

MIGHT HAVE TO PUT 5,000,000 MEN IN FIELD

Senator McCumber Believes U. S. May Also Expend $40,000,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Speaking in the senate today on the war tax bill, Senator McCumber declared that the whole tax scheme contemplated a period that will cover four years and that unless the war should end suddenly the United States would have to expend $40,000,000,000 in that time. He said that America might have to put five million men in the field and he believed their support and sacrifice should be enough for this generation, adding that the "war debt should be borne by our emancipated children."

Asserting that $1,000,000,000 would have been enough to raise by taxation at this time, the senator said the balance should be paid out of the sale of bonds.

Senator McCumber declared that business must not be unduly hampered or crippled, pointing out that business profits must not only furnish all taxes but the money to absorb the bonds.

TURNQUIST INQUEST ON THIS AFTERNOON

Salmonsens, Slayer of Swede, Hears Testimony—Has Two Lawyers.

With two attorneys at his side, Isaac Salmonsens, said to be the confessed slayer of Eric Turnquist, listened to the testimony given this afternoon at the coroner's inquest. Turnquist was killed during an argument with Salmonsens in a hotel at 14 South Wyoming street last Wednesday night.

James Cassidy, an undertaker, Dr. McCarthy and Maillet, Patrolman Sam Hultunen and other police officials were on the stand in turn when the inquest opened shortly after 3 o'clock. Hultunen told of the arrest of Salmonsens following the stabbing of Turnquist.

Aran Salmonsens, 19-year-old son of the alleged slayer of Turnquist, will be put on the stand this afternoon. Attorneys for Salmonsens are questioning witnesses in a manner that tends to show that Salmonsens will plead self-defense.

ROOSTER BEATS AUTO.

Columbus, O.—"How the Rooster Held the Road" is the subject of a tale going the rounds. And, moreover, the story is based on absolute truth. W. V. Townsend and Harry Willie, Columbus firemen, were "flivvering" their way from Lancaster to this city when they saw a chicken bob up ahead of them. "Why does a chicken cross the road?" they chorused. But this one didn't. He stood his ground, with the result that the machine turned over and was smashed, while the firemen were bruised. The rooster was uninjured.

IN DREAMS IT HAPPENS

HERE'S A NICKEL DOUGLAS, NOW, RUN UP AND BUY SOME CANDY

REAL 'PERSUASION'

"Did I understand you to say that this lad voluntarily confessed to playing truant?" asked a school attendance officer, addressing the mother of a small and dirty boy.

"Yes, sir, he did," the woman responded. "I just had to persuade him a little, and then he told me the whole thing voluntarily."

"How did you persuade him?"

"Well, first I gave him a good hiding," said the parent, "and then I put him to bed without any supper, and took his clothes away, and told him he'd stay in bed till he confessed what he'd done, and that I should punish him again in the morning. And in less than half an hour he told me the whole story of his own accord."—Tit-Bits.

Other things may be scarce. But there are always enough sour grapes to go around.

SALT LAKE MEN WILL WELCOME BUTTE BOYS

Utah Association of Credit Men Writes to Charles Austin on Matter.

Charles Austin, secretary of the Butte Chamber of Commerce, is in receipt of a letter from the Utah Association of Credit Men, with headquarters in Salt Lake, asking that the names of Butte boys who have enlisted be forwarded them. The Salt Lake men write that they would be glad to extend every courtesy to Butte boys who are recommended to them.

Many Butte young men are now in Salt Lake, at Fort Douglas. All naval recruits are sent to Salt Lake for final examinations. From now on Butte boys who carry letters of introduction from the Butte Chamber of Commerce may go to the offices of the Utah Association of Credit Men and receive the hospitality of that organization.

"We will see that Butte boys are well taken care of, that they get acquainted and that they are made to feel at home," says the letter received in Butte today.

GUTS RIVAL'S BEARD IN QUARREL OVER WAR

Photos of the Men Draw More Cheers Than Wilson's Picture.

Rome, Aug. 13.—The fashionable crowd at the cafe on the Corso Umberto were gazing up at the huge screen on the building opposite, where pictures of the celebrities of the day—Cordona, Sonnino, Joffre, Wilson, Lloyd George—were being thrown on the screen. It is the chief diversion these hot afternoons. Joffre was popular and Wilson had his admirers. Then came the picture of a man with a great beard. This caused tremendous laughter. But the very climax of demonstrative approval came when the picture of a thin-faced man with a workman's cap on his head was thrown on the screen. There was a huge ovation for this strange face.

"And who is the man with the beard?" asked the American visitor.

"Why, that is Maffie. Is it possible you don't know Maffie?"

"And who is the man in the workman's cap?"

"That is the carpenter, Tordelli. You don't mean to say you haven't heard of Tordelli? They are the great Italian characters of the day."

Maffie is a member of the Italian chamber of deputies who made a speech in favor of peace, saying it was really not to Italy's interest to carry on the war. Tordelli was for war, and felt that the peace speech must be rebuked. He accordingly waylaid Maffie on the tramway as he came from the chamber. Maffie had an enormous beard which was his pride and best-known characteristic. As Maffie stepped on the car, Tordelli deftly operated a pair of scissors before the surprised deputy knew what was happening. Then with a shock of beard in his hand Tordelli disappeared while Maffie was left beardless.

Tordelli was arrested and his trial soon began. All Rome became interested; the question of peace and war divided sentiment into two camps. When the trial came all Italy awaited the fate of the carpenter. He produced the beard at the trial, and it was duly entered by the court as an exhibit. Thereupon Maffie applied for the return of the beard, but the court held it had been separated from him and was now in possession of the state. Tordelli suddenly became a popular hero, as defender of the war, while Maffie had champions for his cause and his beard. Their pictures are the features of all screens.

WOULD COMPEL PAPERS TO PUBLISH A TRANSLATION

King Introduces Bill Governing International and Political Affairs.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Publication of war news and comment on international or political questions affecting the war in German or other foreign language newspapers, unless accompanied by a parallel column with a true and correct translation in English would be forbidden by a bill introduced today by Senator King.

Deportations or internment for citizens naturalized within the last 20 years found guilty of uttering or publishing statements disloyal to the United States or tending to incite sedition or insurrection is proposed in another bill introduced by Senator King. The attorney general would be instructed to bring suits against such persons to cancel naturalization papers.

U. S. NOT SO BAD.

New York.—When a driver in America blows out a tire he is likely to feel sore, but not so provided he comes to think of the people of Sweden. In that country a tire blowout is a real calamity, as a new tire costs $500. In France it is not possible to buy a new automobile, and when an old one breaks down the owner finds that the government has taken over the motor car factory, all spare parts and the service station. With these things in mind, Americans should be well satisfied with motoring life in general.

FAVORABLE REPORT.

U. S. SHIELD.

One finds on all sides the shield of the United States painted, painted with stars in the chief or upper part of the shield, which is the emblem of the United States. Congress, on June 29, 1792, gave armorial authority and reserved a great seal for the United States.

Arms—Palewise (truncating) down the shield thirteen stars (white) and gules (red) chief, one-third of shield azure (blue) with a field above the eagle (see, for example, the reverse of an old 50-cent piece). A shield designed to commemorate the centennial of the United States in the year 1876, which is all wrong, especially as medals are being sold.
