THRESHERS AND FARMERS CAN BUY MONTH'S SUPPLY OF FLOUR AND SUGAR

Special regulations governing the distribution of food to threshing crews were announced last evening by Federal Food Administrator E. F. Ladd as a result of inquiries which have been coming in from all sections of the state.

During the threshing season farmers and ranchers living long distances from stores, and threshing crews will be allowed to buy a 30-day supply of flour and sugar. This class of workers may buy sugar on the basis of three pounds per person per month and flour on the basis of 2 3-4 pounds per person per week.

Farmers may take their own wheat to the mill or elevator and exchange it for flour without substitutes on the basis of 8 pounds per person per month for each member of household or establishment, providing the farmer signs an affidavit as outlined in Bulletin No. 85 which has been sent to all millers and elevators of the state. This privilege is also extended to the farmers threshing crew.

Farmers will also be allowed to purchase flour hereafter on the same basis as city bakers, that is with 25 per cent of substitutes instead of the 50-50 basis. This exception is made to give the farmer the same privilege as the people of the city who may buy victory bread from the bakery which contains only 25 per cent of substitutes.

It is essential that the farmers be given the opportunity to have sufficient food supplies to carry them through the threshing season without waiting time making frequent trips to town for flour and sugar" said Federal Food Administrator Ladd in announcing the new regulations.

Will Aid Threshers

Threshing crews are now preparing to purchase their season's supplies of flour and sugar. It will not be possible for them to use the substitutes for flour and sugar as can be done in the kitchens in private homes in the towns and cities and it was deemed unwise to handicap the man who race the heavy responsibility of getting this vitally important crop safely garnered, by new limitations on their food supply.

"The threshing season is now over in many of the states to the south, while with us it is just beginning. In these other states the men who have garnered the crops have been allowed three pounds of sugar per month. North Dakota and Montana harvesters and threshers are entitled to the same treatment."

Bulletins governing the new regulations will go to all merchants of the state and to all county and local food administrators immediately.

SHERIDAN COUNTY TO HAVE FINE EXHIBIT AT HELENA

Sheridan County, the county that produced one-seventh of all the grain raised in Montana in 1916, will have a wonderful exhibit at the State Fair at Helena this year. This may come as a surprise but County Exhibit Agent L. S. Olson will vouch for it.

Mr. Olson has already done a wonderful work for this county by his methods of collecting and exhibiting grains, grasses and vegetables, and he has this season secured what he terms the best collection of exhibits. Although he has not secured any threshed grain, he has now about 60 varieties of grass and 25 varieties of grain in sheaf. Farmers who want to see the advancement of Sheridan county to their material benefit should get in touch with Mr. Olson at Plentywood and if any producer has some good grain, grasses or vegetables, he should not fail to send it to L. S. Olson, the county exhibitor, as soon as it is ripe, making the grain twice the size of an ordinary bundle. Every exhibit that can be secured will help to advertise Sheridan county.

William J. Bryan's Commoner printed an article on Sheridan county in 1916, describing its newness, the transition from grazing to agriculture, and the fact that it produced one-seventh of all the grain raised in the state and more flax than in the world on a similar area.

INVEST IN W.S.S.

America loves peace. Always loved peace. Always will love peace. Loves it with an honest, fervent love. Loves it like you love your wife and children and will defend and fight for it as you would fight for them. Oh yes! we love peace. Love it so strong that we will shed our blood in order to attain it.

Vast numbers of our boys are on the battle lines and many more will follow them. Maybe your brother, your son, or your sweet heart is one of them. They go bravely, gayly, full of youth and vigor. Many will never return. Many will return with a leg or a hand. Some will be blind and some are demented. They will be living mementos to remind us that there is something that America loves more than her beloved peace and that is her honor.

Will you be able to look into the eyes of a young man who has been crippled by the war and know that you did your part to help defend that honor? Are you casting aside pleasures that you may loan those who fight? Are you doing yourself some of the little extra efforts that your money thus may be loaned to the Government to buy the necessary food for the boys who fight? Are you actually sacrificing just a little, loaning money to your Government, the savings that these boys may have the best guns and an unlimited supply of ammunition? Remember that things will bring back the sons of brothers and the sweethearts, and sound. Save and loan money to the Government that the boys may be provided with necessary things which save their lives, just as you and I will save others to loan their money to us when our turn comes to stand a rifle and go forth to battle.

money they invest will keep wives from being widows and children from becoming orphans. You do less for them than you can be done for you? Remember that America's honor is made. Let jewel bright. Dim not its lustre selfishness.

Yes, we fight and we shall fight because we fight for honor and for justice, for equality, not for ourselves alone but for all the people of the entire world. We fight for and must win. It is your privilege, my privilege, the privilege of the oldest, the youngest, the poorest and richest all to help win this war. It is our privilege today, and every day to aid by saving non-essentials and investing money in War Savings Stamps using your privilege today.
