Strange Iowa Laws

A determination to enforce the existing laws of Iowa would prove the political oblivion of officials of that state. Some of these strange laws have been on the statute books for years. New laws governing the same things have been passed without repealing the old ones, with the result that a person desiring to conform to all the laws would find himself seriously embarrassed by conflicting legal demands on his conduct. For instance newspaper publishers have found a demand in Iowa for Sunday newspapers, yet a law forbids publishing a newspaper on Sunday in that state. If the laws were observed, no places of amusement—picture shows, theaters, baseball parks or summer parks would be open on Sunday. The law says no dainties nor luxuries may be purchased on Sundays, nor is any street car allowed to run on the Sabbath. There is a question that a railroad train may be run through the state legally on Sunday, but it is certain that a man may not purchase a cigar nor a woman a piece of chewing gum on that day. The law forbids women offering prizes at card parties, and boys are not allowed to purchase nor smoke cigarettes. The law also forbids trusts or business combinations in the state. In spite of these laws, however, public opinion in many towns demands the theater remain open on Sunday, baseball is played, summer parks run and even the big state fair was open on the Sabbath. The passage of laws is not more important than the repeal of those that have become obsolete or which are nullified by public opinion. Having a law upon the books which cannot be enforced produces that great evil a disrespect for all laws. When the people realize that a law cannot be enforced, even if a majority seems to favor it, they should not allow themselves to be made the cats-paw of the politicians, but should demand its immediate repeal.

Big Combination Sale

Sat. Oct. 23rd At The Nims Barn

At this sale a large assortment of miscellaneous goods will be auctioned off. The Hedrick restaurant stuff will all be sold—Fixtures, tables, chairs, cooking utensils, good steel range, heating stove, lamps; gas lighting plant, large refrigerator, etc, etc.

We will also have about 20 head of cattle and a good bunch of horses for sale. Among these will be four good Percheron mares. This stuff will be sold on terms to suit the purchaser.

An assortment of forty suits of clothes will be sold.

If you have anything you want to sell, list it at once.
