J. W. Taylor was in from the T. W. Fihman ranch on Pease Bottom Monday. Mr. Taylor was a pleasant caller at this office and when leaving took with him a generous supply of exchanges with which to while away the hours of rest.

A. W. McIntosh was in from his ranch on the Rosebud Saturday. Mr. McIntosh informs us that the range and crop conditions are more favorable in his locality than they have been at this time of year for a number of years past.

Attention of Montana stockmen is called to the public sale of 75 head of registered Shorthorn bulls at Miles City, Montana, Wednesday, June 22, 1904; these bulls are large, beefy, blocky bulls ready for heavy service; they are the property of T. Weldon Ragsdale of Shelby, Missouri and W. O. Merz of Montecella, Minnesota. These gentlemen are sending out to this sale their entire crop of bulls and are anxious that every man interested in good cattle be present at the sale; they are confident that the bulls will please you, they have been wintered in open sheds and are not stall fed animals. Come to the sale. R. W. Barclay, the auctioneer in charge of the sale will be in Miles City a week before the sale, to answer any inquiries, in regard to the bulls, by mail or in person.

Mrs. H. V. Beeman and Miss Keever, while returning from their visit to Miles City Sunday night, by a mistake which was unintentionally made by Judge Loud, were assisted off the train at Rosebud, at which place they visited until Monday night. From information gathered it seems that Judge Loud, enroute to Billings, was on the same train as the ladies and arriving at Rosebud station, which the Judge thought to be Forsyth, he assisted the ladies to the platform and had barely time to get on the train again when it pulled out. On arriving at Forsyth the Judge noticed his mistake in the person of Mr. Beeman who appeared upon the scene looking for the returning ladies. Explanations were in order and were promptly given. It is hard to tell just who the joke is on; Mr. Beeman, who made the night trip to the depot and met not the ladies but the Judge and was sentenced to one more day of lonesomeness; the ladies, who, not from choice, paid a midnight visit to Rosebud, or the Judge, who was the unintentional cause of it all. A three-way joke is quite evident.

Messrs. Butterfield and Bentall were Forsyth visitors from Rosebud Sunday.

R. R. Selway, of Sheridan, Wyo., was a business visitor to our city Friday.

H. S. Holyman of Newcastle, Wyo., was a Forsyth business visitor Friday.

An able Kansas lawyer who was arrested in that prohibition commonwealth for being drunk, made a successful defense in court, urging that, as he had acquired his jag in Missouri, to try him in Kansas must necessarily be a violation of the interstate commerce law. It goes without saying that an able justice of the peace handed down the decision in the case.—Ex.

M. S. Lord and Wm. Coss visited Howard Tuesday for the purpose of checking out the lumber to be used in the erection of the new school house at that place. Mr. Lord sold the lumber for the building and Mr. Coss has the contract for its erection. We are informed that the school house will be a beauty, and that the material received is of the very best grade. The building is to be a two story structure, large enough for the accommodation of all pupils of the Howard district. Mr. Coss informs us that work will be commenced at once on the building.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery
Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.
