HEROIC WORK OF CANADIAN CAVALRY

Impetuous Dash of Mounted Men Takes Them Far Into Enemy Lines.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 24.—The Canadian Press Limited—Canada was splendidly represented in the great British advance of Nov. 20 which broke the Hindenburg line and drove the enemy back on Cambrai. For the first time since the German retreat from Ypres last spring the Canadian cavalry went to action with their horses.

After waiting a long time opposite the village of Masnières for the signal which sent them into action, the "Hell for Leather" Fort Garry's galloped to the attack. They succeeded in crossing L'Escaut canal and penetrated the enemy's country.

A Cavalry Exploit.

What followed equals anything in cavalry exploits in the history of the empire. A single squadron found itself all alone. Racing forward with the enemy to the right and left of them, the Fort Garry's galloped in section over the crest of a hill concealing the enemy's guns. Advancing down the slope, they found themselves facing a battery of four light German field guns. Charging straight for the battery, sabring everything as they came, the officers and men rushed to the guns, winning an exploit that the enemy had no time to man two of the guns. One other was cut off and put out of action. The cavalry attempted to blow up the fourth. The cavalry wiped out that battery with the sword. The majority of the enemy's guns attempted to fire and only a few brave men stood at attention beside their guns. On swept the little squadron. The retreating enemy's infantry were engaged.

Inside Enemy Lines.

Dusk found the cavalry two miles inside the enemy's territory, commanded by a lieutenant. A defensive position was essential. With sword the horsemen fought their way through to a sunken road. There they dismounted. Two messengers sent back to report their position had their horses shot under them, but struggled back to the line. Darkness was falling. The gallant band was isolated. Stomping their horses to divert the enemy's machine gun fire, what was left of the squadron prepared to return.

As they had galloped forward, using the sabre, they now fought their way back on foot with the bayonet. The retirement was a succession of hand-to-hand struggles. Four times the little party met enemy working parties with the bayonet and dispersed them. Midnight had passed when they reached Masnières again and fought their way through the enemy's infantry in the town to a wrecked bridge, where they crossed to safety.

Forty-three of the men came through unscathed and they brought back their wounded and more than a dozen prisoners.

BELOVED LADY LAID TO REST

Touching Tribute Paid to Memory of Mrs. Catherine Lavelle.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine C. Lavelle, wife of Thomas J. Lavelle of 711 North Main street, was held this morning from the family home at 4:15 o'clock with a solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Interment was in the family plot at the old Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Lavelle died Thursday evening of illness following a heart attack. She was a resident of this community for the past 24 years or more and was held in the highest esteem, not alone by those who enjoyed the pleasure of her friendship and acquaintance but by all who knew of her kindly deeds of charity.

Rev. Father Michael McCormack, St. Joseph's, was celebrant of the mass; Father O'Shea, St. Joseph's, deacon; Father Connolly, St. Joseph's, sub-deacon, and Father Leonard, Immaculate Conception, master of ceremonies. In the sanctuary were: Father P. J. Cronin, St. John's; Father Flynn, Lourain, and Father M. J. Hannon, pastor of St. Mary's, who on account of illness was unable to celebrate the mass himself.

The music was rendered by the Boys' choir, an organization of young lads who owed so much to Mrs. Lavelle. Father Connolly officiated at the grave. In spite of the fact that a request had been made that flowers be omitted, there was a large number of beautiful floral offerings. With the exception of two, one from her children and one from a sister-in-law who is ill in another city, all the flowers were turned over for the decoration of the altar. The pallbearers were: W. J. Magill, Sr., Andy Mackey, N. H. Lagus, T. J. Sullivan, Jerry Shea and Charles O'Brien. The members of the League of the Sacred Heart of St. Mary's parish and the Ladies of the Resurrection association, of which organization Mrs. Lavelle was an honored and an active member, participated in the arrangements for the funeral.

The cortege was one of the largest of the year, a touching tribute to the worth of the deceased lady. For years she had played a part in the requiem masses at the church, regardless of the personnel of the deceased. In winter time she played and sang alone. In the summer time her daughters assisted her. There was a tear shed this morning for Mrs. Lavelle by those who had experienced her kindness in the past and while the body lay at the home little lads in their torn

This Is How You Do It

Our stock is always marked in plain figures—Only standard makes, as Hirsh-Wickwire, Society Brand, L System, are carried, and every garment is fully guaranteed.

Pick out any suit you want—pay a dollar more than the price and take any overcoat at the same price as you find in our stock, or pay a dollar extra and get two suits at the price of one.

This Is Why WE DO IT

We want the room for our wonderful Christmas stocks. Christmas is "just around the corner," holiday goods are coming in—we must be ready for them. The winter season seems to be "indefinitely delayed;" winter suits, overcoats, underwear and so on have not moved out as rapidly as they would have had the weather been cold and blustery. No matter what the thermometer registers now, our prices have been made so sensational that we will reduce our stocks to the point where they should be. Then watch this store for wonderful Christmas merchandise.

RED CROSS HAS AN URGENT NEED

Workers Wanted at Headquarters for Surgical Dressings.

At "S. O. S." call for workers in making surgical dressings has been issued by the headquarters of the Butte chapter of the American Red Cross. These dressings can be made only at the headquarters and not at the various units and hence all ladies are urged to devote an hour or two a day to working on the dressings at the headquarters, which are located in the Hennessy store.

The class of surgical dressings must be sent from the Butte chapter by the end of the week and no effort must be spared to prepare them in time, as the calls from the hospitals for them are urgent and pressing. It is suggested by the ladies in charge that this would be a most suitable form of a Thanksgiving offering from the ladies of the city to the boys who are in danger and suffering.

Mrs. J. F. Charles of the Monroe unit urges all members to bring in their knitted sweaters at once.

SUGAR SITUATION HERE IS GROWING COMPLICATED

Atkinson, state food administrator, while the latter was in Butte Saturday evening. Prof. Atkinson assured Mr. Lutey that in his fight for sugar conservation he has the entire support of the state as well as the federal food administration.

Mr. Lutey's figures show that there always was a great waste of sugar in Butte. The consumption of sugar per capita throughout the country is 90 pounds per year. On this basis, the consumption in Butte should be 8,000,000 pounds annually. Figures, however, show that Butte's consumption has been 10,000,000 pounds yearly or 10 per cent greater than the average consumption throughout the U. S.

"It simply means that the consumption in Butte must be cut in two—and at once," was the statement of Chairman Lutey this morning. "Unless the people of the city become awake to the seriousness of the situation, there will be no sugar within a few days."

Mr. Lutey pointed out that at present there is about one carload of 60,000 pounds of sugar among the merchants. The average consumption of sugar in Butte is 13 carloads per month. Consequently the sugar at present on hand will not last more than four days at best.

For the past three months the food administration in Washington has cut the allowance for Montana in two and it seems as though this arrangement will continue, declared Mr. Lutey.

"This means that over the city and county must be cut in half as much sugar as they are now consuming," Mr. Lutey added in his three concerns in the given instructions that they will not be given to the food administration in Butte and Montana.

Reports from Butte merchants of that city have been submitted to have supply on hand. Mr. Lutey is advising no sugar and is soliciting any orders for the Montana Wholesale Association has sent a grocer in the state comply with the regulations of the food
