

TO ADVERTISE THE MUSSELHELL

S. W. Teagarden Sells Harlowton and Neighboring Towns 30,000 Copies of Advertising Literature.

Sam W. Teagarden of the Teagarden Publicity Bureau, was in Harlowton the fore part of the week, working on a boost edition on the Musselshell Country, which will be published by the publicity bureau he conducts at Lewistown. The edition will be entirely on the Musselshell Valley, and will contain many good pictures. It will also have several page writing on Harlowton together with illustrations of our stone business blocks.

A short time ago Mr. Teagarden published a booster edition on the Judith Basin. Over 60,000 copies were sold and distributed in the east. It was one of the best pieces of advertising literature ever gotten out in Montana, and the edition on the Musselshell Country will undoubtedly be just as good, if not better.

The Commercial Club at this place took 10,000 copies, and other business men in the city took a large number. Altogether there will be about 20,000 sold in this place. Shawmut took 10,000, and it is also thought that Twodot and Martinsdale will take some. Mr. Teagarden states that before he will get through, the total amount will reach the 60,000 mark. One can not begin to realize what a big benefit this will be to the entire Musselshell Valley.

FOUND GUILTY

After Being Out Three Hours Jury Returns a Verdict of Guilty.

No trial in the local justice court has attracted more interest than the case of the State of Montana against Jay Clark which was tried last Saturday before a jury. A charge of assault in the third degree was preferred against J. Clark, who was represented by J. H. Duffy, a noted criminal lawyer from Anaconda.

The trial began at 10 o'clock a. m. and continued until 11 o'clock p. m. and was hotly contested throughout. There were so many witnesses and spectators at the trial that the Urner hall was engaged. The evidence showed that Clark and Bermudtz became engaged in a quarrel in the Clark saloon, and that it was agreed that they should fight it out, and with this intention the parties went to corner of Eckles ave. and Fourth street. There were two separate fights. At the end of the first Bermudtz threw a rock at Clark, who returned, and after about ten minutes left Bermudtz in an unconscious condition. Evidence showed that Clark had struck him after he was down, but it was not certain that he was unconscious at the time.

The hall was crowded with spectators while the trial was in progress, who listened with intense interest. Many tilts were had between Attorney Duffy and Deputy County Attorney Husband. The former displayed great skill in presenting his case on the grounds of self defense, but his manner of debate was often offensive. The people of Harlowton were pleased with the able manner in which Attorney Husband conducted the prosecution against big odds. His final argument to the jury was forceful and effective and the stand taken for the suppression of lawlessness in Harlowton was well brought forth.

Shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday morning, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed a fine of Twenty-seven dollars and a half and the costs of prosecution. Attorney Duffy gave notice of appeal in open court, and the appeal bond was filed Monday afternoon. The case is now the district court.

It will take about three months to have the line in running order. This will be a great improvement for the Milwaukee Railroad Company.

JOINT DEBATE A GREAT SUCCESS

County Seat Removal Question Debated in Opera House Wed. Evening.

The Harlowton Commercial Club original in many ways, inaugurated the county seat removal fight in a novel manner by having the question discussed in a joint debate last Wednesday evening. The debate was to have occurred on Monday evening, but owing to one of the numbers of the lecture course coming on that date, it was postponed till Wednesday evening.

The question debated was: "Resolved that the County Seat should be removed from White Sulphur Springs to Harlowton." The leader for the affirmative was O. J. Stevens, who chose L. D. Glenn substitute. The other two affirmative speakers were T. E. Kirby and Attorney W. C. Husband. A. T. Anderson was the leader of the negative, being ably supported by I. S. McQuitty and Attorney E. P. Conwell.

Attorney L. D. Glenn opened the debate for the affirmative by outlining the manner in which the question would be discussed from the affirmative standpoint. He showed Harlowton was becoming a trade center, and the town of prominence, and situated in a locality that contributed a large part of the county's business.

Mayor A. T. Anderson opened the negative side. He stated that all the speakers of the negative were speaking against their convictions, and in that respect were handicapped. He showed that White Sulphur had many advantages as a county seat. Its buildings both public and private were substantial and costly. The speaker in a forceful style showed the injustice of cutting off White Sulphur just because it was 18 miles from the railroad.

T. E. Kirby in a witty and humorous manner answered the arguments advanced by A. T. Anderson. Mr. Kirby

J. Collins West, E. B. Campbell, C. Yegen, R. E. Shepherd, and W. A. Selvidge, of Billings; W. Bickford, E. C. Lorgey, of Butte; J. McCarthy, of Bozeman; Frank Smith, of Helena; W. R. Allen, of Anaconda; A. W. Miles, of Livingston; W. A. Talmage, of Red Lodge; J. M. Kieth, of Missoula; C. E. Murphy, of Great is an old resident of White Sulphur, and had the advantage of first hand knowledge as to the town and vicinity. He stated that the town was a back number, and was on the decline, that there was no more chance for a railroad now than there was thirty years ago, and there was none then.

Attorney E. P. Conwell in a pleasing speech argued that the increase in taxes which could be caused by the removal was the objectionable feature. He showed that after all it was not an inconvenience to go to the county seat as very few went over there since a telephone line was built. He finished in a humorous way by saying that he didn't believe what he was saying.

I. S. McQuitty continued for the negative. He showed that it was not a good move at the present time to change the seat of county government because a railroad was about to be built from Dorsey to White Sulphur which would take away all objections to having the county seat at White Sulphur. The speaker had sound arguments for the negative.

Attorney W. C. Husband closed the debate. Although humorous at times, his speech was more argumentative than the others. He took up annual statements for Meagher County, and showed that the increase in taxes would not be as great as many thought that. He showed the present economic waste due to the county seat being off the railroad would in three years duplicate the county buildings at Harlowton. He stated that it was expedient that the change be made because Harlowton was the center of population, assessable property, business, communication and progress.

During the debate the Majestic Orchestra rendered several catchy airs that enlivened the occasion.

A meeting of the Executive Committee is hereby called to be held at Billings, March 19, at 2 o'clock p. m. to make preliminary arrangements for the convention, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the committee. Edwin L. Norris, Governor.

COUNTY FAIR FOR HARLOWTON

Local Wires Being Pulled for a Fair for Next Fall, the Flat West of Town as Grounds.

LAUNCH NEW BUSINESS

Mrs. Flora Ross Will Be the Proprietress of Hair Parlor and Dress Making Establishment.

On March 15th Mrs. Flora Ross will open a hair dressing and dress making establishment in the building north of T. F. Hanslik's barber shop. Mrs. Ross needs no introduction to people of this vicinity. She has had charge of parlors in Lewistown and other points, and has built up an enviable reputation for skill in her line. The business people here are glad to welcome Mrs. Ross into business circles. She has the well wishes of all.

Joe Bechard and his son and two daughters arrived from Canada the forepart of this week. Mr. Bechard has been spending the winter in Canada, but has now returned to make Harlowton his home again.

Richard Wright, contractor, purchased a shop from Joe Williams, which he will use for an office.

ROUNDUP VS. HARLO

Coal Town and Railroad Town Will Clash in Basketball in Harlowton Opera House Next Sat.

A series of basket-ball games has been arranged to be played between the team representing the Athletic Association of Roundup and the Harlowton Athletics. The first game of the series will be played in Harlowton next Saturday night, March 19th. The next game will be played at the coal town, and the battle-ground of the final game of the series will be decided by the lot.

During the fore part of the winter considerable enthusiasm was aroused over basket-ball, but owing to the seeming supremacy of the Harlowton Athletics, enthusiasm began to lag and for some time no games have been played. The patrons of the game will be glad to learn that the series with Roundup has been arranged. The sport itself breaks the monotony of the humdrum life of business, and Harlowton, owing to the political aspirations of the two towns, is anxious to get into close relations with Roundup.

The game next Saturday night will be played in the Opera House. The doors will open at 8:30 and the game will probably begin at 9:00 o'clock or perhaps later in order to give those employed in the stores and shops an opportunity to see the game.

Sir Arthur K. Wilson.

New First Sea Lord of the Admiralty an Old Salt.

Sir Arthur Knyvet Wilson, the new first sea lord of the British admiralty and virtual commander of the entire British navy, has a record going back as far as the Crimean war. He succeeded Admiral Sir John Fisher.

Harlowton wants a county fair this year, and wants it badly. Already steps have been taken to organize a county fair association and another month passed the idea that was launched by several large ranchers merely as a joke, will be incorporated in a successful project.

Several large ranchers and land men have signified their intentions of contributing liberally, and already $3,000 in subscriptions to start the ball rolling is in sight. Mr. Graves will donate the flat west of town for the grounds. This will make a splendid site, as the trees close by and the river would add to the beauty of the place.

The Lewistown Daily News commenting on the project says:

Harlowton is located in the center of fine stock, mining and farming region, and a fair that would have exhibits of each of these industries, would be worth seeing.

Good race horses can be obtained, and there is no reason why a county fair in Meagher County would not be a success.
