

GEORGE HOADLY.

Democratic Candidate for Governor of Ohio.

The contest in Ohio is the leading matter of interest in contemporary politics at the present time. Republicans and Democrats are apt to run a nip-and-tuck race in the great state named, and naturally their keen strife attracts great attention. All eyes are turned towards a competition the influence of which will strongly affect the future of national politics.

Governor Hoadly enters the lists with the advantage of possession and the prestige of having once defeated his competitor in the race. He is well equipped for the struggle, and is less likely to suffer from the presence of a third party, than Judge Foraker. It is, however, by no means certain that he will win. Both the great parties are doing their best to secure victory.

The democratic candidate is a native of Connecticut, born at New Haven in the year 1826. After a course of preparatory studies at Cleveland, Ohio, he entered the Western Reserve college at Hudson, in the same state, where was graduated in 1844. He then entered Cambridge Law school, and after supplementary studies in an office, was admitted to the Bar at Cincinnati, in August 1847. His marked success as a student of the law and in practice led to his election, in 1821, as a judge of the superior court of Cincinnati. In 1855 he became city solicitor there, and two years after took his seat as a judge in the new superior court. Between that date and 1866, when he resigned his judgeship to resume practice, he twice declined the honor of seat on the supreme bench of Ohio. In 1873-4 he served in the constitutional convention of that state.

At an early period in his political life Judge Hoadly took sides with those who opposed compulsory Bible reading in the public schools. His earliest political preference was for the democratic party, but he sided with the republicans on the slave question and remained with them until the close of General Grant's second term. He rejoined the democratic party in 1876, and did his best to secure the election of Tilden and Hendricks. In 1877 he was one of the counsel for the democratic electors.

Judge Hoadly has taught in the law school, Cincinnati, and is still a university trustee. He is regarded as one of the best lawyers in the state of Ohio.

Removing Wire Fences.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—It is not the intention of the secretary of the interior to issue any general order regarding the removal of fences from the public lands, but it has been determined to deal with the cases of violation of the law specially. It is believed that better results will be thus obtained than from a general order, which would be looked upon as a proclamation binding upon no one in particular. Special agents of the land office, under instructions to report to the department all cases of illegal fencing, have been sent to the west, and instructions looking to the removal of the fences will be promptly furnished for their guidance. In each case, where the agent is able to effect a removal, he is directed to do so, and when necessary, United States marshals will be called upon through the attorney general. This action was taken to-day, upon the report of an agent showing that a large tract of public land had been illegally fenced in southern Colorado, adjoining the Kansas line. A letter was sent to the attorney general requesting him to cause the United States marshal to remove the fence.

Moving the Cattle.

NEW ORLEANS, September 1.—A Little Rock special to the Times-Democrat says: A dispatch from the Indian territory says the removal of cattle from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations is progressing as rapidly as conditions will permit. Several of the largest owners have removed their entire herds, excepting such stock as escaped the recent round-up. Within the past two weeks more than 75,000 head of cattle have been driven off the reservation, which number added to those already removed will make a total of 100,000. It is estimated that the number remaining is between 70,000 and 75,000 head. These will be taken out as speedily as possible. Only a few days beyond the date fixed by President Cleveland's proclamation will be required to clear the entire reservation of all the cattle which do not rightfully belong there. The cattlemen accept the situation cheerfully, and there is concerted action among them to comply with the executive mandate. The removal will cause a loss estimated all the way from $10,000 to $75,000. The bulk of the cattle are being driven or shipped to Western ranges.

General Howard's Son Shoots Himself—All For Love.

LIVINGSTON, Montana, August 28.—A young man of 19 years, a son of General O. O. Howard, is dying at Fire Hole basin in the park, from the effects of a bullet wound inflicted by himself. He formed a sudden attachment for a young lady he had met in the park, and which she did not reciprocate. Hence the tragedy. The lady's name is not made public, but she is known to have passed through here east-bound with a large party on Thursday. General Howard is with his son.

Will Not Give Gordon Up.

LONDON, August 29.—The belief is growing among the military and other friends of General Gordon that he really escaped alive from Khartoum and succeeded in fleeing to the equator. A mission has been organized to search for and secure him.

Wants a Chicago Connection.

CHICAGO, August 29.—The Canadian Pacific railroad is seeking a Chicago connection. W. C. Andrews, its western agent in this city, says that president Stephen has returned from England determined to have direct communication with Chicago if possible. Whether it will be made by the purchase of existing lines or by building a new one is not yet settled. W. C. Van Horn, vice president of the road, was here recently, and is expected again, shortly, when the plans for communication with Chicago will be matured.

The Census.

WASHINGTON, September 1.—At the last session of congress provision was made for the payment of one-half of the cost of taking the census in such states and territories as might take a decennial census, upon condition that the returns be filed with the secretary of the interior on or before September 1st. The returns from New Mexico have just been received, and are as follows: Population in 1885, 431,980; population in 1880, 110,565; farms in 1885, 10,291; farm in 1880, 5,053; manufacturing establishments in 1885, 239; manufacturing establishments in 1880, 144. Returns from eight counties in Florida have also been received, and complete returns are expected shortly. Up to date the department has received returns from Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska, Florida, and Dakota. It is known that several other states and territories have made a census, but those whose returns failed to reach the department before 4 o'clock will not be entitled to the rebate provided by the appropriation bill.

Repaying a Loan.

MONTREAL, September 1.—To-day the Canadian Pacific Railway company paid the government $5,900,000, loaned last session on a security of $8,000,000.

What Was Tingle's Percentage?

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—The Alaska Commercial company's steamer St. Paul, which arrived last night from Unalaska, brought 99,995 seal skins, valued at over a million dollars. Dr. Willis E. Everett, of the Smithsonian, Washington, was among the passengers.

Supposed Murderer of Baird Captured.

ST. VINCENT, Minn., August 31.—At 2 o'clock this morning Constable Kruse, assisted by Chief Murray, of Winnipeg, arrested, at the Canada hotel, Ed. Kelly, nicknamed "Bulldog" Kelly, for the murder of Robert Baird, of Missoula, Mont. It seems that Baird was carrying $70,000 for some cattle from Montana to some place in British Columbia, and was killed and robbed in the Rocky mountains last December. It is claimed Kelly is the man who committed the murder and that the Canadian authorities have positive evidence Kelly was extradited at once.

Heading off the Canadian Pacific.

ST. PAUL, August 31.—The Northern Pacific earnings for July are $1,100,011; expenses, $549,444; fixed charges of interest, etc., $485,569; surplus, $63,034. The Northern Pacific has advised that the Canadian Pacific has emissaries at work in Montana to secure cattle shipments from the ranges via Maple creek and all the Canadian lines, but will head off the scheme.

The "heading off" business has commenced and it is very interesting to the stock men, resulting in a large reduction in rates of transportation to Chicago.

Business Reviving.

BALTIMORE, September 1.—To-day the cotton mills at Woodbury, four in number, giving employment to upwards of 2,000 operatives, are making arrangements to go to work on full time. The Meadow mill, which has been idle for a year, will start to-day with a full force of 600 and on full time. The Woodbury, Clipper, Park and Druid mills will be run on full time Monday next, as well also the Mount Vernon mill.

An Opinion of the Northern Pacific.

R. R. Cable, president and general manager of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, in an interview, being asked what truth there was in the report that the Rock Island would absorb the Northern Pacific, said:

"So far as I know, there is no truth in the rumor whatever. It was started after I left Chicago, but who started it, or by what means it was started, is more than I can tell you."

"Mr. Cable, you have been on an extended trip throughout the northwest; what is the result of your observations?"

"Well, wherever I have been business looks as if it was improving. The miners seem satisfied everywhere, and crops are excellent all over the country; I think business will improve from this on. In railway circles a bigger business is looked for, but with reduced rates, both in freight and passenger traffic."

"What is your opinion of the Northern Pacific railroad?"

"It is a good property. Much better in fact than I ever supposed it was."
