The marriage of Paul M. McLean to Miss Nellie R. Munro was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Beaver Creek yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Munro, Sr., and with her husband has a host of friends in this section, where they have made their home for several years past. The groom was until recently the supervisor of the Ekalaka road district and has a ranch northwest of town where they will make their future home. The newly married couple left yesterday afternoon for Fairview, Montana where they will spend the next 10 days visiting friends and relatives after which they will return to Ekalaka.

With this issue, the Eagle passes its fifth mile-stone. For five years the "bird" has been endeavoring to keep pace with the rapid development of the town and the country. In looking back over these years and realizing the great amount of improvement that has been done in our immediate neighborhood, we cannot but point with pride to our Ekalaka of today and the country it has helped to develop. Since the location of the county seat at Ekalaka, the town has taken on a new lease of life and it is a safe bet that the old town will show more improvement and progress within the coming year than at any other time in the past. Outsiders realize the location of the town, the soil of the surrounding country and its many natural resources and bearing these in mind are not afraid to invest their money here. Through the efforts of the Boosters Club, which by the way is one of the liveliest and most progressive organizations in the state, many new enterprises have been secured for town and not until their hopes have been realized, will there be any let-up to their boosting. One of the most needed improvements that has been secured since the establishment of the seat of government in Ekalaka is the flour mill and elevator. The work of building and erecting this mill will commence within a very short time, as will also many other improvements necessary for a county seat town. But then, getting back to our fifth birthday story, we want to say that we are glad we stayed and unless our debtors give us up altogether, we expect to be on tap for another five years, and as time goes by, give our readers an improved paper in all respects. Here's wishing that you all wake up on New Year's morn with a boosting bee in your bonnet and a big smile on your countenance and two dollars in your pocket for a renewal of your subscription to the "bird."
