Coats

You Can Pick out the Wearers of THE ADLER Rain Coats

They Don't Have to Seek Shelter, for an ADLER RAIN COAT is the Most Efficient Rain Protector Ever Devised, Yet has the Appearance of a Dressy Top Coat or Overcoat.

These rain coats are made of high quality of rain-shedding cloth. Before the coats are made this cloth goes through a waterproofing process which makes it the most thoroughly protective and dressy fabric that it is possible to produce. : : : :

THE ADLER RAIN COATS are exceptionally durable, light and comfortable. They are made in all accepted styles, but the closed front or Military collar is now in fashion. It is the logical style for American Weather. : : : :

$10.00 to $25.00

The Roosevelt Rain Coat, made of Brown Duck, well lined, thoroughly water proof, an excellent wearer, an excellent work coat $6.00

Local News

Louis Penwell spent several days the fore part of the week in Harlowton. Louis has always something doing.

Ralph Broderick, who was one of the firm of Olney and Broaderick in the confectionary business here for some time transacted business in Harlowton the fore part of the week. Mr. Broderick is now employed as a clerk in Kendall, he returned to his home Monday afternoon.

O. W. Beldon came down from Lewistown Saturday and returned in the evening.

Mel Stevens came in Sunday with Louis Penwell from the ranch and spent the day in town.

Attorney Mettler one of the firm of DeKalb & Mettler of Lewistown was a business visitor Tuesday. He made a trip to Roundup before returning.

A party from Twodot among whom were C. P. Tooley, Mr. Robertson and Dr. Tice drove over in an auto Sunday and after shaking hands with a few of the boys returned in the twilight.

Do you wear the Burlington Hosiery? If not, Why not. Call and see it at the Urner Merc. Co.

Both ends of the firm of Tooley & Baxter attended the Odd Fellows blowout last Monday night.

Horace Kelley of Shield's river transacted business here Monday. Mr. Kelley is one of the Shield's river ranchmen who are smiling over the prospects of getting a new line of railroad into their country.

George Pennell, the civil engineer of Roundup was here between trains Tuesday on his way to Lewistown.

The Caine girls have moved from the Graham residence west of town to the Godfrey residence on the hill.

Mrs. Frank Cameron from Irene was a prominent business visitor Tuesday and Wednesday.

Out of the 150 Italians and Bulgarians that lifted the old Jaw Bone Tracks, there didn't appear to be one black hand artist in the bunch.

Johnny Spring the agent for the Royal Tailors came in from Roundup the fore part of the week where he had been doing a land office business.

Thomas Cummings came in from his ranch north of Cruse the fore part of the week, and reports that the lane in that section is pretty well taken up.

Miss Rena Hayes, the teacher at Winnecook passed through Thursday on her way to White Sulphur Springs where she will try the teacher's examination.

T. F. Patterson, the real estate agent from Judith Gap spent Wednesday in town. It was his initial trip here, and was surprised to find that Harlowton had gone ahead so fast.

Attorney Mettler of Lewistown came in from Roundup Thursday morning. He says that Roundup people think they have it on us for growth, but Mr. Mettler thinks Harlowton beats the coal camp on build-ings.

E. M. Jenzen has purchased an interest in the Clark and Galvin saloon building now being erected. Mr. Clark will go out of the saloon business. It was erroneously reported that D. L. Moody had entered the partnership.

Mrs. A. S. Godfrey and children will leave the latter part of the week for Forsyth, where Mr. Godfrey now has a situation. We will be reluctant to lose Mrs. Godfrey as she is a talented lady and is especially popular in musical circles. The girls seem to be glad to make the change.

Ben Stevens has at last paid his election bet to Miss Elizabeth Brown. The bet was a hat, and naturally the odds were against Ben. That's what you get for betting with a lady, you nearly always have to pay the bet anyhow. In this case Miss Brown won fairly as Edwin L. Norris, her candidate, won out.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hughes will move to Dorsey very shortly. Mr. Hughes has secured a position there as agent for the Milwaukee Company. He is an experienced railroad man and will undoubtedly make good in his new location. Mr. Hughes was employed for some time as bookkeeper in the Urner Mercantile Company.

W. Cooper, the popular barber who is now on the job in the Graves Hotel Barber shop, made a trip to Helena during the week to bring his family here. Mr. Cooper is a good sort of a chap, beside being able to handle the snare drum in good shape, he bids fair to become one of the fast ones on the Harlowton ball team.

Mrs. Kleber and her two daughters came in from Helena the fore part of the week and will aid Mr. Kleber in getting the hotel ready for the opening. Work on the hotel is being rushed so that the formal opening may held in May. The Kleber family were very popular while in White Sulphur and at the Summit, and Harlowton people will be glad to welcome them into society here.

Bert Fisher has just received word from his brother W. C. Gregory who is in the employ of the Western Pacific as Chief Clerk that his headquarters have been moved from Salt Lake to Elko, a town of about 1,500, in Nevada. Walter has a large force of clerks under him and is highly respected by the officials of the road. He states that he is doing well and enjoys the work. This speaks well for a former Harlowton boy.

D. E. Biggs, father of Mrs. George Courtney, has been spending a few days in town visiting with the young folks. Mr. Biggs' home is in Busco, Illinois.

D. C. Dreyer of Glendive who is interested in the Stevens-Dreyer Hardware Co. came in on Wednesday's train from Glendive to look after a few business matters.

Louis Penwell went to Helena Thursday and expects to be back Sunday. Mr. C. B. Witter arrived here from Helena Thursday to represent Mr. Penwell's interests during his absence.

Roundup beat us to that experimental farm, but Harlowton harbors no jealousy, and wishes Roundup the best of success in this undertaking.

Allen Ross went to Lewistown Wednesday where he has accepted a position in the Pallas Royal, the swell confectionary of Lewistown.

J. N. Kleber will open up the rooms in the Graves Hotel the first of May. The rooms have been well finished and furnished, and the accommodations are first class. Mrs. Kleber and the girls will do all in their power to make things as comfortable as possible for guests.
