offices of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers are not granted. The principal demand is for an increase of 20 per cent in the wages of linemen.

PROSPECT EXCELLENT FOR ENDING SHIPYARD STRIKE

Seattle, Aug. 4.—A conference looking to the settlement of the Aberdeen shipyard strike will be held in that city tonight, and it was announced at the office of Federal Conciliator Henry M. White today that the prospect for ending the strike was excellent. Conciliator E. C. Snyder will represent the federal government in the conference.
 The Aberdeen strike results from the refusal of union shipwrights to handle lumber turned out by mills that have declined to grant the demands of workers on strike for the eight-hour day and for that reason presents greater difficulties than did the Olympia situation.

NEW STAR DISCOVERED BY CALIFORNIA MAN

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 2.—The discovery of another star, said to be the only new one found in five years, was announced to the Harvard College Observatory recently by Prof. W. S. Adams of Mount Wilson Observatory, California. Credit for the discovery was given to Prof. George W. Ritchey of Mount Wilson. The star was estimated to be of the fourteenth magnitude. It was found in the outer portion of the spiral nebula of the star classed as "dryer number 6048; 105 seconds south and 37 seconds west of the nucleus.

A TRIPLE PLAY.

The Spanish military attaché, Col. Don Nicholas Urcula y Cereijo, said at a dinner in Washington: "Yes, Spanish titles are very elaborate. I heard recently of an American girl who wrote home from San Sebastian to her millionaire father: "Well, I'm engaged to three dukes, five marquises, seven counts, four barons and a don."
 "What on earth do you mean?" her father cried.
 "Don't get excited," she cried back. "It's all one man. He's a Spaniard."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

POINTS OF OFFENSE.

A pacifist said at a banquet in New York: "After all, gents, let us remember that Prussia has got her good points."
 "Yes," said a heckler, "the same as a porcupine has got his."

"What I want," said Farmer Corn-tassel, "is a man in whose honesty, discretion and skill I can place implicit reliance."
 "You want a confidential secretary?"
 "No, I don't. I want a man I can trust to plant potatoes."—Washington Star.

SEEN ON WAY TO PETROGRAD

Interesting Story of a Member of Senator Root's Party.
 The Post's Washington Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—James F. O'Rourke, of Columbus, O., confidential secretary and stenographer to Elihu Root, the head of the American mission to Russia, has sent an interesting letter descriptive of the party's experiences in Russia to Arthur F. Black, secretary to Senator Pomerene. The letter was dated at Petrograd June 18 and is the only letter received here from Mr. O'Rourke since his departure. He writes as follows:

"At last I have succeeded in squaring things away so that I can write you a little account of my travels since leaving Washington. We have been kept continually on the go since our departure that it has been almost impossible to gather my thoughts together and put them on paper. From the time we left Washington until we arrived in Petrograd, a period of 29 days, we did not sleep on terra firma one single night until we reached Petrograd, and the bed in the hotel that night seemed to be so strangely still and quiet in contrast with the rattle of the train that I hardly able to sleep then, even though I was dead tired. So you will see it has been pretty much a case of go, go, go.
 "Upon reaching Seattle we were taken to the wharf and boarded a revenue cutter which took us up the river some 18 or 20 miles to where our boat was anchored. About 4 a. m. we hauled our anchor and set sail for Russia. The course we took is rather an out-of-the-way one—skirting the Alaska coast, through the Aleutian islands, the Bering sea, the Sea of Okhotsk and part of the Sea of Japan. The weather was a little disagreeable, being cold and drizzly. The ocean voyage, some 4,200 miles, was rather uneventful. The first few days were rather unpleasant, due to an attack of sea-sickness, but after the first spell wore off I rather enjoyed the voyage. We sighted numerous whales in the Bering sea and went through several ice floes as we neared the Siberian coast. The ice fields were beautiful at night, the ice being covered with phosphorescence which sparkled like stars in the sky. One or two of the nights the sea was very rough and it was all one could do to stay in the berth while the ship rolled from side to side.
 "After 13 days on the water we arrived at Vladivostok Sunday morning, June 4. The harbor is a very beautiful one and we were all glad to see land again and anticipating the joy of setting our feet on solid ground. About 2:30 p. m. we boarded the launches for shore and an hour or so after landing we were started on our way to Petrograd. A distance of some 5,400 miles.
 "The trip through Siberia was a very interesting one, but devoid of anything essential. On Monday we reached Harbin, in Manchuria, where we were transferred from our train to the Royal Imperial train which had been used by the former czar. It contains some of the finest coaches I have ever seen and the dining room and drawing room car is the one in which the czar abdicated at the time of the revolution.
 "We had the best of everything to eat and the time passed quickly. The scenery along the route was beautiful, not unlike that through which we passed on our journey from Chicago to Seattle. At the small stations we were met by the local authorities and a conglomeration of citizens of every possible race and hue—Chinese, Mongolians, Tartars, Russians, Japanese, etc., dressed in all sorts of costumes. They are good-natured people and all seemed glad to see the 'Americankis,' as we are called.
 "After ten days on the train we arrived in Petrograd June 14, and were met at the station by the council of ministers of the present provisional government. It will be almost impossible for me to describe Petrograd to you. It seems to be different from any other city I have been in and entirely different from the parts of Siberia through which we passed. The population of the city, which is estimated at 3,000,000, consists of people of every European and Asiatic race, speaking numerous languages and dressed in every costume imaginable. It strikes one as being more of a cosmopolitan European city than a typical Russian city except, perhaps, for the odd design of the buildings and the great number and wonderful architecture of the Russian churches.

 "One of the peculiarities of this part of Russia during the summer months is that it is practically daylight continuously. The sun does not begin to set until about 10 o'clock in the evening and rises again at 1 a. m., and it is never darker than it is about dusk time in Washington. Great crowds are passing along the main streets until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, and one can stand on a street corner and read a newspaper (provided you can read this crazy language) practically any hour of the night. Political meetings are held at all hours along the main thoroughfares, and it is almost impossible to walk along the sidewalks because of these numerous congregations.
 "There are many evidences of the recent revolution and the air seems charged with uncertainty all the time. It is remarkable, in view of the fact that there is no recognized authority, order. There are thousands of soldiers and sailors everywhere who have returned from the front on their own account and who refuse to go back. They feel that the freedom brought about by the revolution means that every one can do as he pleases and there is no discipline in either the army or the navy left. The soldiers refuse to salute their officers or obey orders and until some strong force or authority is invoked which can be executed they refuse to return and take up the fighting.
 "While it is a very interesting city, the great difficulty is in getting articles of food and clothing. There is no white bread, sugar or butter to be had. Meals which would cost not more than 50 or 75 cents in the states cost as high as 20 or 30 rubles, or about $6 to $10 in gold. Suits of clothing worth about $18 or $20 in the states run anywhere from $75 to $125. Every other necessity has increased in price proportionately. Shoes are worth $12 to $20 which could be purchased for $3 or $4 in America. Collars cost 80 cents apiece and it is almost impossible to get any laundry work done at all. (It's lucky for me the government is paying all expenses.)
 "Our offices here are located in the Winter palace of the former czar. It is an immense building and contains some of the most wonderful suites and furnishings I have ever seen. It would take a week to visit the whole building properly. There are a number of throne rooms which beggar description."
 YOU KNOW HIM.
 He surely is a useless mutt,
 He is a lazy slob;
 He's seeking a position, but
 He doesn't want a job.
