First National Bank of Cut Bank

Meet me this evening at the Smokehouse.

Bernard Lynch of Shelby was here over Sunday, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lynch.

Any person contemplating a trip to any point between here and Billings will profit by calling on Pioneer Press.

For Sale—Heating stove used one winter. Paid $18.00 for it and will sell for $10.00. Pioneer Press.

H. Schneider arrived here the first of the week from Diamond Lake, Wash, where he spent the past several months.

Bob Rasmussen is back from Glacier Park, where he spent most of the summer and is now back at his old stand in the Smokehouse.

J. L. Hyatt was last Saturday awarded the contract for the construction of the school house in District No. 47, his bid being the lowest of about six. Work on the new structure will begin soon, we understand.

T. J. Sollom is back from the eastern part of the state, where he built a couple of grain elevators. Mr. Sollom informs the Pioneer Press that the International Elevator Co. plans the erection of a grain house at Ethridge.

A number of the young men and women of Cut Bank have organized a social club and their meeting place will be Brown's Hall. The rooms will be provided with pool and billiard tables and occasional dancing parties will be given. The first meeting of the promoters was held on Tuesday evening.

H. G. Ewing, who has been assisting in the International Bank at Sweet Grass, is now connected with the First National here, having taken the place of Walter Daggett, who was compelled to resign his position on account of failing health. He left for his home in Townsend Wednesday.

D. B. Donahue left Tuesday evening for Spokane, where he expects to spend several weeks resting and recuperating. Mr. Donahue's health has not been the best for some time and he hopes that a little change may bring improvement. He expects to attend the big Inland Empire fair, now being held in Spokane.

Otto Bauman, the veterinarian, has gone to Fort Benton to close up some business matters. Otto has decided to make Cut Bank his permanent headquarters, his homestead being located north of town. He has had a very successful practice since locating here and feels sure that the future will justify his decision.

Phillip and Fred Yunck and the William Yunck family went over to Kalispell last Friday and on Saturday the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Yunck was celebrated. Early this week J. E. Thompson received word from Kalispell to the effect that his "sidekicker" was afflicted with tonsillitis and would not be able to return for a few days.

All outdoor operations were suspended from Friday until about Monday noon, by a snow-storm and slight freeze up that covered the entire section. These baby winters in September seem to make regular annual visits at some time during the month. A storm resembling that of the early part of the week visited Montana the latter part of last September and lasted three days. Considerable grain was still to be harvested in the section north of headlight. Late flax was more or less effected by the frost and snow, but most ranchers declare that little if any damage was done to standing grain or grain in shock. It is quite probable that this little flare-up of the elements will be followed by fine autumnal days.

For Sale Cheap—Horse, buggy and harness. Bruce R. McNamer.

If you want to sleep "the sleep that knits up the raveled sleeve of care" buy one of those Wool Blankets at the Harness Shop.

Read announcement of Geo. Bedord, the blacksmith.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Vasboe of Red River Ranch, last Thursday.

Mrs. T. B. Bomboy is spending the week in Hardin, with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Seager.

C. C. Dewing is installing bathroom fixtures and making other improvements in his residence on Cut Bank Heights.

The Hill county fair, which was to have been held on Monday, was postponed till Wednesday, on account of inclement weather the first of the week.

A postcard from John Benish states that he and family are "looking over" Chicago and will soon leave that city, for their old home, Eau Claire, Wis.

Fall brides-elect: Round out the Happy Day by getting some of our DeLuxe wedding announcements and sending them to your dear friends.

The Sam Dunbar family have moved back to town, after spending the summer on their ranch. The children have entered the local school.

Manager Bomboy of the Cut Bank Telephone Co. requests the Pioneer Press to ask owners of threshing outfits to use care when passing under phone wire, as impaired service by reason of broken wires means disadvantage to them as well as the other patrons.

Tom Delaney is back from Blackfoot after completing the plumbing work on the new hospital there. Tom has leased the former Pioneer Press building from D. Whetstone and will install a complete line of plumbing accessories. He has a number of contracts for plumbing and heating in Cut Bank homes and will be kept extremely busy during the autumn season.

Mrs. Lotz' millinery opening on Monday proved quite a magnet for Milady Faire and the popular parlor was crowded all day. It was no place for mere man to venture into, but expressions such as "isn't it the stunningist!" and "how cute and chic!" could be heard by the bewildered male passers-by during the day. Mrs. B. R. McNamer held the number that drew the hat, given away on the above date.

Nick Arnett, the harnessmaker, testifies eloquently to the powerful pull of Pioneer Press publicity. "Last week," said Nick, "I turned my advertising batteries on blankets and a day or so after the paper came out I had more than a dozen callers. There first inquiry was "where are those blankets you are advertising in the Pioneer Press?" Nick believes that the big secret of successful advertising is to have the right thing to advertise at the right season. Then if you are honest about advertising values and prices you will soon make it win.

James Lynch, a real estate man of Franklin, Minn., spent the early days of the week with his son Charles and family. Mr. Lynch has been through many parts of the West, on matters connected with the real estate business, and thinks Montana beats 'em all as a grain state. "I saw winter wheat threshed at Benchland in the Judith that was running 60 bushels to the acre. The dump on the separator was in almost constant motion. Never before had I seen wheat come out of a separator so rapidly. It certainly was an eye-opener to me." Mr. Lynch liked the looks of the Cut Bank country and expects to bring us a few good farmers from Minnesota and Iowa next spring.
