

Joseph P. Tumulty, Wilson's Secretary, Is Self Made Man

In view of the studied, persistent and dauntless silence of President Elect Wilson as to his thoughts on the probable personnel of his cabinet, the selection recently of Joseph P. Tumulty to be his secretary was important.

The glare of publicity that has been turned upon Mr. Tumulty reveals him as a wonderfully vigorous, effective, self-made man. He is eminently well fitted for the position he will hold when President Wilson enters the White House.

Mr. Tumulty will be the youngest man who has held the important post of secretary to the president. He is only thirty-three years old, but has had a training in politics the greater part of his life, far greater than that of an ordinary man.

Mr. Tumulty will have to give up a profitable law practice. The salary of secretary is only $6,000 a year, but it is believed that before congress adjourns it will be increased to $10,000. The position is one of importance.

Mr. Tumulty has been the confident and political adviser of President Elect Wilson from the time that he gave up the presidency of Princeton to become governor of New Jersey. It was mostly on his advice and suggestion that Governor Wilson was enabled to steer safely through the tortuous shoals of politics which he encountered in the first few months of his administration. When asked if he had any more to say regarding the selection of Mr. Tumulty as private secretary the president elect said that so far as he could learn "it had given unanimous satisfaction."

Mr. Tumulty was born in Jersey City on May 5, 1870. He comes from a family which lived in Jersey City over half a century, the greater part of which time they have been prominent politically. His father, Philip Tumulty, was a member of the assembly in 1887 and 1888.

Mr. Tumulty, the younger, received his political training in the old Bob Davis school in Jersey City, where he learned the machine side of the political game, the knowledge of which has made him so valuable an assistant to Mr. Wilson, who has made warfare on this kind of politics since his election to the governorship of New Jersey.

Mr. Tumulty was elected to the lower house of the New Jersey legislature in 1907 and served four terms. He was a member of that trio of independent Democrats in the legislature who were not allowed themselves to be controlled, so far as their votes on bills were concerned, by Davis or the members of the machine.

Governor Wilson was attracted to Mr. Tumulty by the reports which reached him regarding his ability as an orator and a debater. Their first real meeting was in the campaign of 1910, when Mr. Wilson was a candidate for governor of New Jersey and was scheduled for a speech at Phillipsburg, just across the Delaware river from Easton. Mr. Tumulty was also one of the speakers at this meeting, and after it was over he and Mr. Wilson had a heart to heart talk which made them fast friends. From that time until after Mr. Wilson's election as governor, Mr. Tumulty campaigned the state day and night, but had no idea that he would be asked to become Governor Wilson's secretary.

Mr. Tumulty married Miss Mary Byrne on June 1, 1902. They have six children, two boys and four girls, the oldest of whom is nine years and the youngest two months. Mr. Tumulty at the present time lives in the Fifth ward of Jersey City, the ward in which he was born and in which he got his first start in politics.

The selection of Mr. Tumulty is looked upon by many as an indication of President Wilson's future policy. It is argued that the president will seek to surround himself with men of strong constructive tendencies. He will not be particular about having academic men so much as about having workers.
