

LOCAL LAYOUT.

A large freighting outfit is in town loading with goods for White Sulphur Springs.

Having moved my mill into a fine body of timber I am now prepared to furnish native lumber of every description, size and length. Joists and rafters a specialty. E. Goughnour. 13-6t

Dr. Alton, Dr. A. J. Hunter and Attorney Smith were among the passengers who came up from down the road on today's train.

A splendid assortment of brackets and mouldings just received at the Second street Lumber yard. 13-6t

Bank Terrill, partner with Neil Lane in a large saloon and gambling establishment in Gardiner, is in town to-day buying supplies.

Don't tell your wife about those fine screen doors at Goughnour's. 13-6t

Attorney J. A. Smith is attending another lawsuit at Boulder. Legal business seems to flourish in common with everything else.

Plenty of tar felt at Goughnour's. 13-6t

In very complimentary language, the Husbandman calls its readers attention to the advertisement in that paper of Smith, Hagy & Co., of Livingston.

My time is here, so take a look at those fine screen doors at Goughnour's. 13-6t

S. H. Phelps came down from Gardner to-day. He reports business daily improving in that burg. He says he will be greatly disappointed if it is not a red-hot town during the next two or three months.

OH SAY GO SEE THOSE FANCY Groceries Smith, Hagy & Co., received to-day.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will meet at Mrs. D. Goudy's residence, on the afternoon of Tuesday next (26th inst.). All ladies in Livingston are respectfully invited to give their attendance.

Another car load of sash and doors just received at Goughnour's. 13-6t

The pay car went west to-day attached to the regular train. It will go as far as the end of the track and thence returning, pay eastward, reaching Livingston on Tuesday, when the boys' hearts will be made glad by the receipt of their hard-earned dust.

Painting of every kind, kalsomining, sign writing, etc., and paper hanging done by Kennedy & Co. Shop on Second street, next McDonald & Harvill's meat market. 1-3t

Yesterday, by order of court, a grand jury was summoned to attend at Bozeman to indict Clark, the murderer of Rogers. It looks as though this doubly-dyed villain would meet his reward while the blood of his victim yet cries from the ground for vengeance.

Lawrence & Staff have secured the services of the only first-class tinner in Gallatin county and guarantee satisfaction in this line to customers. 18

At a meeting to be held this evening in Bingham's hall the report of the citizens committee, who lately visited White Sulphur Springs, will be listened to. A full attendance is especially requested as beside this special business other important questions of public interest will be considered.

The Metropolitan Hotel, Main street, is the only hard finished house in town. Barber shop and bath rooms connected with the house. No bar.

J. W. Oakes, of Fargo, and H. A. Langlie, of Portland, Dakota, stopped off the west bound train yesterday to see our friend Dickinson of the Tribune, whom they had long known in the east. They are en route to Spokane Falls, which town seems to be attracting much attention from Fargo people since the boom has left the Red river metropolis.

Step into Lawrence & Staff's and inspect their new stock of silver plated water pitchers and waiters and glassware, without exception the handsomest in the town. 18

The festive house-fly has again multiplied and replenished the earth, till door and window screens are becoming a necessary protection against his familiar attentions. The house-fly attains the fullest development of physical vigor around the average hotel dining-room, where he is ready to compete in the consumption of every viand, and occasionally introduce himself bodily to lend an additional flavor.

Kennedy & Co. do excellent sign work, as well as house painting, lining and kalsomining. 1-6t

The circus posters displayed around town have inspired C. F. Easton, the jeweler, to sketch a scene in a "Montana circus," which is as unique and admirable in its way as anything we have seen on paper. It is only a bucking cayuse, which, with nose to the ground, fore-legs braced and hind-quarters in the air, has just succeeded in dismounting its rider, but the little pencil sketch is so truly a representation of what may be seen almost any day as to attract much interest. It now adorns the ENTERPRISE art gallery.

A civil case of more than ordinary interest is on trial to-day. The parties are Martin & Co. against Oliver & Metcalf, the latter of Livingston. The case involves the claim and delivery of personal property, to-wit, one horse, which the plaintiffs claim was stolen from them and sold to the defendants, but which the latter allege was sold by the plaintiffs to the man Noble, who sold it to Oliver & Metcalf.

New goods arriving at Lawrence & Staff's hardware depot every day. Get their prices and look at their stock before purchasing elsewhere. 18

Some person or persons seemed to be amusing themselves by shooting guns around town last night. This is a breach of the public peace, and if we may be allowed to make a suggestion, should be promptly punished if the offenders can be discovered. Such a free and easy use of firearms can only lead to worse results. The legislature in its wisdom has prohibited the carrying of concealed weapons, and their use in a public place should be deemed much more mischievous.

The Helena Independent now reaches our office the day after it is published. We remember but a few months ago when the Helena dailies were nearly a week old when they reached the Yellowstone valley. Railroad facilities have wrought a great change in Montana—a change which in the days when the few incoming settlers toiled laboriously across the country by means of bull-trains and other almost equally slow methods of transportations must have seemed removed beyond the realms of possibility.

The strike among the carpenters at work on the hotel at Mammoth Springs in the Park was arranged without more than a few hours suspension of work. The men complained of a poor quality of food and of insufficient wages—$3 per day. The superintendent offered them an advance of fifty cents per day and to furnish such food as the market afforded. All but twelve agreed to these terms and returned to work at once. The twelve men who left work came down to Livingston to-day.

A bull train arrived in town to-day and unloaded at the depot over 15,000 pounds of wool. This is the clip from Dr. Parberry's band of 3,020 sheep that were driven through from near Fort Maginnis, and sheared at the mouth of Shields river. The wool is destined for Boston, which, as the emporium of the New England manufacturing districts, is the main wool market of the United States. If we mistake not, this is the first consignment of wool shipped from the Livingston depot—the first of many wool laden trains that during this and succeeding summers will unload the clip of the countless herds pasturing in the country north and east of the town.

Attached to the regular train going west to-day were, beside the pay car, two special cars containing a large number of ladies and gentleman—officials of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad, with their families and friends. The following is a list of the names of those composing the party: Hon. Jas. Smith, jr., president St. Paul and Duluth, Miss Ellie Smith, and Miss Mary Alice Smith, St. Paul; Miss Kate Nelson, Stillwater; Wm. H. Rhawn, vice president St. P. & D. R., Mrs. Wm. H. Rhawn, John F. Smith, Miss M. A. Smith, Benj. Rowland, Mrs. Benj. Rowland, Walter Rowland, Edward B. Orne, Howard Hinchman, Edward W. Mumford Philadelphia. They will go as far west as the end of the track, and thence return eastward. The gentlemen of the party in conversation with our reporter expressed themselves as pleased beyond measure with their ride through the Yellowstone valley—its magnificent natural scenery, apparent fertility and thrifty towns—the latter remark applied especially to Livingston. Some members may remain over on the return trip and visit the Park.

Foreign Compliments to our Citizens.

The Livingston committee who visited White Sulphur Springs a few days ago, seem to have made a good impression, as witness the following extracts from the Husbandman:

One of the pleasantest business men that has visited the Springs for a long time is Geo. N. Smith, of the firm of Smith Hagy & Co., of Livingston. He will never have cause to regret making the acquaintance of the stock raisers and wool growers of the Smith river country.

Frank Bush, of the Northern Pacific land department at Livingston, who spent last Saturday and Sunday at the Springs, expressed himself as highly pleased with our growing village and beautiful valley surrounding. He will come again soon accompanied by his family, and it will give us pleasure to welcome him.

We acknowledge this week a pleasant call from Geo. J. Babson, of the firm of E. R. Dean & Co., of Wickes and Livingston, Montana. Being old-times of the territory, the location of this firm at Livingston is evidence that they have great faith in its future as a commercial point. Recently the firm has opened a large stock of liquors, cigars, bar fixtures, mirrors, etc., and is doing a fine wholesale and retail trade. This extension of business is evidence of prosperity which we are glad to chronicle. Mr. Babson, who is permanently located at Livingston, is a genial gentleman, and we hope he will favor the Springs with visits often.

RIVERSIDE ADDITION,

The best evidence of the quality and popularity of property is in the selection of locations made by actual settlers—parties who bring their families before they buy and are here to stay. We have to-day in Riverside Addition five times as many families who own their property as there are in any other Addition in town. These people come here with their eyes open and money in their pockets. They are under no obligations whatever to any one.

Why, then, do they buy their Residence Lots in Riverside Addition? Simply because it is the pleasantest and most desirable place to live.
