LIBRARY DRIVE TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Prominent Men Are Called by Trustees for Conference Tonight.

Butte's drive for $5,000 in the million dollar camp library drive will begin tomorrow morning. The time for the beginning of the drive throughout the country has been set by the library council for today, but at a meeting Saturday night the library trustees decided to hold another meeting tonight at which the organization for the drive will be perfected.

At tonight's meeting the library trustees will confer with a number of public-spirited citizens regarding the drive. An invitation is also extended to any who care to take part in the work to attend tonight's library board meeting which will be held in the library building.

Judson F. Jennings, Seattle city librarian, has been named division director of the drive in Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Wyoming. Miss Gertrude Nichols, Butte city librarian, received word from Mr. Jennings today that he expected Montana to raise $22,000, which has been the quota allotted to the Treasure state. Of this sum, Butte is to subscribe $5,000.

Director Jennings writes that at American Lake, where the Montana camps are quartered, as well as the 31 other cantonments throughout the country, library buildings will be erected at a cost of $10,000 each. These buildings will house approximately 20,000 books, magazines and newspapers, and will offer reading room facilities. Besides the central building, each cantonment will have deposit stations or traveling libraries. The $1,000,000 is wanted for the erection and equipment of these buildings and for the first purchase of books. Later a campaign will be made for books and magazines. But the present call is for money.

Cantonments and training camps are in many cases isolated and, except for the social service work of such organizations as the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus, little has been done for the soldiers. The new libraries are to be equipped with tables, chairs and bookcases, and made as comfortable and attractive as possible. The government's first attempt to the soldiers was to clean up conditions threatening physical and moral health in the camps; the American Library association proposes to supplement this by supplying something of entertainment and benefit for the men's leisure. The association is working under the direction of the government through the national library council.

Every dollar given means one more man provided with a book or magazine to fill in enforced leisure. Books may be given later; now it is money that is needed.

The design for the library buildings which are to go up in the 32 cantonments and government training camps following the million-dollar campaign for funds which the American Library association is conducting, Sept. 24 to 25, is the work of Edward L. Tilton, a New York architect.

The structures will be frame, 40x120 feet, one story high, and besides providing room for books, magazines and newspapers, will contain reading rooms and living quarters for trained librarians whom it is hoped can be placed in charge. The library headquarters will attempt to provide that kind of service which any first-class city library offers its patrons. Ten thousand dollars is the estimated cost of each library building.

Officers' clubs, company barracks and welfare agencies throughout the camp will be used for other distributing agencies for the books. For the original outlay of books $350,000 is wanted. Later books and magazines will be solicited.

MUST QUIT AIR SERVICE AND ENTER DRAFT ARMY

New York, Sept. 24.—Under a decision by the New York City district board of appeals Herbert Dick Smith, a member of the famous Lafayette escadrille, must give up his duties as an air-fighter with the French army and return to this country and enter the national army. Smith registered by mail, and his certification for service at a conscript was appealed by his brother, Francis N. Smith.

Charles E. Hughes, chairman of the board, ruled that there was no provision in the selective service law under which the winner could be exempted from service in the national army, and the board certified Smith for service at Yaphank.

ARMY OFFICER TO CAST FIRST VOTE AT AGE OF 55

Pittsburg, Pa.—Col. Thomas W. Griffith, in charge of army recruiting in the Pittsburg district, who admits he is "past 55," will cast his first vote at the coming election. He paid his taxes and will register.

Colonel Griffith was born in West Newton, Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, but when about 20 years of age he entered the United States military academy at West Point. After graduating from that institution he went west to a military station and continued in active army service until he retired about two years ago.

For that reason he never established a voting residence until he came to Pittsburg a year and a half ago to take charge of army recruiting here.

"I feel like I imagine a youngster does who is about to cast his first vote," said Colonel Griffith. "Army officers, you know, while in active serv-

TO OBSERVE QUARTER THE CENTENNIAL AT MONTANA

Plans Are Now Being Laid for Big Celebration at Missoula.

Missoula, Sept. 24.—The State University of Montana will observe its 25th birthday anniversary next February. The celebration of the quarter-centennial is to be an event of importance and a faculty committee has already been designated to make plans for the anniversary observance.

The third legislative assembly of Montana in February, 1893, enacted laws providing for the establishment of a state university, state agricultural college, school of mines and normal college. As it is planned that the other higher educational institutions, in addition to the university, will celebrate the quarter-centennial, delegates and speakers who come to Missoula will also take part in the exercises of the state college at Bozeman in all probability.

The quarter-centennial at the state university will be an occasion for the introduction of Dr. E. O. Sisson, the new president, to visiting educators. It was planned that the university last month from Idaho, where he had held the office of state commissioner of education for four years.

WOULDBE SOLDIER HIT BY "WOBBLY"

Moriarity Insulted Man Who Wanted to Join Local Contingent.

Because Frank Keenan of Rochester, N. Y., wanted to enlist with the Butte contingent and begged members of the local exemption board to send him on the train that left last night for American Lake, he was insulted and assaulted by Gene Moriarity, who, according to the police, is a confessed I. W. W. Moriarity was fined $25 in police court this morning. He was arrested by Ray Lavelle, clerk of the local board.

Keenan was drafted in Rochester. He asked permission to join the Butte crowd as a volunteer. The members of the board waited until the last minute to hear from Rochester, and when no message came, Keenan was informed that he could not leave last night.

Hoping that the board might make a change in the decision, Keenan went to the train at the last minute. It was then that Moriarity called Keenan "a scab."

Al C. Collins also learned that it costs something in Butte to call another man "a scab." He paid $10 for insulting Isaac Barber. The latter took the matter in his own hands and knocked Collins down. He, too, was arrested, but when the facts were disclosed his case was dismissed.

NORMA TALMADGE AT THE RIALTO THEATER

NORMA TALMADGE
SELZNICK PICTURES

"Poppy," with the chic and vivacious Norma Talmadge in the stellar role, is the feature at the Rialto today and until Thursday. The photoplay is based upon the novel by Cynthia Stockley.

Miss Talmadge is one of the stars who are not afraid to sacrifice their appearance to the demands of the story, and in "Poppy" she begins by impersonating a hopeless little waif of 14, bullied and neglected in turn until life is unbearable, and she runs away. From this point she progresses through a variety of experiences and adventures until she reaches the culmination of her life as a successful author, courted by two men for her beauty and charm. A situation new to the drama is established by the fact that one of these men marries Poppy when she is hardly more than a child, pretending to adopt her and having the ceremony performed in French. For years the husband keeps the secret, divulging it only when the young woman falls in love with another. The working out of this complication is a clever piece of plot construction.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AT ORPHEUM THEATER

"The Common Law," featuring America's foremost picture actress, will be shown at the Orpheum theater again tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening. Miss Young is now at the head of her own company, and has the power to say what shall and what shall not be made. Miss Young is now producing the kind of pictures the public want, bigger and better, and in "The Common Law" critics acknowledge the motion picture has reached the pinnacle of perfection. It is a revelation in the new art from the pen of Robert W. Chambers, the most popular novelist of the century.

"The Common Law" is the first super picture made by Miss Young under her contract with Lewis J. Selznick. Others to follow will be shown at the Orpheum at regular intervals, among them "The Easiest Way," "The Price She Paid," "The Foolish Virgin," etc. The Orpheum management wishes to announce that in spite of increased film rental these special productions incur there will not be any advance in admission price—the usual admission of adults 10 cents and children 5 cents to prevail.

FIND GOLD COIN IN EGG AT LOCAL BAR

A small gold coin marked "California Gold, 1849," with an Indian head on the obverse, was found in an egg at the Cymus Noble bar Saturday afternoon. The patron called for an egg in his beer and after the egg had been turned into the beer he noticed the strange coin in the bottom of the glass. It is thinner than the usual $2.50 modern gold piece but about the same size.

BUTTE BOY TELLS OF MEDICAL CORPS

Finds Plenty of Hot Work in Big Camp Located at Linda Vista.

Lawrence Hayes, a Butte boy with the medical corps in Camp Kearney, Linda Vista, Cal., writes of the work that he and other young patriots are doing in preparing that camp for the reception of 100,000 army men. A new base hospital, now under construction, will give work to the medical corps within a short time.

"I am beginning to like the place," writes Hayes, "although I shall never get over my first impressions of it. Hot and dry—it is the last place on earth I would send my worst enemy to live out the rest of his days. However, the entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. relieves the monotony of endless heat, and all in all, it isn't so bad. Old timers tell me the weather is the same day after day, always clear and blustering heat, ten months a year. I would not mind it a little while, but I believe I am stationed here permanently, or until the war ends.

"Since the condemnation and abandonment of the Palo Alto site, Camp Kearney is to become the largest camp in the west, with a population of 100,000 men. That means that we have 100,000 medical men who will soon be placed in the $1,570,000 base hospital now being built here in take care of the bulk of the camp.

"I have asked for the position of surgeon's assistant. There are only six such assistants."
