NORWAY'S QUEEN HAS CLOSE CALL

ALARMING ACCIDENT MARS VISIT OF HAAKON AND MAUD TO PARIS.

HORSES PLUNGE OVER BRIDGE

PROMPT ACTION OF GEN. MICHEL SAVES QUEEN AND WIFE OF PRESIDENT.

Paris, May 31. — An alarming accident marred the visit of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway to Versailles yesterday. Their majesties were accompanied by President and Mme. Fallieres. Queen Maud, Mme. Fallieres and Gen. Michel were in one landau drawn by four horses. As the carriage was crossing the low, narrow bridge in the park that leads over Lake Marie Antoinette to the Swiss village near Petit Trielion the horses suddenly became frightened and commenced plunging furiously. The bridge is without rails, low stone copings taking their place.

Plunged Over Bridge. First one horse fell into the water and the continued plunging of the others carried two more over the side of the bridge. The postillions went with them.

In the meantime the ladies were greatly alarmed. Gen. Michel, realizing the danger, burst open the door of the landau and half helped, half carried the queen and the wife of the president out of the carriage and to the end of the short bridge. The general's action was none too prompt, for just as the ladies were in safety the oscillating carriage followed the horses into the lake.

Haakon to the Rescue. Shouts from the postillions had told King Haakon and President Fallieres, who were in another carriage, that something was wrong, and they hastened back. Upon perceiving the danger the king threw off his hat and coat and was ready to leap into the water, but this was not necessary. The ladies were not hurt, although they were much agitated and nervously shaken.

Foreign Minister Pichon gave a dinner at the foreign office last night in honor of the visiting sovereigns.

THEY WERE QUITE CORRECT.

Equipment of the Family Easily Proved It.

A Washington correspondent told the other night a story that he claimed to have heard from President Roosevelt at Gridiron Club dinner.

"Two women," he said, "were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the most sumptuous houses in their city.

"They seem to be very rich," said the first.

"Oh, they are," said the second.

"Shall you call?"

"Decidedly."

"You are sure are you, that they are—quite correct, quite—good form?"

"Oh, my dear, I'm positive," said the second woman. "They have thirty servants, eighteen horses, twelve dogs, eleven automobiles, and one child."

THE NEW INSURANCE AGENT.

He Comes in With the New Law—Paul Morton on His Opportunity.

The new insurance law of the State of New York has opened up a promising field for both men and women with brains and energy in the sale of life insurance. The law now provides standard forms of policies, each of which practically bears the hall mark of the State of New York, and this new order of things has established the sale of life insurance on a correct basis.

The prohibition against rebating and extravagant allowances to agents has driven out of the business the old type of insurance agent, who in many cases virtually bought business, with large rebates, instead of selling it. His place is being taken by professors, lawyers, school teachers of both sexes, and others, who find that being a life insurance agent under the new system offers greater reward than their previous vocations. The law has reduced commissions but all of the commission now goes to the agent. Life insurance is something that everyone needs and under the present system its sale is being conducted with becoming dignity and propriety.

Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has taken the lead in building up an agency organization that is in keeping with the demands of public sentiment, and the standard he has set for his company. He says: "We want new agents, both men and women, but none except energetic, able and truthful people need apply. For such there is a splendid opportunity."

Mr. Morton's policy of injecting new and vigorous blood into the agency force of the Society is meeting with success in all parts of the country.

Furnish King Alfonso His Wine.

The Gordons are said to have the right to all eternity to supply wine to the royal house of Spain. This family has been in Spain as wine growers more than 100 years, although they still own the ancestral estate of Wardhouse, in Aberdeenshire, says the London Chronicle.

They have contracted aristocratic marriages, and the present representative of the family, Rafael Gordon, who lives in Madrid, has named his first born after King Alfonso, while his mother, the Countess de Mirasol, is lady-in-waiting to Queen Christina. King Alfonso, who visited Mr. Gordon's aunt during his stay in the North, did not hesitate to play the part of wine merchant himself in praising the virtues of sherry.

Doubly a Record.

The country station master was walking up and down the platform with an air of a director.

"Wonderful floods," he exclaimed as he lifted his hat to an extra jaunty angle. "Beat the records in two ways."

"In two ways?" queried a dripping passenger.

"Washed out the level crossing for the first time in living memory for one, and made the seven-sixteen late for another," came the explanation.

"That's only one way," growled the passenger. "Nobody ever remembers the seven-sixteen to have been prompt."

"Very likely," agreed the proud official, resuming his strut; "but this is the first time we've been able to find a decent excuse."

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment, a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food, known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

MRS. GOULD ASKS TOO MUCH ALIMONY

HOWARD GOULD WANTS DIVORCE, BUT WILL NOT PAY WHAT SHE DEMANDS.

HER MAIL IS TAMPHERED WITH

MRS. GOULD MAKES COMPLAINT TO UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES.

New York, May 31.—Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Howard Gould, stated last night that his client had never asked for a settlement, on her of $4,000,000 from her husband.

"However," said Mr. Shearn, "at the time that the Goulds separated I had a conference with Delancy Nicoll, counsel for Mr. Gould, and we discussed the matter of alimony for Mrs. Gould, but no such sum as $4,000,000 was asked."

Mr. Nicoll said yesterday that he had a conference with Mr. Shearn and that Mrs. Gould's demands had been submitted to him.

Asks Too Much.

"When I went to Mr. Gould and told him what the demands were," said Mr. Nicoll, "he laughed and said that he would never consent to paying such a large amount."

A close friend of Mr. Gould said last night:

"Mr. Gould has no wish to air his personal affairs in the newspapers. He is willing to live apart from his wife and meant to have the case conducted in a legal and dignified manner. Mr. Gould is willing to make a sufficient allowance to his wife."

The Gould case has been dropped by police headquarters, according to a statement made there yesterday.

Mail Tamped With.

The fact that Mrs. Gould complained that her mail had been tampered with is causing more or less comment. Mr. Shearn called on United States District Attorney Stimson yesterday and spent an hour with him. Postmaster Willcox said that as yet the postoffice department has had nothing tangible to work on, but that if something was given to them no time would be lost in making a thorough investigation.

NEAR DEATH IN CREEK.

Farmer Rescues Sick Girl and Other Daughter From Vehicle.

Miller, S. D., May 31.—While coming to town for medical aid for one of his daughters, August Schaefer and two daughters miraculously escaped drowning in Wolf Creek, eight miles north of here. The team floundered in the middle of the swollen stream and the three persons became tangled in the blankets and harness. By the use of his pocket knife Mr. Schaefer cut himself out and by seemingly superhuman energy and foresight grasped his daughters and took them to shore. The horses also managed to get out, but the vehicle was lost. It was a severe shock to the sick daughter, who had to travel several miles to the nearest house to find warmth and medical aid.

BOY KIDNAPPED, SAYS FATHER.

Search for Lost Solway Lad Proves Unavailing.

Bemidji, Minn., May 31.—Efforts to locate Johnnie Shepherd, the missing son of John Shepherd of Solway, were redoubled yesterday, but despite every conceivable manner in which the search was conducted no trace of the lost child could be found. The father of the child says it is his belief that the boy has not wandered away, nor has he been killed, but that he has been stolen by persons who hold a grudge against the father. The mystery still baffles solution.

MANGLED UNDER ENGINE.

Fred Chadwick, Switchman, is Killed Instantly.

St. Paul, May 31.—Fred Chadwick, a switchman on the Northern Pacific railway, was instantly killed under the Sixth street bridge at 11 o'clock last night.

Chadwick was on Switch Engine No. 1059 and he had jumped off at a switch. At the same moment a switch engine came along from an opposite direction and struck Chadwick and passed over his body. His skull was fractured and most of the bones in the body were broken.

Girl of Fifteen Kills Self.

King Takes Full Power.

Lisbon, May 31.—The Absolutist regime is now in full operation in Portugal. Yesterday King Charles signed a number of decrees granting subsidies and increasing the salaries of civil servants, etc.

Instantly Killed.

Boone, Iowa, May 31.—Henry C. Leasure, aged twenty-three of Everts, Pa., was instantly killed trying to escape from a clinker pit. Another engine backed into the one he was working on.

Nothing I Ate Agreed With Me.

MRS. LENORA BODENHAMER.

Box 99, Kennerlyville, N.C.

"I suffered with stomach troubles and indigestion for some time, and nothing that I ate agreed with me. I was very nervous and experienced a continual feeling of uneasiness and fear. I took medicine from the doctor, but it did me no good.

"I found in one of your Peruna books a description of my symptoms. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice. He said I had catarrh of the stomach. I took Peruna and Manalin and followed his directions and can now say that I feel as well as I ever did.

"I hope that all who are afflicted with the same symptoms, will take Peruna, as it has certainly cured me."

The above is only one of hundreds who have written similar letters to Dr. Hartman. Just one such case as this entitles Peruna to the candid consideration of every one similarly afflicted. If this be true of the testimony of one person what ought to be the testimony of hundreds, yes thousands, of honest, sincere people. We have in our files a great many other testimonials.
