Do You Want To Be Trained For A Place In The Business World?

Then Go To The
Billings Polytechnic Institute
 This year and take a business course

Advantages the Institute has to offer that cannot be equalled by another business school in the Northwest.

A complete and thorough business education that fits one not only to fill a position but to become a real leader. There is something about the training at the Polytechnic that throws ambition into the student. They want to be leaders and they become leaders thru this influence and training offered.

Ten Teachers, each a specialist in some particular line of study will see that you get the training you need. These teachers are the best the country affords, coming from the best colleges and universities in the land and with that practical experience that is necessary to make successful instructors.

A great variety of subjects are offered. Bookkeeping, Export Accounting, Business Eng-ish, Letter writing, Business Arithmetic, Rapid Calculation, Shorthand and Typewriting, Debating, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Actual Business Practice, Civics, Economics, Political history.

The Polytechnic is a most Popular School and is found to be the best known institution in the entire Northwest. Its students and graduates can go anywhere and the credential they have earned at the Polytechnic will be of the greatest help to them.
 The backing of a well known school cannot be overestimated.

A real college fire and spirit permeates the institution. Few institutions in the country can show as much true college spirit.
 This means everything to the boy and girl going to an institution of learning. The Polytechnic spirit is known everywhere.
 Its students say that one-half the good they derive from going to the Institute is the college life that is theirs.

A guarantee of a good position. No student who completes the regular Business courses of the general can fail to receive a good position. The demand for competent bookkeepers, stenographers, and office help is many times greater than we can fill.
 Many of the best positions in the banks, real estate and business firms, freight offices and wholesale houses are being held by Polytechnic graduates and they are making good.

Individual Attention. One of the great ideas is to give each student personal attention. If some particular subject is hard to master then a special teacher and special instruction is offered.
 A student goes no further in liability and hard work will permit. Nothing holds him back.

Athletics and Physical Training. Strong athletic teams and physical training for all give the students a form of training and a valuable pastime that is seldom found in ordinary Business Colleges.

Musical Advantages. Unusual opportunities are offered in any line of musical training.

 Piano, Voice, Violin, Orchestra, Band, Chorus Work all are taught. The Business student has the advantage of all this training. This year the Lose-kamp Conservatory of Music is being organized which will be the greatest institution of its kind in the West. A $50,000 Music Hall is to be erected this year.

The Polytechnic is a great home school where students and faculty live together as a great family. Prescott Commons which contains the finest Dining Room found in a school west of the Mississippi River will be occupied for the first time this year. The board is largely supplied fresh from the school's own farm. The dormitories are modern thruout, mostly furnished and made as comfortable and homelike as possible.

Expenses are very low. No school in the country offering similar advantages has as low rates for room, board and tuition.

STEALING A HORSE.

A Brazen Afghan Robber Who Had a Sense of Humor.

An East Indian officer, writing of life in Peshawar in the early seventies of the last century, relates the following:

The medical officer of my regiment was informed one night that a valuable and favorite Arab steed of his had been stolen. Over the border, gone forever, he never expected to see his horse again, but next day, much to his surprise, there came to him a bearded ruffian riding barebacked the stolen steed.

He confessed that he had taken the animal, but, learning that it was the property of a hakim (physician), had brought it back. The horse had been tethered in line with others, with men, women and children sleeping in the open about them.

"How did you manage it?" asked the doctor.

"If the sahib will give the necessary order," he said, "I will show him."

The entire scene was reproduced, even to the night watchman asleep in a corner. Noiselessly the Afghan crawled toward the Arab, treading snake-like through the prostrate forms to where it was standing at the end of the row. Softly hissing to attract the animal's attention without causing alarm, he gently raised himself with arm extended.

In his open palm were some lumps of goor (native sugar), beloved of horses, and while the Arab was enjoying these the man was crossing him with the other hand, whence suspended a watering bridle taken from his wallet. Quickly this was adjusted, and then, stroking soothingly, the robber passed his hand over the animal's back and down the hind quarters. Swiftly the heel ropes were unlatched, then a bound he was astride and away, his right hand backward flung, shouting triumphantly as he passed, "Thus was it done!"

The joke was that he never came back! A double restitution would have been too much of a wrench.

Narrow Escape.

"Let me out of this building!" exclaimed the book agent.

"What's your hurry?" inquired the elevator man.

"Don't you try to get me into consideration. I used to think that sign, 'No solicitors allowed in this building,' was a slight, but it's a blessing and a safeguard. I'm a good book agent, but I don't want to do any more business around here."

"Haven't you sold anything?"
 "Not a volume, and I came pretty near buying 500 shares of mining stock."--Washington Star.

The Limbs In Walking.

It is pointed out that in walking or running the arms and legs produce a "balancing" like that of the reciprocating and revolving parts of a locomotive. The movements of the legs react upon the trunk and tend to rotate it in alternate directions about a vertical axis, but the swinging of the arms, each in unison with the opposite leg, produces an opposing mechanical complete, the effect of which is to rotate the trunk in the other direction, thus balancing, in part at least, the rotating action of the legs.
