C. O. ZIEGENPUSS, Editor and Gen'l Manager.

THOUGH not by any means-either in a literary or mechanical way- what we could wish or what we hoped to make it, we take pleasure in submitting to our readers this extra edition of The Miner as a New Year greeting. We feel confident that all our readers will find it not only interesting, but worthy of preservation for future reference. It contains matter that has never appeared in print and much that cannot be found in so convenient a form. The work of compilation was not begun until December 1st and the progress of the work has been much retarded by want of mechanical facilities, presses and printers. The want of these important factors in the production of work of this character has compelled us to omit much matter of interest especially prepared for this edition and will also account for the lack of finish to the work. However, it was not intended to make it a fine specimen of printing, but to serve an utilitarian purpose. Its aim is to present to the world a fair, honest and unexaggerated account of Butte. mines, mills, smelters and commercial importance. Also, of the progress that Montana has made in material development and to give some idea of her great possibilities. Only such historical data is given as is believed will be found useful and of general interest. If we have, under the untoward circumstances, accomplished our main aim, we shall be content. Strong in the sense of a conscientious effort, we submit our greeting to our friends in the utmost confidence of their approbation.

POLITICIANS and persons interested in the growth of the Territory will find the political tables in this work of great interest.

THE hospitals of Butte are a credit to the community. They indicate the exist-ence of great humanity and philanthrophy.

THE Butte postoffice returns a net revenue to the Government of $14,000 per annum. It is cramped for room, and always unable to handle the business expeditiously for wast of sufficient clerical force.

SILVER BOW COUNTY, of which Butte is the capital, has a population of 25,000 people. It will cast 7,000 votes next Fall.

THE assessed valuation of Silver Bow County is $7,546,731. Silver Bow is the smallest, but the richest, county in the Territory.

MONTANA is a grand mountain country. It is calculated to produce a hardy race, who will achieve all the possibilities of the Territory.

THERE is no Territory or State whose possibilities are greater than those of Montana. It has all the elements that make States great.

THE Northern Pacific main line will be built into Butte early in the spring. It will come from Garrison through the Deer Lodge valley.

THE Butte Miners' Union is a blessing to the camp. It is conducted on conservative principles and has the full confidence of the mine operators.

THE Denver and Rio Grande Raliroad is the great scenic line of the country. In coming to or going from Montana go over this line. Its scenery is not equalled in the world.

NEW YEAR'S day and not the least signs of snow. Up to now heavy underclothing and overcoats have not been essential to comfort here. Such is "the rigorous climate of Montana."

THE output of gold dust from the pla mines of Deer Lodge county, for the peacer mines of Deer Lodge county, for the year 1885, was about $150,000. The banking house of Clark & Larabie, at Deer Lodge, purchased two-thirds of this amount.

No where else in the world are such lus cious potatoes grown as Montana. Despite the high rate of freight, their superiority makes their sale in St. Paul and Minneapolis, at a profit, a possibility.

This edition will show the commercial importance of Butte, though it doesn't by any means show all the business houses of Butte. Indeed, only a small proportion have seen fit to make themselves known to the public.

The geological conditions of Butte are fully described elsewhere. For this report we are indebted to Mr. Williams, Chief of this division of the Geological Survey, which is doing excellent work for the m

WHILE we give unusual prominence to the counties West of the range, in this edition, we have not neglected the balance of the Territory. It has been our aim to give every section and every industry in the Territory a representation.

THE special article on "Fruit Growing in Montana," which will be found in this edition, has been contributed by Mr. Will H. Sutherlin, one of the editors of the Rocky Mountain Husbandman. It is thoroughly reliable and of unusual interest.

By some mysterious oversight the name of W. A. Clark was not included in the list of W. A. Clark was not included in the list of heavy taxpayers elsewhere published. He is one of the largest property holders in the city and county, and one of the heaviest taxpayers in the Territory—not only through the large number of corporations with which he is identified and in which he is the leading factor, but also in an individual caracter.

Mg. L. W. Prox, editor of the Wool Grower, Fort Benton, is the author of the special article in this edition on "Sheep in Montana." It will be read with interest by all classes, and especially by those who contemplate going into the business.

Tais New Year number is gratuitously issued to every subscriber of the Daily or Semi-Weekly Minkin. Every subscriber is entitled to a copy, free. Though not what we could wish it, it is a valuable New Year greeting, and will be found worthy of pre-

THE Daily Miner is the great newspaper of Montana. It is sold at $12 per year. The Semi-Weekly at $4 per year and the Weekly at $2. Persons desiring to be posted upon the resources of Montana should subscribe for it. The Weekly Edition will be illustrated.

The Minks Publishing Company issues daily, semi-weekly and weekly editions. The daily receives and publishes the full Associated Presedispatches, is issued every day of the year, including Sundays and holidays, and is recognized as the leading newspaper of the Northwest.

THE Financial and Mining Record, published at New York, has shown more sympathy with the mining men of the Great West than all the rest of the alleged mining papers of the East. The Récord has been and is the staunch friend of silver, and has always had a good word for Butte. The people of the West should bear this in mind.

THE wood-cuts used in this edition were The wood-cuts used in this edition were made for us by Drant & Hawtin, of Chicago, to whom we make acknowledgement of indebtedness for the prompt manner in which they performed their work, and the excellence of their products. These engravings were all made from photographs by Thomas H. Rutter, of this city, the portrait and landescare artist. The laint work trait and landscape artist. The joint work is creditable to both.

Since the publication of Mr. Wilson's paper on "Montana Journalism," which will be found in full in this edition, the News has been established in Walkerville, this county; Mr. J. E. THE WEEKLY MINER is sent anywhere for $2 per year. The weekly is handsomely illustrated, containing views of the mines, smelters, landscapes, portraits of import-ant personages, cuts of residences and busi-ness houses, etc., all illustrating the proness nouses, etc., all linetrating the pro-gress of the development of the Territory. It contains a weekly summary of the abip-ments of bullion, matte and ore and of the operations of the mines. Presons desiring to be posted on Butte and Bankus cannot do without The Weekly Missa.

THE MINER, in this special edition, gives THE MINER, in this special edition, gives the first authentic report of the vote of the Territory between the years 1864 and 1874. The returns of the Territory between those years were not recorded in any regular book. The MINER, to secure these figures, had to go to the original returns in the Territorial Secretary's office and sort them out of the official papers. The figures given are absolutely correct. An elleged "History of Montans," issued several months ago, says that McLean ras against Upson, in the first place; this is a micraka. Sandess ran against Upson, and the returns given are official.
