EVENTS MOVE FAST FOR A. E. EDDY

Drafted, Enters Reserve Corps and Wins Charming Bride Within a Week.

Drafted on the first call and pronounced physically perfect by the city examining board, successful applicant for the second reserve officers' training camp at the Presidio in San Francisco and married to one of Butte's most popular young ladies are the principal developments of the past seven days in the life of Arthur E. Eddy, a prominent young mining engineer in the employ of the Anaconda company.

It was learned last night that Mr. Eddy and Miss Alfs Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore N. Smith of 110 North Washington street, were quietly married by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins Wednesday evening with only the attendants, Miss Anita MacPherson and A. A. Watts, present.

Last Thursday, week ago, Mr. Eddy was mightily busy. After trying for several months to get into the officers' training camp to do his bit, his efforts were rewarded by being marked as a drafted man. That day the local physical board had examined Eddy and pronounced him one of the best specimens that had come under its observation. Eddy waived exemption claims and began to wind up his business affairs for the first call.

The silver lining, however, came through on schedule and the next morning Mr. Eddy saw the announcement of the successful applicants for the training camp.

Then came the romance. Anyway, the romance was culminated. Miss MacPherson received a telephone call asking her if she would go for a ride and begging her to wear something white. She was puzzled, but determined to see the mystery through. Her mystification was somewhat enhanced when a high white car drove up to her house containing Miss Smith and Mr. Eddy. At the University club Mr. Watt joined the party. Miss MacPherson received a general reply as to the destination and the well laid plot only dawned on her when, at the place where they stopped, somebody dropped the remark that "the wedding would be held upstairs." The rest of the story was according to the rules.

Mrs. Eddy is one of the most beautiful young ladies of the city. She is a graduate of the Butte high school and was very prominent in literary and oratorical lines. She won the Mountaineer short story contest in 1915. Mr. Eddy is a member of the University club and prominent with the younger set of the city as well as in his profession. He will leave tomorrow evening for San Francisco to make preparations for entering the training camp.

Don't lose sleep because of an itching skin

Resinol will make it well

How can you expect to sleep tonight unless you do something to relieve the trouble? Eczema and other itching skin troubles don't often heal themselves. But it is surprising how quickly Resinol does heal them.

Almost daily we hear from a skin-sufferer who says "Resinol Ointment stopped my itching at once and I got the first good night's sleep I had had in weeks. Now my skin is well."

Resinol Ointment is sold by all druggists.

BETTER LOSE WAR THAN CHILDREN

So Says Federal Chief of Plan to Suspend the Child Labor Laws.

Washington, D. C.—"It would be better to lose the war than sacrifice the children to it!"

"The very last resource we should consider yielding in our struggle for democracy is the nation's most important asset—its children."

In these two sentences Julia Lathrop, head of the children's bureau of the United States department of labor, answered the question, "Should the United States suspend during the war the child labor and compulsory school attendance laws in the states so children can 'do their bit' in the nation's factories and farms?"

"If this war can end war and make democracy safe it will be worth great sacrifices," said Miss Lathrop, speaking slowly and emphatically. "But," she continued, "it will not be worth sacrificing the children."

"The ultimate treasure and resource of any people is its young life—the only surety of the continuance of the race. Is not our fundamental necessity therefore to safeguard that reservoir? What good will democracy be if there is no race left worth while to exercise it?"

"Thirty million children are in our care under 16 years of age; about 29,000,000 of them in our schools. Slowly we have arrived at certain measures of protection for them—by state compulsory education laws, child labor laws, mothers' pension laws and now at last by a national child labor law.

"Should we abandon these standards in the interest of increased production for war needs? It is important we face squarely the risk before us and determine whether the schooling and work of children is a necessity or a luxury.

"At the beginning of the war, England and France relaxed the regulations governing school attendance and protection of child workers. They found it did not pay. Munitions output, stimulated at first, began to fall off. The British munition workers committee urged the restoration of former restrictions.

"This year, notwithstanding the increasing exhaustion of the war, England and France have taken determined measures to restore or improve their old standards.

"The British board of education has demanded a budget for 1917-1918 of nearly 4,000,000 pounds more than last year's.

"This heroic struggle to protect the children in countries so desperately involved in war as France and England is in strange contrast to the suggestion that the federal child labor law be suspended or repealed.

"It is more important than ever to protect the children."

32 MAJOR GENERALS ARE ASSIGNED TO COMMANDS

Some of the 27,000 Recently Graduated to Study in Europe.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Thirty-two major generals assigned to command divisions of the new army and national guard today received instructions to report for duty not later than Aug. 25. All the regular departmental commanders are now called upon for duty in the field, probably in France.

Included in the orders is a statement that the order of mobilization of divisions in which they will be sent to the front. A warning is added that shifts and changes in the officer personnel of the divisions are to be expected.

Under new army regulations each regiment will consist of three battalions of four companies of 250 men each, which, supplemented by supply and machine gun organizations, will bring each infantry unit up to a strength of approximately 3,600.

From the 27,000 officers recently graduated from training camps, a considerable number will be detailed for a course of intensive training in trench warfare with the expeditionary force already in France. In addition, some officers probably will be sent to French and British officers' schools to study the methods of the allies.

You Can Shake Loose from The Tortures of Rheumatism

By using S. S. S.

The germs of Rheumatism are in the blood, which is laden with millions of the minute demons of pain, causing untold suffering and bringing its victim from vigor and strength to almost helplessness. To get real and genuine relief from this disease, these disease germs must be completely routed out of the system through the blood.

S. S. S. has been used for fifty years with satisfactory results in the treatment of Rheumatism. It acts directly upon the blood, which it promptly purifies of all disease germs. It is a powerful antidote, and eliminates from the blood all trace of rheumatic germs, building up and strengthening the run-down system.

Write today to our medical director, who will give you valuable advice regarding the proper treatment of your own case. Address: Swift Specific Co., Dept. S-146, Atlanta, Ga.

WHAT?

What makes a man enlist for war?
 What makes him love to fight?
 What makes him take all chances,
 Both in the wrong and right?

That "brotherhood" spirit in most men
 Is the soul of ever life;
 It gives the pride to every man
 In danger, life or strife.

To take from life that brotherhood
 Would leave an empty soul,

DOG GUARDS PUPS WHILE HOUSE BURNS

Minneapolis, Minn.—With a mother's devotion Fidella, a St. Bernard dog, blinded by smoke and flying embers, crouched in protection over her two recently born pups in the basement of a house destroyed by fire.

Firemen and Mrs. Maude Adams, owner of the house and of Fidella, called in vain for the giant St. Bernard to escape. Paul W. Dwyer, a fireman, finally crawled into the furnace-like basement and rescued the pups. Fidella, seeing that her offspring were in safety, attached herself as protection to Dwyer in the fight against the fire.

Mrs. Adams, her young son, and the St. Bernard are being cared for by friends.
