STEAMER APPAM GIVEN TO ENGLISH OWNERS BY JUDGE

CAPTURED BRITISH LINER IS ILLEGALLY HELD ACCORDING TO DECISION FILED IN LIBEL CASE IN FEDERAL COURT.

NEUTRALITY LAWS ARE VIOLATED BY GERMANS

Decision Holds Prussian-American Treaty Does Not Apply and That Ship Must Be Regarded as Abandoned and Stranded on Our Shores—Legal Claim Lost by Dash.

Norfolk, Va., July 31.—Federal Judge Waddill has just decided the libel proceedings for possession of the captured British liner Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew which brought her here. The court held that the German government lost all legal claim to the Appam and her cargo as prizes of war when Lieutenant Berg and his prize crew on February 1 last brought them into the neutral waters of Hampton Roads with the intention of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

Cites Precedents. That the Prussia-American treaty of 1799, renewed in 1825, does not apply or control in the case so as to guarantee the prize crew asylum in United States waters; That the action of the German prize court in declaring the Appam a prize while the case was in litigation in the United States courts has no effect on the jurisdiction of the courts; That the jurisdiction of the United States courts in the case is established by a long line of precedents including several by the supreme court.

U. S. Neutrality Violated. "The court's conclusion," the decision reads, "is that the manner of bringing the Appam into the waters of the United States as well as her presence in those waters, constitutes a violation of the neutrality of the United States; that she came in without bidding or permission; that she is here in violation of the law; that she is unable to leave for lack of a crew which she cannot provide or augment without further violation of neutrality; that in her present condition she is without a lawful right to be and remain in the waters; that, as between her captors and owners, to all practical interests and purposes, she must be treated as abandoned and stranded upon our shores; and that her owners are entitled to restitution of their property, which this court should award, irrespective of the prize court proceedings of the court of the imperial government of the German empire; and it will be so ordered."

SEAMEN THREATEN TO STRIKE

Ten Thousand Workers on Great Lakes Make Demands.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 31.—A strike of 10,000 Seamen, firemen, oilers and cooks on the Great Lakes, Sept. 1, is threatened unless vessel owners accede to demands to be fixed by vote of three unions concerned next week. Union officials, who claim to have organized 65 per cent of the able seamen on the lakes, say a strike would result in a complete tieup of traffic on the lakes. The men are demanding higher wages and shorter hours. They want a "three watch" system, equivalent to an eight hour working day, instead of the present "two watch" plan. Wage increases are asked.

U. S. SENATE ACTS FOR IRISH

Requests Wilson to Express Hope of Clemency to British.

Washington, July 31.—By a vote of 46 to 19, the Senate adopted a resolution requesting President Wilson to transmit to the British government an expression of hope that it would exercise clemency in the treatment of Irish political prisoners. By its action the Senate overturned the report of a majority of its foreign relations committee and followed a course outlined in a minority report made by Chairman Stone and Senators O'Gorman and Pittman. The action primarily is inspired by the case of Sir Roger Casement.

Lloyd-George Expresses Confidence. London, July 31.—"I don't despair about an eventual solution of the Irish problem, in spite of the recent failure to reach an agreement between the nationalists and the unionists," said David Lloyd George, replying to a request for his views.

Business Arbitration Court is Plan. Chicago, July 31.—A business arbitration court, said to be the first of its kind in the world, will be inaugurated in Chicago today. The plan was approved by the judges of the municipal court, who adopted a rule placing the branch in operation. Two judges were named to preside. The new tribunal will have jurisdiction only over questions of law in commercial disputes. Questions of fact are to be decided outside of court by arbitration boards of experts selected from the various trades and industries.

ALLIED FORCES ADVANCE

BRITISH, FRENCH AND SLAVS MAKE PROGRESS.

Canadians Raid Teuton Trenches Along Ypres Front—Germans Retire in East—Latins Take Ground.

London, Aug. 1.—The British and French forces fighting against the Germans in the Somme region of France have again launched violent attacks and made good progress, while the Russians in Volhynia in the region of the Stockhod river have forced the Germans to give further ground before their advance.

French Press Forward. To the north of the Somme, trenches between Hill 139 and the river near Hardecourt have been captured by the French on a depth of from 300 to 800 meters and in addition the French have pressed forward to the outskirts of the village of Maurepas east of Hardecourt and also captured positions north of Hem which lies to the south of Maurepas and held them against violent German counter attacks.

Canadians Raid Trenches. Driving with the French on their right flank from Delville wood to the Somme the British made an advance on the entire line and also made further progress against the Germans east of Waterloo farm, Trones wood and Maltross farm. To the north around Ypres the Canadians raided German trenches while the royal Munster fusiliers on the Loos salient carried out a similar operation. The Germans raided a front line British trench near the Hohenzollern redoubt but later were driven back.

In Hand-to-Hand Combat. In the fighting between the Germans and the Russians in Volhynia the men at various points again met in hand-to-hand combat. Berlin says that the withdrawal from the Stockhod curve had been contemplated for some time and was made without interruption by the Russians.

Although Petrograd claims an advance for the Russians near Brody and south of the Dniester in Galicia both Berlin and Vienna assert that the Teutonic Allies repulsed all attacks.

Italians Gain Ground. Rome reports a gain of ground for the Italians against the Austrians on the Tonessa plateau north of Monte Cimone and in the Tofano region.

The Turks have been driven out from a series of strong positions by the Russians operating toward Sivas and near Kharput according to Petrograd.

ZEPPELINS DROP BOMBS ON BRITISH NAVAL BASE

Raid English Coast and Return Home Undamaged Despite Fire of Anti-Aircraft Guns.

Berlin, via London, Aug. 1.—When the Zeppelin airships raided the English coast on the night of July 28, a statement issued by the German admiralty asserts bombs were dropped on the British naval bases of Grimsby and Immingham. Despite the fire of anti-aircraft guns, all the airships returned home undamaged.

GOOD COLD DINNER

SPLENDID MEAL TO SERVE WHEN THERMOMETER IS HIGH.

Except the Vegetables, All the Dishes May Be Prepared in the Early Morning and Work in Torrid Kitchen Avoided.

There is no reason why the cook should grill and sweater in the torrid kitchen these days, but she must use her brains and be willing to get up early in the morning if the family is to be adequately nourished without the usual holocaust.

A well-balanced summer dinner may begin with simple iced bouillon made by simmering two pounds of the round of beef in two quarts of water to which is added seasoning of onion, red pepper, bay leaves, salt and spiced tied in a muslin bag. This simmering must continue for two or three hours, but should be done before the heat of the day. When the liquor is cool it should be strained and set against the ice and only removed to put on the table in bouillon cups of shaved ice.

If a firmer jelly is preferred a half package of gelatine may be mixed with the liquor after it is strained and the whole allowed to boil up once. Great care should be taken that all fat is removed before the jelly is served. Following the iced bouillon pressed chicken may be chosen. A plump Worcestershire chicken will make sufficient for a family of four. This should be well washed in salt water and cut in pieces as if for frying. Boil in just enough water to keep from burning and season with celery, onion and pepper. When it is tender take from the fire and remove all the bones, then cut with a very sharp knife into minute cubes and add pickled walnuts and mushrooms chopped very fine. A little Worcestershire sauce is a great addition to this dish and gives just the needed piquancy for most palates. Mix all together thoroughly and put into an earthen bowl. Cover with a flat dish, set a weight upon it and put the whole in a vessel containing salt and ice. Care must be taken to pour off the brine, however. After an hour the chicken may be set in the icebox, where it will keep until served.

Instead of the eternal potatoes, rice is excellent served with chicken. To cook rice oriental style select a cupful of the very best unpolished quality. Wash in six waters and drain the last through a colander. Put the drained rice into an enamel saucepan with two cupfuls of cold water and a half teaspoonful of salt. Boil it briskly until the water is entirely consumed, then set on the back of the stove for at least three-quarters of an hour. It may then be taken off and kept in a cool, dry place well covered until dinner. When serving time arrives throw the rice into a napkin-lined colander and set over the tea kettle until it is heated, when it may be lightly thrown into an uncovered vegetable dish.

Salad of any summer vegetables prepared in the early morning should be the third course and the last is always best when some sort of ice or ice cream is chosen. This may be heaped in melons, or upon baked apples or, over simple vanilla ice cream, may be poured fruit sirups left from preserving or pineapple sirup, than which there is nothing more refreshing.

To vary the drinks an extra two cupfuls of strong coffee may be made in the breakfast percolator. This should be poured off the moment it is brewed into a sterile mason jar sealed just as if it were being put up and set in a basin of cold water. When it is cool it must be kept near the ice until serving time. This coffee essence added to equal quantity scalded milk served in tall glasses of shaved ice and topped with whipped cream is a real delicacy.

Lemon in Salad Dressing.

TWO EGGS, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of red pepper, a little celery salt, one cupful of milk, one cupful of water. Beat eggs, add sugar, salt, pepper, celery salt and milk. Mix flour and water to a smooth paste and add to above mixture, cook in double boiler, stirring frequently to avoid lumps. When cooked add butter and beat it in with an egg beater; then add the juice of one lemon. When ready to use, add a cupful of whipped cream, and beat till thoroughly mixed with salad dressing. This is much more delicate than if made with vinegar, also more wholesome.

Flaked Pineapple.

In tropical countries pineapple is generally served in the half shell, an easy way of handling the fruit. Cut off the top, split the pine in half lengthwise and cut out the hard center core. Then with a silver fork shred out the fiber, leaving the troublesome little eyes in the half skin; the fiber can then be sweetened, mixed with grated coconut, or flavored with grape juice to taste and returned to the half shells for serving.

Improves the Gravy.

Did you ever try using a "thimbleful" of milk with the water in making gravy? Or the smallest shake of celery salt and a pinch of sugar in addition to the salt and pepper? These will transform the most plebeian gravy, says a Mother's Magazine reader.

For a Mustard Paste.

If you mix mustard paste with the white of an egg instead of hot water the result will be as good and it will not blister. Warm camphorated oil is better than ether.

Libby's Hot Weather Meats. Veal Loaf, to serve cold; Cooked Corned Beef, select and appetizing. Chicken Loaf, Ham Loaf and Veal Loaf, delicately seasoned. Vienna Sausage, Genuine Deviled Ham and Wafer Sliced Dried Beef for sandwiches and dainty luncheons. Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago. Includes a thermometer graphic.

MAKE CHUM OF YOUR CHILD

Boy Will Welcome Companionship of Father Who He Feels Can Understand Him.

The influence of a man's companionship in a child's life is usually a larger, less detailed thing than that of a woman, but it is for this very reason the more needed. The child is eager to enlarge his own world; he is, if he is normal, growing and outgrowing—he is longing to step out of his own little circle into the larger one of men and affairs in which he knows his father moves. I think I may say I do not know a single child, and I very much doubt if anyone else does, who would not willingly give up his play at the offer of half an hour's companionship with a grown man whom he can trust and who really understands him.

You notice I have said, whom he can trust and who really understands him. And in those two conditions are implied all the obligations as well as all the rewards of fatherhood. If a boy cannot trust his father, or if his father does not understand him, it is likely enough he will prefer his toys; and I cannot help feeling that he shows wisdom in the preference.

It is a pitiful commentary that so many children, given the chance to be with their fathers, to sit beside them, to go for a walk with them, to hear them tell of this or that, will jump at the chance, not because the companionship is so complete and satisfying but because it is a rare treat, a real novelty.—Laura Spencer Porter, in Mother's Magazine.

Simplicity of the Fathers. Mrs. Everett M. Raynor of New York, president general of the Daughters of the Revolution, said at a luncheon:

"There are many anecdotes in illustration of the simple living of the Fathers.

"One of our country's pre-Revolutionary fathers had occasion to call on the governor of his province, and was invited to stay to luncheon.

"Luncheon began, and a liveried servant moved busily about, serving the wine, carving the fowl, and so forth.

"The guest watched the servant for some minutes, and then said to him irritably:

"What are you doing, dancing about the room for, man? Can't you pull up a chair and sit down? Surely there's enough for the three of us."

Appreciation of a Prodigy. "Bliggins is still talking about the bright things his boy says."

"Well, I envy him. It must be great to have a boy who entertains himself thinking of bright things instead of banging on the cellar door with a board or experimenting with a shotgun."

It is easier to drive men to drink than from it.

STAFF AFTER REAL MONEY

Temptation Was More Than Any Newspaper Men Could Be Expected to Resist.

A visitor to a small country town in England unwittingly "held up" the local newspaper. Having lost his dog, an animal that he prized very much, he rushed to the newspaper office and handed in an advertisement offering $50 reward for the return of his pet.

Half an hour later he thought he would add to his advertisement the words, "No questions asked." So he hurried to the office again.

When he got there the place was empty save for a small boy, who looked very sulky.

"Where's the staff?" asked the tourist, glancing around the deserted room.

"Out looking for your dog," replied the boy, who was evidently aggrieved at being left behind.—Youth's Companion.

The Ladies Are Learning. "Cut out speeches," Miss Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the Woman's Suffrage party, is reported to have demanded at the recent meeting when the clerks were overworked recording subscriptions to the new campaign fund.

"Cut out the speeches; money talks best," this wise chairman is said to have declared.

The late blind Boss Buckley of San Francisco, however, gained nothing in public esteem when he told his workers upon an occasion of pre-election funds allotment:

"Don't waste this good dough buying talk, but results."—New York Sun.

Drill Amenities. Mayor John Purroy Mitchell said at a dinner in New York:

"The memories of camp life are a very pleasant thing to any soldier. Even the little vicarities of camp life seem in the retrospect pleasant enough.

"Thus I often laugh about a banker who was being drilled one day at Pittsburg by a broker-sergeant.

"What'll you give me," said the broker-sergeant, an old Yale end, 'if I take that humph off your back?'"

"I'll give you," the banker answered, with a tart laugh, "something to make your hair grow, sarge."

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of J. C. FLETCHER.

In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

Modern Villain. Through the shrubbery Marcus Peif, the wealthy rejected suitor, watched Harry Harrison, the village blacksmith, clasp Ruth Roberts in his strong young arms.

"Curse 'em!" he hissed, "I'll have me revenge! I'll buy 'em an automobile for a wedding present, and then look on gloatingly while they mortgage the blacksmith shop to buy gasoline!"

Capital and labor are impossible terms to many of us.
