or his employer or the representatives of the government or his equals—just as it happens. Not many years ago von Buelow wrote vigorously against a change in the manner of voting.

But what odds does it make? This franchise is used, let us say, in the election of members of the Prussian diet or the Reichstag.

AT THE POLLS

The full returns from the election that is progressing today in New York City will be slow. If the contest over the Greater New York mayorality is very close, the final decision will be a long time coming.

That will be because of the soldier vote. The novel condition is that of 1,700,000 voters 126,000 are now enrolled in the military service.

Another surprise would be the election of Mitchell for mayor. Much of the talk in the newspapers of the metropolis, during ten days, has been to the effect that Hillquit, the socialist, and Hyman, the Tammany candidate, will crowd each other hard.

submarines and the action of Portugal brought it into line. Later when it learned that Germany had conspired to bring about a revolution in Southern Brazil, it prepared for the final step.

WHAT IT IS DOING

It was Premier Kerensky who last week inquired as to what the British navy is doing. The question has been asked before. The British public has asked it, less politely than the Russian premier, and the query also has been voiced in this country.

Lloyd George has the answer. In a statement to the house of commons he told what the British navy is doing and what, in three years, it had done.

But, after all, it's not so much what the British navy is doing as it is what it may do. What it is capable of doing is the thing that worries the Kaiser.

Another reason why parties lose power in this country is because some of their henchmen acquire $100,000,000 worth of bigheadness when they are appointed to a $1,000 political office.

The fact of the matter is that most well-to-do men are that way because they were hard to do.

The reason why a princess can tango for six hours at night is because her feet hurt her so that she can't walk a block to the grocery and get her mother a bar of soap that afternoon.

There wasn't so much pneumonia in the old days when we filled our chests full of goose grease instead of filling our stomachs full of dope.

What has become of the old-fashioned tad who used to carry an apple and a red bandanna handkerchief in the pocket in the tail of his coat?

When a man is too old for a girl to marry and too rich for her not to marry, she always marries him.

It is hard to get the fact into a man's head that giving a three months' old baby things to eat is not the way to feed it.

Men pick their company. So do women. The difference is that women pick their company to pieces.

A girl who is wearing her first pair of corsets and a boy who is wearing his first pair of silk socks have an awful time trying to appear unconcerned.

Don't be dependant. Hope is so cheap that you should always have a big supply on hand.

We do not know much. But we do know that when a girl thinks she is a belle, she wants to be told so.

A girl will marry for a home and then imagine that she has a mortgage on it and won't stay around and attend to it.

A woman's face may be her fortune. But she should get the idea out of her head that being two-faced will make her doubly rich.

MILWAUKEE HEAD VISITS IN BUTTE

Harry E. Byram, New President, on First Official Trip Here.

REMARKABLE CAREER OF NOTABLE R. R. OFFICIAL

A Montana Product and Was Formerly Located at Great Falls.

Harry E. Byram, recently elected president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company, paid his first official visit in his new capacity to Butte last evening.

Mr. Byram arrived at 2:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the northern part of the state. In the party were: Mrs. Byram, H. B. Earling, vice president; E. S. Keeley, vice president; Traffic Manager R. M. Calkins, Chief Engineer C. F. Lovett, General Superintendent W. B. Foster and others.

The officials were taken on a visit to all the local offices in Butte last evening and last night were guests of honor at dinner at the Silver Bow club. Mr. Byram in an informal interview spoke on the importance of the railroads to the country in war times, stating that they were the same to the nation as the veins and arteries are to the human being.

Mr. Byram was located at Great Falls for a number of years as superintendent and later assistant general superintendent of the Montana Central division, and is therefore well known in this section of the northwest. His visit was therefore a very pleasant one.

Mr. Byram's Career

Mr. Byram's training and experience have been secured mainly on railroads on which the policies and methods originated chiefly by James J. Hill have prevailed. Mr. Byram became a clerk in the office of the general manager of the Great Northern in 1888, and served in the operating department which time he spent until 1902, during which time he was in charge of the Burlington, which had then become a Hill property, and served first as general superintendent, and then as assistant vice president in charge of operation. It was during this period that Mr. Hill was carrying out the reorganization and improvement of the Burlington system which was needed to enable it to operate in accordance with his ideas as to the way a railway should be operated.

In fact, Mr. Byram has made himself recognized by the railroad fraternity during recent years as one of the most consummate masters of the entire art of railroad operation that the country has produced. His knowledge of the technique of railway operation is complete and his ability to grasp and assimilate all the innumerable details of the business is extraordinary.

He is physically strong, he takes good care of himself, and in consequence he is able to, and does, give to his work an amount of industry and energy that few men are capable of putting forth. An intense worker himself, he expects and receives somewhat similar work from his subordinates all along the line. While Mr. Byram is so skilled as an operating man, he has taken a very keen and broad interest in all matters affecting railway management and the railway situation in general.

Born in Illinois.

Mr. Byram was born in Galesburg, Ill., on Nov. 28, 1855, and entered railway service in 1881 as a call boy on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy in the same city. He was later stenographer in the general superintendent's office and chief clerk to the superintendent of terminals of the same road out of railway service. From the latter date until March, 1898, he was with the Great Northern as a clerk in the general manager's office and chief clerk in the vice president's office at St. Paul, following which he was assistant general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Butte Grocer Thankful

"I had been sick nearly 20 years with stomach trouble and was slowly starved to death as everything I ate food did not digest. I was reduced to 115 pounds. A friend advised me to take May's Wonderful Remedy about 4 months ago, which I did and now weigh 151 pounds and can eat anything. I am very thankful for May's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at New-Drug Co., Paxon & Rockefeller Co."

THE REJECTED.

It gives my soul a wrench, that I can't join the boys, and excavate a trench, and make a warlike noise. I stick to my abode and do my daily grind, because I'm pigeon toed, knock kneed and color blind.

Mr. Byram went to the district of the southwestern district, with headquarters at Topeka, Kan. He left the Rock Island to become general superintendent of the Nebraska district, the Burlington, which position he held until May, 1909, when he was made assistant to the vice president of operation. Since February, 1910, he has been vice president.

What does your country mean to you?

Merely a place to live and make money in? Merely a hive where you gather the honey in? Or something that's splendid and true?

What does your country mean to you?

Only a land that your profits are swelling in. Only a spot that you chance to be dwelling in. Or something that thrills you through?

What does your country mean to you?

Something to boast and brag for. To cheer and to wave the flag for. (The red and the white and the blue.) And then to forget? Or is it a land you will give devotion.

What does your country mean to you?

All the dreams you've sought for. And all the hopes you've fought for. In this, our land, come true? What does your country mean to you?
