

THE DAILY ENTERPRISE.

VOL. 1

LIVINGSTON, MONTANA, JUNE 4, 1883

NO. 1

APOLOGETIC

The publishers of The Daily Enterprise have waited long and impatiently for the arrival from St. Paul of materials necessary for the publication of their paper. The presses and a portion of the type was received some days since, but a consignment of equally necessary articles has been delayed beyond all expectation or explanation. Rather than remain longer in idleness, we have concluded to place before you this apology for a newspaper. We may be forced to issue a similar sheet to-morrow, but not later than Wednesday will place before the public The Daily Enterprise in regular form. Until then we ask the forbearance of our patrons, as they may readily understand that the enforced delay is a greater source of annoyance and damage to the publishers than to any other person or persons.

LOCAL LAYOUT

George Miller, of Keokuk, Iowa, has purchased two lots in Riverside and will erect a residence.

Real estate is booming, and Allen Brothers and other real estate men have their hands full.

The district court of the First Judicial district in and for Gallatin county convened today at Bozeman, with a large number of criminal and civil cases pending and to be decided.

The genial countenance of Col. D. H. Robertson, ex-proprietor and owner of the Cosmopolitan theatre at Miles City, M. T., is in town. He is in connection and partnership with Isaac Silverman, to go into the clothing business at their place on Main street.

Attorney J. A. Smith went to Bozeman yesterday to attend the term of District Court for Gallatin county, which convenes to-morrow. He will be absent during the entire week.

If you wish to make a quick sale, list your property with Allen Brothers, who have superior facilities for disposing of bargains.

In the space between the Keg Beer hall and the Parlor restaurant, on Main street, a building is being erected by Mr. Flannery to be occupied as a millinery establishment.

If you wish a big paying, sound investment call or address Allen Brothers, real estate, Livingston, M. T.

Mrs. J. P. Nolan, who has been long suffering from severe illness, went down to Hunters' Hot Springs yesterday to try the restorative qualities of the waters. We hope she may return greatly improved in health.

We offer for a very few days some of the most desirable business lots in Livingston at prices which defy competition.

On Saturday evening and also yesterday morning and evening church services were held in the waiting room of the passenger depot. Rev. Mr. Hoyt of the Presbyterian denomination, and Mr. Riggins, Methodist presiding elder of Montana, were in attendance.

Bill Smith, our town prognosticator, reports that fifty years hence Livingston will celebrate her "Golden Jubilee" anniversary on July 2, 3 and 4 with parades, a round-up, and a pageant. The show, he says, will be a humdinger. All citizens of Montana who are still around at that time are advised to lay their plans to attend.
