LOCAL LAYOUT

Maguire is editing the Courtier this week, but will soon take over Calfee's National Park show.
 These are fine goods just opened at the St.
 Paul Clothing Store.
 It is reported that snow lies on the ground at Cooke City to the depth of 10 feet. It fell the first part of this week.
 Timothy hay, best Gallatin valley brand, wheat and chop feed always on hand at Billy Miles' feed and sale stables, old prices, as low as the lowest and a little lower.
 T. Marchington has purchased through Allen Brothers two lots in Liberty, on which he will at once erect a hotel.
 These heating stoves of Lawrence & Staffs are cheap, safe and efficient.
 One of the results of the Villard expedition is said to be that the North-Pacific will dispose of 2,000,000 acres of its lands to Germans.
 Lawrence & Staffs are daily receiving their supply of heating stoves.
 Carroll passed through here yesterday morning with the remains of a wife and child, which will be interred at Mrs. Carroll's former home at Lockport, N. Y.
 The Big Horn Stores for fresh oysters J. Chamberlain has been confined in his room during the last day or two by an attack of the slight illness that seems epidemic, but is again attending to business.
 Orschel & Bro., have just received a shipment of fine custom made clothing of all styles and quality. Be sure and see them before sending east for your clothes.
 Prof. Martin's entertainment on Monday night was the best ever given at Billings.—Herald. Prof. Martin will appear at Wetzstein's Opera house this evening.
 These furnishing goods in great variety and at low prices of every description including famous Stetson hat, at the St. Paul Clothing Store.
 Freight cars from the west yesterday were thickly covered with snow, being evidence of the fact that a very storm has made itself felt on most every side of us.
 C. Matheson has just received a heavy con-shipment of California grapes, pears, lemons, apples, coles, tomatoes, cucumbers, fresh and California honey in the comb.
 In the case of J. L. Kane vs. Mrs.
 C. Murphy, counsel yesterday afternoon argued a motion before Judge Welling to dismiss the attachment. A ruling will be made upon the motion this morning.
 The last rose of summer is beginning to fade, and the gentle reminder of a heating stove dealer, Lawrence & Staffs have a fine selection.
 No train left for the Chickory dance last night. In good faith we advertised that one would go, and did not show until a late hour yesterday evening that the programme was not to be carried out.
 Fresh Oysters at the Big Horn Stores.
 Leslie Bates, of Billings, returned last evening, after an arduous trip as far as Mount Washburn, whether he went to subpoena witnesses needed at the district court now in session at Billings.
 Walker & Sherman of the Metropolitan bar compound the best cocktail in Livingston.
 A sociable given under the auspices of the ladies of the M. E. church will be given to-morrow evening at the Merchants hotel. All who attend will be cordially welcomed and made to enjoy themselves.
 A large stock of all kinds of fresh fruit and vegetables, all kinds, confectionery and other groceries.
 A few mornings ago the west bound Northern Pacific train broke in two going across the overhead line at Mullen pass and gave the passengers considerable of a fright. In stopping the passenger cars one of them was partially derailed.
 A large stock of fall and winter clothing just opened at the St. Paul Clothing Store.

The total length of the Muir City tunnel will be 3,620 feet, of which 2,951 feet have been taken out, leaving 659 feet to be bored. It will be completed in about two months, and trains will be running through it by January 1st.

The best Underwear for sale in the town will be found at the St. Paul Clothing Store.

It is understood that bottling works are to be established in Livingston in a short time. The beer will be shipped here from Milwaukee in barrels and bottled for the trade of this and neighboring towns. Further particulars will be given as soon as arrangements are completed.

What are the wild winds saying—only that winter will soon be here, and that Lawrence & Staffs have received a large invoice of heating stoves.

Wakefield & Hoffman's stage and wagon outfit has come down from the Park, as the season's tourist travel, which they have been handling, is practically ended. They have done well financially, during the past season, but expect to do a much larger business another year.

Major Conger, government superintendent of the Park, estimates that about 20,000 persons have visited the Park during the season now ended.
 About one-fourth of them he thinks went by rail and stage, while the others made the trip by private conveyance.

Go to the Metropolitan bar for a good cocktail or anything in the way of drinks or cigars.

Quite a large party of eastern tourists left yesterday morning for the Park. How they are to make the trip much farther than the Springs it is hard to understand, as the snow lies very deep in the upper portion of the Park and the weather is very cold.
 Beside this, no wagons or horses are procurable except by good luck, and then at exorbitant prices.

For fine Residence property, for sale or for rent, enquire of Fred Ward, at the First National Bank. Prices reasonable.

Warren Swetland came down from the Park last night, on his way to Billings to attend court. He has been appointed by the Park Improvement company to take charge of the Mammoth Hot Springs hotel during the winter. He has managed one of the smaller hotels in the Park during the summer.

No trouble to show clothing, hats and caps at the St. Paul Clothing Store.

Col. Rice, of Fort Keogh, and his party, consisting of four ladies and four gentlemen, arrived last evening from the Park, where they have been during a fortnight past. They made the entire circuit of the Park and speak quite as enthusiastically as any returned tourists whom we have met during the entire season. Despite the cold weather the trip seems to have been enjoyed fully, and they reached Mammoth Hot Springs in time to escape the snow storm, though it followed them closely all the way on their trip from the geversers.

I. Orschel & Bro., have just received a large and elegant stock of fall and winter overcoats, Go and see them—"Fits zhust like de paper on de vall."

A gentleman just returned from the Park says that a very heavy snow storm prevailed in the upper portion of that region on Monday and Tuesday, and that at Mount Washburn on the morning of the latter day two and a half feet of snow lay on the ground and the storm continued. The appearance of winter seems to have called out the wild animals of that country, as he says he saw the tracks bear, mountain lion and elk near the trail, though nothing living was visible except a porcupine.

Main street merchants should make an effort to put in crossings at Callender and Lewis streets, especially the former, where the mud in wet weather is always deep and sticky. A very light contribution from each business man would pay the expense and the added satisfaction would be sufficient recompense even without the increased business that would surely come to the street.

The poultry thief is abroad in the land, and is making his presence felt in all directions. This time it is R.
 H. Norton, who mourns the loss of half-a-dozen feathered domestics. He would not have felt their loss very badly had they not been game chickens of a superior breed that he had been raising very tenderly, and he wants his friends to let him know if they see anything around town that looks or tastes like his fowls. There is nothing in the line of petty crime that is more contemptible than chicken thieving, and no criminal more richly deserves punishment than the rascal who sneaks upon his neighbor's hen-coop and wrings the necks of its inmates.

For some months past E. S. Topping has been publishing in the Bozeman Chronicle a series of articles entitled Chronicles of the Yellowstone.
 Their publication in this form is now concluded, and they will appear revised, extended and corrected in book form. We desire to speak for the coming volume a good word. The Chronicles as they have appeared, are written in a plain, unostentatious style that is very entertaining. The work of collecting the data seems to have been done with such care that the result is mostly free from inaccuracies, and such as are discovered will be corrected in the re-publication.

Yesterday was penance day among the Chinese. Several wagon loads of roast pork, fowl, sweetmeats and other edibles were scattered upon the graves of defunct Mongolians at the cemetery, and Chinese candles, colored sticks, papers, etc., were burned at the graves, while hired mourners rent the air with wailing lamentations. The ceremony is observed once a year, and is supposed by the heathen to be a potent factor in securing happiness for the departed in the other world, as well as an acceptable penance for their own sins.—Butte Miner, 10th.
