Lose Another Game.

Mell Reese was "Johnny on the spot" with the groceries when it came his turn to snatch one out of the short field and he negotiated several thrillers that were worth the price of admission. Captain Archebaldy K. Smithy proved himself to be a good windy day hitter but in the absence of the wind he inadvertently slammed out some fouls clear to the well and gone, but couldn't get them placed in fair territory when the hits were needed bad.

The Red warriors are of the opinion that Manager Gross and his estimable wife sort of slipped one over on them. At dinner just before the game they were tempted beyond resistance with viands, the goodness of which they had seldom dreamed and surprising quantities of tender chicken and trimmings were forced upon the unsuspecting athletes. The boys brazenly state however that they are not a bit sorry that they broke over and even go so far as to assert that the loss of a mere game of base ball was nothing compared to the feed.

The line-up follows:

Box Elder		Ekalaka
Richmond	c	McManus
W. Gross	p	Lewis
Burns	ss	Reese
Moolick	1b	Hoffman
Stoddard	2b	Smithy
King	3b	Olsen
Conger	rf	Cherrier
Wilson	lf	Sykes
J. Gross	cf	Baker

Score 6-9 Umpire Ricardson.
