

YOU PAY-LESS

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can baking powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoiled bakings than you save on price of the powder. And you think that old style high priced powders are best because they most. They are not.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

As proved in millions of bake-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the best selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender wholesome bakings. No baking powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two teaspoonfuls of most other brands.

And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it—and so do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

BUTTE CONTINGENT ARRIVES AT CAMP

Drafted Men Held in Quarters Pending Inquiry Into the Death of Porter.

Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 25.—With 437 Montana men for the draft army and a dead negro porter, a special train arrived at Camp Lewis this morning at 3:10. The men are held in quarters while an investigation into the cause of the porter's death is being made by Col. D. V. Hayes, Maj. H. Sherman and Maj. George McKeoby of the 166th depot brigade. According to Captain Welty, the men had been pretty noisy on the train and the porter seeking to quiet them was overpowered. He returned with a drawn razor, but before he had time to use it one of the Montana men floored him with a blow from his fist. In falling the porter struck a seat and fractured his skull, causing death. Containers with a capacity of 35 gallons of liquor were confiscated by the officers.

TAKING CARE OF THE ARRIVING RECRUITS

Men Are Assigned to Barracks After an Inspection by Camp Doctors.

Uncle Sam's intricate machinery for turning raw recruits into finished soldiers is now working smoothly as the members of Butte's second contribution to Camp Lewis, who reached the post depot last night, quickly found out. They were no sooner off the train than an officer, detailed for that purpose, lined them in double file and marched them a hundred yards through the street of the little vendor's village that has sprung mushroom like at the camp's entrance. This street was lined on either side by members of the first draft from Butte and by hundreds of other idle or curious soldiers who were anxious to see if any of their friends were with the new party.

First Roll Call.

In front of them, as they marched, they saw the huge warehouses of the quartermaster's department, while on their left was the great receiving shed. In front of this shed bonfires were burning and around these fires scattered scores of officers and men who form the reception committee. Some leather-lunged announcer with a megaphone had called out "Butte," and those officers whose special duty it is to look after the men of the fourth division rose from their places near the fire to take their places in the shed. This shed is a large barn-like structure, having a roof and two ends but no sides. At one end of the shed is built a platform on which a half dozen officers sit behind their wooden desks, at the other end are maps and plates as well as other means of information. The space between the ends is filled with narrow passageways separated one from the other by railings. Over the entrance of each of these aisles is a sign designating the territory embraced in each of the four divisions. The name of Montana stands over the first of these aisles, and into it the Butte boys, still carrying their satchels and still in double file, were marched. Here the roll was called by megaphone and each man checked, after which they were assigned temporarily to their regiment.

Meet Medical Men.

As the men were marched out of the receiving shed they encountered a crowd of medical men, who examined them with the greatest rapidity for signs of contagious diseases. After having passed through these two ordeals, which consumed about 15 minutes, the men were taken in charge by officer-guides, who escorted them to their new quarters. Here each man was given an olive-drab shirt, a change of underwear and a kit containing the necessary toilet articles. He was shown a cot, under which he must place his grip; he was likewise shown, in the back yard, a bale of straw from which he stuffed his three blankets. These mattresses with the three blankets make a most inviting bed, and the boys from Butte lost little time in occupying them.

Up at 6, Breakfast at 6:30.

Although most of the men were tired, sleepy and weary from their 24-hour trip and from the excitement that preceded it, they were all routed and promptly at 6 in the morning lined up in front of quarters for roll call. Those who were feeding extra food were sent to the hospital, the remainder returned to barracks, where breakfast was served at 6:30. This breakfast consisted of a cereal, fried ham, fried potatoes, fruit, bread and coffee. It was well cooked and supplied in ample quantity. Each man when he had finished took his plate, cup, knife and fork and washed them at the water-butts just outside the kitchen.

All Good Specimens.

Most of the men from Montana are unusually fine physical specimens—some of them are great, husky fellows, full of snap and pepper, who are used to working and fighting their way in the open air. They belong to the 362d infantry, a regiment which already enjoys a reputation for doing things and which promises to be one of the finest fighting units in camp.

The Blizzard Bunch.

The biggest, roughest, toughest and the most pugnacious members are allotted to the machine-gun company which is attached to this regiment.

MARSHALL HEADS LYCEUM COURSE

Vice President to Speak Here Nov. 22—Ticket Sale Starts.

Vice President Thomas R. Marshall will speak in Butte Nov. 22. He will deliver an address under the auspices of the Butte Lyceum course, in the Broadway theater, if that building is finished. If not, an effort will be made to secure the Rialto theater.

Rev. C. A. Rexroad, who is managing the local Lyceum course, announced the dates for the winter's entertainment today. He declared that the course which will greet the lyceum patrons this year is the highest ever put on. Despite this fact, there will be no advance in the price of season tickets. The campaign for the sale of tickets opened today.

There will be eight numbers on the season's program. The first will take place Oct. 3. The opening program will be by the Berkeley Sextette, a ladies' orchestra of high class, which puts on a brilliant program, according to advance notices.

The second number will be Oct. 31. It will be given by Booth Lowrey, who has been making people laugh and grow fat for years.

Dec. 8, Samaloff, the great Russian tenor, and his company will give an interesting program. This promises to be a treat for musicians as well as lovers of music.

Jan. 2, the Zedler Symphonic Sextette makes its appearance. It is exactly the equal of the old Schumann company.

Jan. 23, Russell H. Conwell of Philadelphia, recognized as one of the most famous speakers in the country, will deliver his world-famed lecture "Acres of Diamonds."

Feb. 12, the Mallory Players will appear in "Thrift," a dramatization of the problem of labor and capital. Clifton Mallory heads the cast of all-star players.

Chief Chaplain, the great South American Indian singer and orator, closes the season. He is booked for Feb. 29.

The advisory committee to the Rev. Rexroad in the Lyceum course is composed of W. E. Maddock, superintendent of schools; Bruce E. Millikin, principal of the high school; Guy V. Lewis and T. J. Davis.

In discussing the Lyceum course Superintendent Maddock said today: "I am very much interested in the Lyceum course for the ensuing year. I have heard most of the people who are to appear on the various programs and I am sure that Butte people will be more than pleased with the course this year."

He heard Chief Chaplain at Kansas City last year and considers him one of the best entertainers I have ever heard."

While Vice President Marshall will speak at the Broadway or Rialto theater, the other members will take place at the high school auditorium.

CAMP LEWIS ATHLETES TO PERFORM IN FAMOUS STADIUM AT TACOMA

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 25.—As the result of a conference between the stadium board and T. G. Cook, director of athletics at Camp Lewis, the board decided to put the stadium at the disposal of the army free of charge. The dates granted were Oct. 13, Nov. 17 and Thanksgiving day.

The first date is the day that the Whitman college team will be brought here from Walla Walla and the second will be probably the army and navy soccer in action.

On Thanksgiving day Captain Cook intends to stage a marathon race from Camp Lewis to the stadium. This will be a relay race between the different regiments, consisting of a half mile run for each man and winding up with a number of laps around the big track in the stadium. Inter-regiment games will be played at the camp and the final game to determine the championship of the camp will be played in the stadium.

MEDICAL OFFICERS ASSIGNED AT CAMP

Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 25.—Orders issued yesterday by Maj. Gen. H. A. Greene assigned 66 medical officers to the units of the 91st division at Camp Lewis, the list including surgeons, dental surgeons and assistants.

In addition to the post bakery 15 field ovens will be built at Camp Lewis.

Instructions have been issued to establish a medical aid station in Tacoma for the selected men of Camp Lewis. First Lieut. J. S. Small, M. R. C., will be in charge. He will have under him Sergeants Paul E. Davis and Ray Schorfield and Privates John P. Knotts, Harold R. Bushorn, Russell C. Bird, Allen E. Bradley, Floyd A. Lancaster, Lester D. Heinrich and Ben Johnson.

Roger W. Pryor of Company B and Robert E. Leichter of Company H, 364th Infantry, have been ordered to the aeronautic school at Berkeley, Cal., where they will fit themselves as flyers. Leichter was formerly on the staff of the San Diego Tribune.

First Sergt. Arthur J. Ormond of Company B, 364th Infantry, was given a warrant at the Presidio officers' school as a sergeant in the national army. He was drum major for several years of the crack military organization, the California Grays, San Francisco.

Camp Ordered Enlarged.

Orders from Washington designed to make some additions and alterations to the scheme of the Tacoma cantonment as well as accommodate the new organization of an army division, involving the construction of about 100 additional buildings, and release on the construction of several hundred stables have been received by Maj. David L. Stone, constructing quartermaster.

The receipt of the orders will allow the completion of the cantonment. They have been expected for some time. The construction work on the stables of the cantonment, outside of the remount station, were held up on orders from Washington more than a month ago, after 130 of them had been started and many completed by the contractors. The new work ordered and the resumption of work on the stables will give extended employment to the approximately 5,500 workmen still engaged on the cantonment work.

Include 30 Barracks.

The new buildings ordered include about 30 barracks, some of them of the smaller size; a number of additional officers' quarters, and outbuildings to go with them. The orders also direct the manner in which the present barracks will be fitted into the new scheme of army organization, and thus settle a point which has been uncertain for weeks, whether the companies of the new army are to contain 150 men as in the past or 250 men as proposed under the new scheme of organization. It is provided that three barracks shall be divided between two companies of 250 men each, the jointly occupied barracks of the three to contain 200 men, while those with mess accommodations will accommodate but 150 men each.

The new scheme of organization, increasing the size of the companies and regiments, decreases the number of infantry brigades to a division from four to three, and thus other changes in the arrangement of the cantonment, built for four brigades, are included. These will be fitted into the present quarters where needed.

The cantonment has been growing by the addition of one or two buildings here and there for the past month and the end seems not in sight. Other recent orders were for the construction of an eye, ear, nose and throat ward as a part of the base hospital; and for a barracks for the ordnance section of the quartermaster's department. Oxman testified today that he advised Rigall in a postscript to one of the letters that if the latter was not here on July 22, 1916, he could not be used as a witness. Rigall testified last week that he never received such a postscript and that he was in Niagara Falls, N. Y., on the date of the explosion.

Oxman told of conferences with Fickert regarding Rigall and of plans made by Fickert to bring Rigall to this city.

Oxman's testimony followed testimony of James Hoyle, the manager of a local hotel where Oxman is declared to have "rehearsed" Rigall in the testimony he was to give in the Mooney trial.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 25.—Warning against waste of war-time profits was given to the public today by the Hon. Basil P.
