SHERIFF PRAISES CAMP CONDITIONS

J. K. O'Rourke Returns From Visit to Butte Boys at American Lake.

Sheriff John K. O'Rourke returned last evening from Seattle, where he went after W. G. Pollock, charged with grand larceny. After taking over his prisoner and giving him into the custody of the Seattle authorities until he left for this city, the sheriff and Mrs. O'Rourke, who accompanied him on the trip, accepted an invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teuten, well known in this city, to ride to Camp Lewis, American Lake, and visit the Butte boys.

The camp, the sheriff said this morning, was through a beautiful country, and was distant from Seattle 80 miles. The sheriff says that he saw many of the Butte boys, but he regretted that among those he was unable to see were Harold Crary and a number of others who were busy drilling. All the boys are happy and looking fine, he says.

The camp is more like a good-sized city than a training quarters for the young men, said the sheriff. "It is five miles long and over half a mile wide. All the buildings are large and commodious and the streets are wide and well built. There are still some buildings to be constructed to accommodate the men yet to arrive. There was a considerable amount of money left over from the government appropriation for the construction of buildings, and this is to be used for the building of concrete sidewalks and streets. At the time I was there 16,000 men of all branches of the service were under arms. During the day the men have little time for anything but camp work and drill. In the evenings some take a ride up to Tacoma, and the great majority spend their time at the buildings of the Knights of Columbus and the Y. M. C. A., where lots of house reading is to be found. All kinds of games, together with vaudeville shows and moving pictures, there is not a chance for anyone to get bored.

In Excellent Spirits.
"I've just met my wife and I visited the camp. We found the boys in excellent spirits and every one of them smiling in spite of all the way from two to seven pounds. E. Pat Kelly was with a number of the company officers' staff, and he has 24 well developed muscles. Among the others who have gained in weight the sheriff mentioned six pounds, Ned Smith five pounds and Pat Kelly six pounds. The boys are very anxious for a real good game of football and they are confident they can whip any outfit in the camp.

Second Butte Has 'Pep.'
"One thing I learned while there was that there had been some growing among the officers for control of the second Butte contingent, as they found that the boys had more 'pep' and vigor than any other men in the camp. I had quite a conversation with Lieutenant Jones, who finally won out for the re-taking of the Butte contingent. He is a fine fellow, among men and the boys all speak in the highest terms of him. He is a real man, and very thoughtful of his command.

"The boys take particular pride in advertising the old town in every conceivable way. In their spare time they have painted outside of the barracks grounds. While in large letters on doors and windows and in addition they have made a large sign and arrow, representative of Silver Bow county, in subdivisions, and when I left they had procured a large quantity of paint with which to paint the bow and arrow. The work is everywhere done and is attracting the eye of attention.

"There is nothing very funny about the grub supplied, but it is good and wholesome. There is not complaining about the mess service but, on the contrary, are praising it."

GRADUAL DECLINE IN FOOD PRICES IS NOW EXPECTED

Food Administrator Hoover Announces That Wholesale Prices Have Been Substantially Cut in Almost Every Staple Commodity. Retail Prices Have Not Kept Pace With This Decline and Public is Urged to Bring Pressure Upon Merchants. Although There is Some Shortage of Sugar in the East the Prices Should Not Advance.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Unreasonable discrepancies between prevailing wholesale and retail prices on foodstuffs may be reduced materially if consumers bring sufficient pressure to bear, Food Administrator Hoover intimates in an announcement of the approaching end of the high price period. A gradual price decline is predicted between now and the end of the year. Inability of the food administration to act in the case of retailers doing a business of less than $100,000 a year makes it impossible to control the great bulk of retailers.

It is planned to publish wholesale prices in 700 cities to reveal extortionate practices of some dealers. The food administrator's statement follows: "The food administration considers that, subject to co-operation from farmers and retailers, the corner now has been turned in high prices and that most of the essential commodities should, one after another, continue to show reductions between now and the end of the year.

The current prices at which flour is being sold at the mill door in June vary somewhat with the locality and freight charges on wheat, Toledo showing the lowest prices at $10 for first patent and $9.70 for second patent; Minneapolis being $10.60 for first patent and $10.46 for second patent. This shows a large reduction under August prices.

"The regulations on the distribution of wheat and the manufacture of flour were put into force the middle of September.

Flour Prices.
"The average retail price on first patents in 796 cities on Oct. 13 was $12.77, or from $12.50 to $2 per barrel higher than is warranted by the price being made by the millers. In other words, the retail price has not fully responded to the reductions made by the millers.

"The bean harvest this year is estimated by the department of agriculture at approximately 7,000,000 bushels in excess of last year, or nearly double last year. Growers' associations in prominent bean-producing states are holding beans for from 12 1/2 to 15 cents per pound, as against an average price realized by the grower last year of 8 cents per pound. There has been 100 per cent increase in the Manchurian bean crop, and it is now estimated at 2,000,000 tons. Owing to shipping shortages, practically the only outlet is to the United States, and these beans will flow into the American market from December on much below the prices now being demanded for American beans.

Corn Harvest.
"The corn harvest this year is 600,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels more than last year, and generally will be available about the end of November. The price of corn rose to $2.20 per bushel in July and now stands at $1.90 per bushel in Chicago. New corn is quoted in Chicago at $1.12 per bushel for December, and indicates nearly a 40 per cent drop in the price of corn meal when the new corn is generally available.

distribution to the market. "The larger supply of cars and the large harvest warrant lower prices later in the fall.

As to Sugar.
"Best sugar prices are being controlled by the manufacturers on a basis that should reach the retail consumer from 8 to 8 1/2 cents per pound, depending upon the locality. Sugar is being restricted and a temporary shortage in the northeastern states gives no warrant for the advance prices paid by them for cane sugar.
