A CRITERION OF THE COMMUNITY'S CONDITION

Is to be found in the statement of the condition of its bank, if that bank is conducted along conservative business lines. We aim to protect the interests of the depositor and borrower and believe that the statement published herewith tells the story of the bank, the town and the community contiguous thereto better than any mere verbal statement.

The Hour Hasn't Struck

When It Does, Cut Bank
Will Be In the Race

We wonder why Cut Bank has not gotten the county division fever, since we have it here and they have it in Conrad. There would still be plenty of room north of the Marias river for a splendid county and Cut Bank would be about the center point. Better get busy Brother Whetston—Chester Signal.

The Signal is right. Beginning from a point where the Marias crosses the Teton county line, into Chouteau county, and following the river run to the confluence of the Marias and Cut Bank rivers, then drawing an imaginary line straight south to the Rockies, cuts off a domain on the north that would make a great, big county, and Cut Bank would be almost situated at the very center of this new county. This would leave Choteau very near to the center of the old county—close enough for all practical purposes.

Geographically, Cut Bank is the logical location for the county seat of this county with the Marias as its southern and eastern boundary. Being the metropolis of north Teton county and a prominent railway point makes it a still more logical candidate for county seat honors. Its ideal situation and splendid water supply would be still another argument in its favor.

But, as the Pioneer Press has before stated, the time is not ripe for the county division. We must wait until there is a heavier real estate taxation, until our farmers commence to raise bountiful crops and our business men commence to realize on the big investments they have made in anticipation of this condition. Then we shall have county division—and Cut Bank will be a factor to be reckoned with.
