

Circumstantial Evidence Is the Weakest Kind

By ROGER A. PRYOR, Supreme Court Justice of New York.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL, INFERENCE EVIDENCE IS THE WEAKEST KIND OF EVIDENCE ON WHICH TO DEPEND A HUMAN BEING OF LIFE OR LIBERTY.

An instance or two will illustrate the danger inherent in circumstantial evidence.

On a recent date in New York a young man committed suicide in a theater, and his father-in-law, overcome with horror, ran from the box, to ALL APPEARANCES HIMSELF THE SLAYER.

Had it not been for a note found in the dead man's vest pocket stating that business troubles led him to commit suicide his gray haired companion would have had a HARD TASK IN PROVING HIS INNOCENCE IN FACE OF HIS HURRIED DEPARTURE and the revolver on the floor some distance from the wounded man.

Another case was at Tours, France. An aged rapicker confessed to killing five children whose father years before had DIED IN CONFINEMENT UPON CONVICTION OF THE CRIME.

A strong presumption of guilt was held to exist against the father of the dead children because he had ASPIRED TO THE HAND OF A YOUNG WIDOW WHO FROWNED ON HIS SUIT in view of the incumbrance of so large a family.

IT IS A COMMON SAYING THAT CIRCUMSTANCES CAN'T LIE, BUT THE MAN WHO TESTIFIES CAN LIE.

Moreover, people can DRAW WRONG INFERENCES.

So my conclusion is that circumstantial evidence is, in fact, the WEAKEST KIND.

Simple Housework Offers Most For Women.

By the Rev. Dr. MARK A. MATTHEWS of Seattle, Wash. Pastor of the Largest Presbyterian Church in the United States.

THERE IS NO VOCATION OPEN TO WOMEN WHICH OFFERS SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES AT THE PRESENT DAY AS PLAIN, SIMPLE HOUSEWORK. EVERYWHERE YOU HEAR THE SAME STORY. THE HOUSEWIVES, THE AGENCIES SIMPLY CANNOT SECURE INTELLIGENT HELP, NO MATTER WHAT INDUCEMENTS THEY OFFER.

Girls who might earn $40 or $50 a month—that is, counting the board and room with which they are supplied—in the kitchen of a respectable private family go into a store or shop at $6 a week or go to one of the big hotels at $12 or $14 a month.

Since the earliest times—until these days of apartment hotels—it has been considered woman's highest duty and privilege to LOOK WELL TO THE WAYS OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

The work is peculiarly suited to the constitution of woman, since it is not necessary for her to remain on her feet for long periods at a time and none of the various tasks involves undue physical strain. I am speaking, of course, of the properly conducted household, where the women are not forced to carry heavy loads of water or wood.

But, after all, it is hardly the fault of the uneducated working girl if she LOOKS DOWN ON DOMESTIC SERVICE. It is we who have imbued her with that attitude.

We have done it partly by our TREATMENT OF OUR SERVANTS and partly by OUR OWN SENSITIVE SHRINKING FROM DOMESTIC DUTIES. How many middle class girls there are who, instead of staying at home and helping their mothers cook and sew, as their mothers helped their grandmothers, insist on going downtown to an office and PLAYING WITH A TYPEWRITER FOR A FEW DOLLARS A WEEK IN ORDER TO BE CALLED "BUSINESS WOMEN!"

IT IS A FINE THING FOR A WOMAN TO KNOW HOW TO DO WORK OUTSIDE THE HOME IF SHE IS COMPELLED TO SUPPORT HERSELF THAT WAY, BUT EVERY GIRL WHO HAS A CHANCE TO WORK IN A GOOD KITCHEN IS FOOLISH IF SHE GOES ELSEWHERE. SHE MAY GAIN IN "INDEPENDENCE," BUT SHE LOSES INCALCULABLE IN PROTECTION.

Hero of Present Day Romance Is Ideal.

By Mrs. WILSON WOODROW, Novelist.

NO MOTHER IN AMERICA NEED FEEL ONE BIT OF ANXIETY IF HER DAUGHTER HAPPENS TO FALL IN LOVE WITH THE HERO OF THE PRESENT DAY ROMANCE.

You see, the American woman of today is NO LONGER THE SHRINKING, TIMID FLOWER, the sister to be handled as gently as a piece of Dresden china.

The woman of today is VERY SOPHISTICATED, and, if you please, she wants the men she reads about to possess a certainty of sophistication, a good knowledge of business affairs and to make a real and serious business of whatever he may undertake, whether it is proposing to her or growing turnips.

Every woman falls in love sooner or later, but before she does she has her ideals pretty well fixed and set by the HEROES IN HER FAVORITE BOOKS.

She thinks of them sometimes only in a semiconscious way, but she thinks of them just the same, and times without number she tries her best and many times succeeds in marrying a man who possesses the cardinal points of attraction that have been presented in the novels she is fond of.

EVERY GIRL FALLS IN LOVE WITH THE HERO OF SOME BOOK or books if she is a real girl.

TODAY WE HAVE OUR OWN SPECIAL BRAND OF HERO, AND WE MAY BE PRETTY PROUD OF HIM, FOR HE IS CLEAN, DRAWN FROM LIFE, AN ACTUALITY, AND ANY GIRL COULD FALL IN LOVE WITH ANY ONE OF THE HEROES OF CONTEMPORARY FICTION AND COME TO NO HARM.

THE WORLD TONGUE.

Hardly a Land in Which English is Not Now Heard.

The traveler of today, unless he is going to Tibet or Tierra del Fuego, can get along very well with a knowledge of the English language. The farther he goes the more he is surprised at finding that English is really "the" world tongue.

In France and Spain and Italy the American traveler is craftily "spotted." He is approached on the streets by those who would for a consideration make him feel quite at home. One of his chief worries is to escape the pests who can speak English and who wish to apply his name of the fact. They may not necessarily desire to mull him. Sometimes they are seeking merely to "show off." At any rate, they classify distinctly as bores.

One may go to Smyrna or Constantinople or Beirut and still find the streets plentifully full of English speaking nuisances. At Jerusalem he will be fairly flooded with English. He may penetrate even to Damascus, and he will find at least a befezzed hall porter who can converse glibly with him and any number of fluently willing dragomans.

He may go to Cairo, and in the shadow of the pyramids he will find blue gowned Bedouins speaking more than passable English. He may go hundreds of miles up the Nile and may be steered through the locks of the first cataract by frizzly haired Nubian boatmen who make insistent demands for backsheesh in very intelligible terms.

He may wander donkey back to the tombs of the kings in the Sahara desert and be painfully disillusioned by a few words of concise information or explanation by some barefooted, dusky tent dweller.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Moreover, people can DRAW WRONG INFERENCES. So my conclusion is that circumstantial evidence is, in fact, the WEAKEST KIND.

METEORIC DUST.

Bombards the Earth in an Invisible, Never Ending Shower.

Meteoric dust particles are infinitely finer than grains of sand. They have an interesting origin. Meteors or shooting stars have been bombarding the world from the beginning at a rate estimated at many thousands an hour, of which, however, an average of only five or six are visible to the naked eye in that time.

Owing to our protecting envelope of air few of these missiles reach us. In their weight meteors vary from a few ounces to many pounds. Occasionally one is of sufficient dimensions to survive the passage of eighty to a hundred miles through an atmosphere increasing in density as the earth is approached.

The speed at which they enter the atmosphere, calculated at not less than thirty-five miles a second, generates such intense heat by friction that the iron, of which the meteor principally consists, is immediately reduced to an incandescent vapor, which is the luminous train so frequently seen in the heavens on a clear night. The vapor rapidly cools and condenses in the form of these minute particles, which assume the spherical form, as does shot during its fall from the top of the tower.

Finally the little spheres are scattered by the winds and currents in the upper air and gradually descend in their millions as an invisible, never ending shower. The perfect condition in which these meteors are found is due to the presence of certain non-corrosive elements found by analysis to be present in the metal of meteors which have come to earth.—Chicago Tribune.

A Clever French Captive. A person who was supposed to be the French General Mouton, count de Lobau, was once captured by an English vessel, but after a time the captain discovered that his prisoner was the Count de Montrond. "Why did you deceive me?" he demanded angrily of the count. "I did not deceive you," replied Montrond; "not at all. You thought I was General Mouton. You told me so. You have a fifty gun frigate. Was it for me, who have only a pocket pistol, to contradict you?"

The captain did not forgive Montrond and took every opportunity to treat him rudely. One evening at dinner some one proposed the health of the French. As Montrond rose to acknowledge it the captain cried: "They are all cowards! I make no exceptions!" When Montrond's turn came he gave this sentiment, "The English—they are all gentlemen, but I make exceptions."

Bay Rum. Bay rum is manufactured from the dried leaves of Pimento acris. Bay rum is procured by distillation, and this in a very simple manner. The leaves are picked from the trees and then dried. In this state they are placed in the retort, which is then filled with water, and the process of distillation is carried on. The vapor is then condensed in the usual way and forms what is known as "bay oil," a very small quantity of which is required for each puncheon of rum.

He Cited the River. Indignant Wife—You talk about having "meandered all over the neighborhood" while you were waiting for your breakfast. You haven't been out of your bed! Husband (half awake)—Well, didn't you ever see a river meander without getting out of its bed?—Chicago Tribune.

Turning the Tables. He (after a quarrel, bitterly)—I was a fool when I married you. She—I knew it, but I thought you would improve.—Exchange.
