

DO IT YOURSELF.

"Young Man" says Col. Bright "You had better put your money in the bank, because it will get there any way whether you put it there or not."

Do you realize how much truth there is in this statement?

Do you know that the wealthy men of the United States handle their money almost entirely through banks? I think you will admit as well that the wealthy men of the country are also the smart men. The smart, wide awake men are the ones who get your money. Most of your money is spent with business men.

These business men invariably take your money when they get it and put it in the bank. Why not put it in the bank yourself and thereby reap the two-fold benefit of the possession of money? The men who put your money in the bank get lots of benefit out of it other than the actual value of the cash deposited. Why not get this benefit yourself? You are not too young to commence-neither are you too old. Try it.

The Daily Star of Miles came out on the 10th inst. with a big scare head on the front page telling that "Ekalaka Has Had No Rain For One Year". Now what do you know about that kind of misrepresentation from a new paper that wants to build up and prosper. It seems that Bro. Scanlon is trying to make a second "Saturday Blade" out of his sheet. Of course the article came as "special correspondence" but even at that the editor should have known that the truth was very lacking and that his correspondent must have been drunk or otherwise deranged. From the records at the local weather observers station we find that 14 inches of rain has fallen within this district during the past 12 months and that nearly three inches has fallen here during the past 60 days. Does this look as if Ekalaka has had no rain? We have noticed several little articles in the Star of late that were very lacking in truth concerning the Ekalaka country and it is only right that our people make a kick against the publishing of such false statements. This last article also says that our graveyard is nearer town than the new school house and that comparatively a small part of the land around Ekalaka is cultivated. The author is inclined to be a knocker or else he wrote the article while out of his head. If the Star wishes to give its readers facts concerning this country they should employ correspondents who will get facts and not peddle out a bunch of dope that does more harm than good. Miles City has a good field for a daily paper but such a sheet must publish the truth if it wishes to secure the support of the outside country.
