MILK HEARING IN HELENA TOMORROW

Meeting Was Held Yesterday Between Dealers and the Health Officers.

Milk dealers, members of the city health board and representatives of railroads met yesterday afternoon to consider the hearing to be staged tomorrow in Helena before the state railroad commission concerning the application of the local health department to compel the installation of refrigerator cars carrying milk and milk products into Butte.

Dr. Matthews, member of the city health committee, and several milk dealers were present at the hearing.

"Much complaint has been made about the milk sold in Butte," said Dr. Matthews this morning. "We have traced the complaints and find that milk transported to Butte is spoiled during the warm weather while in transit. We believe that proper cars should be supplied by the railroads. Gallons of spoiled milk arrived in Butte during the month of July alone."

"At the conclusion of the hearing tomorrow we hope to secure an order compelling the railroads to install refrigerator cars at once."

The following railway men will attend from Butte: E. A. Shewe, Oregon Short Line; C. H. Mitchell, Milwaukee; W. H. Merriman, Northern Pacific; and J. P. Woods, Great Northern.

TO SELL BONDS AT AMERICAN LAKE

Plans to Start Campaign Are Being Worked Out—More Men Arriving.

Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—Acting upon instructions from Washington, D. C., plans are being worked out at Camp Lewis for a campaign to sell Liberty bonds to officers and men of the 91st division, which is expected to result in putting the names of several thousand soldiers in the honor roll.

Many men are expected to welcome an opportunity to put their money into collateral which will tide them over the reconstruction period after the war.

One hundred and sixty-eight national army men from Tacoma and Pierce county will have the honor of being the first of the third quota to report at Camp Lewis when they arrive by automobile tomorrow. The total number of men to report on Wednesday will be 564, all from Washington, excepting 42 from Oregon. On Thursday 1,874 Washington Oregon and Idaho men will report at Camp Lewis, and Friday 2,742 from Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Utah and California. The receiving system is in such smooth running order that 500 troops can be checked in, given examinations for contagious diseases and taken to barracks in an hour.

Construction of approximately 68 new buildings ordered at Camp Lewis by the war department has been delayed as a result of a difference of opinion as to where the new structures should be located. The plan as originally designed would break up the splendid vista of the parade ground. Maj. George P. D. Trask, personal representative of Col. J. W. Little, in charge of the construction of all campments, is at Camp Lewis investigating the situation and on his recommendation the final orders for the location of the new barracks will be issued.

THE LUCKY CORNETIST.

John Philip Sousa, who is organizing military bands for the army, was talking to a correspondent about the subject of a cornet virtuoso.
"A friend of mine, a cornet virtuoso," he said, "was submerged in the Mediterranean. The English paper that reported the affair worded it thus:
"The famous cornetist, Mr. Hornblower, though submerged by the Germans in the Mediterranean, was able to appear at Marseilles in the following evening in four pieces."

The growth of our business has been phenomenal and has proved beyond a doubt that our principle of selling direct from factory and warehouse to you is correct.

The floor space which we now occupy, if located in the uptown high-rent retail district, would cost upward of $50,000 per year. We save nearly all of this and hand it over to our customers in the way of lower prices.

We do not come before you each week with the empty claim that we sell at lower prices, but our statement to that effect is backed up by good and logical reasons WHY we are able to do so.

Our many patrons know all these things by experience, and to those who are newcomers to this community or those who are just now finding occasion to buy new furnishings, we can only say

'DOWN TO EARTH' NEW FAIRBANKS PICTURE AT THE RIALTO THEATER

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS In a New Picture at the Rialto Theater

To the beautiful yacht appearing in the new Douglas Fairbanks-Artercraft picture, "Down to Earth," there hangs a tale which is indexed on the producer's expense account. Several days after the yacht was used for the new picture now at the Rialto theater, Douglas received a bill for its owner for $12,000 to cover damages incurred while producing some fire scenes which were staged on board. Upon investigation it was found that one of the property men unconsciously left a burning smoke-pot in the boat overnight, destroying the entire interior decoration and burning several large holes just where they were most harmful. Even aside from this item, "Down to Earth" is the most expensive production in which Douglas Fairbanks has ever appeared, which fact will prove apparent when the picture is seen.

In addition "The Fighting Trail" is shown as an added attraction. "Down to Earth" will be shown to night and tomorrow only.

EXCUSES OFFERED BY MANY JURYMEN

Out of Total of 81 Summoned, Judge Lynch Excuses 46. Cases Go Over.

Judge J. J. Lynch this morning selected his jury for the present term of court, retaining 32 persons out of 81 on whom the sheriff made a return of service. There were 100 names drawn from the jury box a week ago and the fact that the sheriff's officers obtained service on 81 brought out the comment that the return was an unusually high percentage. All but three of the 81 answered to their names and bench warrants were ordered issued returnable forthwith for the three absentees.

When the judge had concluded reading the law as to the qualifications as to jurors and stated the grounds on which persons could claim exemption, he asked if there were any present who desired to offer excuses for exemption. Over half of those present crowded to the judge's bench offering all kinds of reasons why they could not serve. The excuses of 46 were accepted and with the three who were absent and for whom bench warrants are now in the hands of the sheriff's officers the total retained numbers 32 as follows:

Thomas Bevan, Andrew Barr, L. P. Bowman, Hans C. Roe, John H. Curtis, Gustave Dahlberg, John Foran, J. B. Gallagher, C. E. Garrison, John F. Hamilton, William Howard, Richard Jennings, Richard Knuckey, Rob Oliver, John Lamoth, Dan Leary, John Mulcahy, H. S. Miller, Arnold Moser, Ed Mondlock, George Moore, Fred McCloud, Joe Normandeau, F. J. O'Boyle, John Parko, Mike Peters, J. D. Poltras, B. M. Preston, Mark Schilling, Glenn R. Smith, Joseph Williams and Simon Willoughby.

There were two cases set for today but went over. The suit of Josie Vedovatti against the city of Butte was continued two weeks, while the suit of R. S. Rutter against the Murray hospital was vacated. Attorney H. L. Maury, who represented the plaintiff, informed the court that he believed he joined the army, but inquiry brought out the fact that he had gone "somewhere."

Attorney T. J. Walker, who represented the defendant, promptly informed the court that he understood that the "somewhere" was in the trenches in France. The setting was vacated and should the plaintiff ever return his right to prosecute the case will be preserved.

HE CALLED WIFE "KID" SHE GETS A DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Cal.—George J. Champion, summoned into Judge Valentine's court, said he was willing to support his two children and was ordered to pay $4.50 a week. Mrs. Champion had previously testified that her husband had put her out of her home when she was attired in a bath robe.

It appeared, however, that he had and that she stayed in the home morning. She also objected to his stating that she was nothing but a kid herself; that she did not know anything about kids and that he would take care of them. Judge Valentine granted decree and gave Mrs. Champion custody of the children. Subscribe for the Butte Daily
