RESOLUTIONS.

As Adopted by the Republican Convention of Ravalli County.

Resolved by the Republican of Ravalli County in convention assembled.

That we would offer to the party throughout the State, and promise to do our best to carry out every victory which our party may win.

That we deplore the retrograde condition of the country caused by the tariff of 1892, and that we will do our best to elect a Democratic administration.

That we denounce the present Democratic administration as utterly incompetent to conduct the affairs of the nation at home or abroad.

That we denounce the present Democratic administration as utterly incompetent to conduct the affairs of the nation at home or abroad.

TODAY AND NOW.

On June 17, 1892, about eighteen months after the McKinley tariff went into operation, the New York Press made mention of the fact that 55,000 looms and 250,000 spindles, attended by 25,000 people, were turning out cotton goods in the city of Fall River alone.

The people of Fall River know how false this declaration was concerning the iron trade, and the whole country knows that it was false in a general sense.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Mr. C. B. Wasker is the populist candidate for congress in the Seventh Missouri district. He needs to keep his eye on the wind.

Now watch the people of this glorious but trust-ridden country pitch the Jumbos out of the ship of state within the next sixty odd days.

The one thing lacking in the tariff deal was a lemon crust. With the whisky and sugar combined it would have made a sort of 'whisky smash,' so to speak.

In previous campaigns republicans labored to persuade workmen that protection was their friend. No persuasion is necessary this year.

There have been so many things in our exchanges the past week which are worthy of thoughtful consideration of our readers, that we gladly give some of them prominence in the editorial columns.

Let's see. The newspapers became outrageous because everything in the republican party did not suit them.

The ladies and the respectable element in the democracy of the blue grass region of Kentucky last Saturday dawned Breckinridge, the hoary old libertine, and Owens will represent that district in the next congress.

Is anything the matter with that other tooth, doctor? No, sir. It aches out of sympathy.

That faint yet distinctly audible buzzing sound toward the sunset, is merely the whizzing of a large and varied assortment of men axes in numerous congressional districts.

The soul of the reconstructed St. Louis Republic is terribly tired at the revelation of a case of pension fraud in that city, and the Globe-Democrat does not bring consolation by adding that this pension was granted last February by the Hoek Smith cabinet.

Henry Wareham last week purchased 3,000 jacks for $1 per head. Two years ago Mr. Wareham sold the same class of jacks for $2.25 per head.

Shakespearean quotations have been flying around the United States senate a great deal of late, but no one has ventured, in discussing the subject of sugar, to bring forward the verse from "Hamlet" beginning: "With devotion's visage and pious action, we do sugar o'er the devil himself."

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

Delegate Rawlins, of Utah, has been renominated by the democrats. The Nevada democrats are all split up and have put two tickets in the field.

Robert J., the pacing wonder, went a mile in 2:01 last week at Terre Haute.

The Corbett-Jackson fight is off, and the stake money has all been taken down.

Col. Thomas C. Lawler, of Rockford, Ill., was elected commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

A farmer named Rickman killed his wife and stepson at Roseburg, Ore., last Wednesday.

Maine went republican by an increased majority, and all four republican congressmen are re-elected.

The republican congressional convention of the Second Colorado district nominated ex-Senator Thomas M. Bowen for congress.

Captain W. R. Bridgeman, late commander of the cruiser Baltimore, who arrived at San Francisco a month ago on leave of absence, died from Asiatic fever, contracted in Korea.

Don Pio Pico, the last Mexican governor of California, died at Los Angeles Wednesday morning. He was 91 years old.

A dispatch from Ukiah, Cal., of the 14th says: "The Idaho stage was held up this afternoon ten miles north of this city by a masked highwayman. Wells-Fargo's box was taken, but the amount of treasure secured is unknown."

ishop G. A. Smith of the Mormon church passed through Dennison, Texas, recently on his way to Mexico. He said the center of the Mormon church would be in Mexico, where a powerful hierarchy greater than in Salt Lake would be established.

Another eruption of the Colima volcano, on the Pacific coast, south of Guadalajara, Mexico, is threatened and the inhabitants of the adjoining valley are in a state of excitement.

THAT LOUISIANA BOLT.

An Influential Southern Paper Thinks There is Good Cause for Such Action. If the Louisiana seceders finally leave the Democratic party, the republicans will add to their strength in the south a content whose respectability and influence cannot be doubted.

The planter proposes to unite with the republicans upon the national issues, mainly, the chief consideration being the protection given to the principal industry of the state by the republicans—an industry which the Louisianians believe to be menaced by Democratic tariff legislation in the near future.

Nobody will question the right of the Louisianians to act as they please in this most important matter. They are perfectly justified in doing whatever in their opinion is for the best interests of their state.

The strongest kind of free trade doctrine is preached by South Carolina democrats, but when it comes to putting rice on the free list the farmers of South Carolina rise up in a body and threaten to bolt the party.

We should be sorry, indeed, if the Louisiana planters should join the republican ranks, but we can think of no argument against their course which is sufficient to condemn them if they honestly believe protection to be the only salvation of their special industry.

In Russia people may not wed the fourth time after they are 80 years old. In France the wife whose husband objects seriously to her going on the stage makes herself liable to divorce by persisting in her artistic desire. In Germany and Rumania "insuperable aversion" is enough.

In Portugal civilization touches the high water mark. There if a wife publishes literary works without the husband's consent the law frees him at once.
