GEORGETOWN FIELD DAY.

Annual Games by Students of the "Varsity.

The students of Georgetown 'Varsity will hold their annual field day tomorrow afternoon on Georgetown Field. The field and track sports are open only to students of the several departments of the 'varsity, and from among the winners in the several events the team to represent the "blue and gray" at Mott Haven will be chosen.

Trainer Feley has given all the sindent who wish to compete his best attention and the number of entries in each event is larger than ever before, and the most of the men stronger and more finished than upon any former similar tests.

The events to be run off will include the 100 and 220 yards dash, the 440 yards and the mile run 11, 200 and 25. and the number of entries in each event and the mile run, the 220 yards hurdle and the milewalk. In the field events Big Frank Smith is doing the bulk of the work, and is especially strong in the hammer and shot and 56-pound weight events. Broad and high tumping and pole vaulting will be cluded in the field tests.

Walsh, Fox, Prince and Lyons are going well in the sprints and will surprise some of their opponents. Wefers, the king of sprinters, who is quite seriously ill at his home in Massachusetts, will, of course, not be able to take part, and it is feared that he will ers, who is quite seriously ill at his h

GAMES TODAY.

Washington at Boston. Chicago at Cleveland. St. Louis at Louisville. Brooklyn at New York. Baltimore at Philadelphia. Cincinnati at Pittsburg.

WET GROUNDS PREVENTED PLAY

The Senators Left for Boston and the New Yorks Returned Home. As early as 2 o'clock yesterday after noon it became apparent to Manager Schmelz that National Park would be unfit for play owing to the hard rain which ingly informed Manager Joyce at Willard's that there would be no game.

The New Yorks departed for hos

3:15 o'clock. They will open with Brook-lyn at Eastern Park this afternoon for a series of three games.

The postponement of the game gave the Senators the advantage of an early start for Boston. They left for that city at 4 s'clock, and will arrive this morning at S The following players were carried Mercer, McJaines, King, and German, pitchers: Cartwright, Frown, Farrell, Mc-Gare, Abbey, DeMoatreville, Wrigiey, Selbach, Reilly, and O'Brien, fourteen in all. Mercer, in company with Secretary Horton, of the club, left Tuesday night Mercer will pitch the opening game, and at home. The Senators have always been fortunate on the Boston grounds, and left Washing ington feeling very confident that their hard luck streak would be broken while they were sojourners in the land of beans and culture. All they need is to regain their batting eyes, as their fielding is not teing surpassed, if even approached, by any cint in the league. The pitchers are also in good shape and are capable of winning if the team could only hit the ball at the right time They will encounter a tough proposition at Boston, as Duffy and his men are coming very strong and fast after a bad beginning. They were able to take two from Phila-delphia and the Senators will fulfill all of the three to be played on the trip The club will return home Sunday and next Monday inaugurate their first series of the season with Baltimore at National Park. They will then start on the Western tour, opening at Pittsburg Thursday, chalked up by innings. Lyons alternates on first and third for Pittsburg, but at either or both positions he not only fields well, but seen not to have forgotten how to hit.

The placky Colonels won and lost yester day at Pittsburg. The Washington fans would like to see them win every game they play except those with the Senators Probably the worst batter in the league is Cross, St. Louis' shortstop. He has played in eight games and has been 'at 'twenty-two times, but has made only one hit.

The New Yorks attribute their change in luck to the re-entree into the game Bill Clark. As soon as Clark joined them in Washington, they commenced stugging the ball.

The elongated Carey, Pitcher Mercer's fellow-townsman, is playing first base for the Athletics of Philadelphia, which team prosed to be the understudy for the Big Quakers.

Childs sprained his leg terning first base in Sunday's game at St. Louis, and Jimmie McAleer is afflicted with the old charley horse that has given him so much trouble in seasons gone by. Louisville is mostly made up of a lot of young, hustling players, and until some of the old stagers get settled, the Falls City team is calculated to make the best of them play hard to win. It looks as though McGraw's days as a player were nearly over. Ever since be

Was Not a Party to a Fake With Peckham.

The Local Champion's Next Engagement Is With Welter-Weight

The Raedy-Peckham flasco at the Suturban Road House Tuesday night was the exclusive topic among the "sporting gentry" of the city yesterday. Some averred it a "fake," others declared that Peckham "quit," and all agreed that it was a farce and a travesty on square fighting. Raedy's friends stoutly disclaim that he was a party to any deal or arrangement for Peckham to "lay down," They assert that Pat, after Peckham's many boasts and challenges, expected him to put up a suff fight, and that Pat trained as hard and was as careful as if he had been matched against "Kid" McCoy.

The circumstances clearly indicate that Raedy was not a principal to a fake, in-asmuch as the bout hardly lasted two rounds If he would have wanted to bunco the public he could have easily played around Peckham for six or seven ounds and given the contest an air of honest intent. But he didn't do it He joited fiste from the call of time, and quickly convinced the Bradford boy that the was in for a ficking and a bad one at that Then Peckham's liver turned white and he "quit" That was the logical conclusion of many at the ringside who did not have money Wagered and were therefore fair and unprejudiced in their opinious Peckham's miserable exhibition was very disappointing to his friends; many of whom had backed him with good big warfs of long green. His excuse that he did not want to stand a beating was not at all pacifying nor satisfactory. His friends thought be should have at least given them a run for their money, and on seeing that he was outclassed, and would be ultimately whip-ped, afforded them a chance to hedge Peckham's puglistic sun has set in this city, never to rise again.

Champion Ruedy's next fight will be with bampion Weiterweight Tommy Ryan be fore the swell Rienzi Club, of Rochester N. Y., on the 17th instant. Raedy will continue his training, and is confident or taking his victory over Ryan so clean this time that the police and referee will have o chance to interfere and rob him, as was he case at the former meeting.

"Referce," sporting editor of the Bos ton Traveller, can't conceal his disap-pointment over the result of the Carson ity fight, and continually publishes were stories about that celebrated affair. The following is his latest which, if it has no undation, is interesting reading:
"On the whole I think that during his recent engagement in Eosian Jim Carbett made a very strong impression. He did his niking man fastien, he had no excuses to iffer for his defeat, and he said some pleas int things about his opponent. 'If Brady tells the truth he expects that when the kinetoscope appears in this city it will show that Corbett got away the worst of it from the timekeepers when Pitzsinmens was on the floor in the fa-"According to this story Fitz was on the floor for at least featteen or fifteen sec-omis, and that it will show Brady in the enter of the ring, espostulating with al his might with the referee. "The referee refused to allow the claim, and then, on the advice of Corbett, Erady gave in and allowed Jim to go on with the buttle.

"Personally I cannot vouch for the story, but we will soon be able to tell when the kinetoscope comes out Perhaps while the principals might possibly stretch a point for the sake of an argument I cannot see how the camera will lie. It will be an easy enough matter to time Fitz, and if the camera shows what Brady says it will, then it will clearly enough show that Corbett was done out of the fight by a combination which could not be beaten. Now, personally, I prefer to believe that

Corbett was squarely defeated on the level. I cannot think but Fitzsimmons was the best man, but one hears so many contradictory stories that it is hard to fell what is true and what is untrue. culated in Boston while Corbett was in town, was in regard to a man who had a leading place in the arrangements. Severol days before the fight Brady is said to have cornered this official with the copy of a wire which had been sent to a prominent The wire is said to have read: "You bet your coin on our man. It is impossible for him to be defeated." The official denied all knowledge of having sent the wire, but the manager of Corbett has since ascertained that this source of informa-tion was true and authentic. There is a chance that there was some truth in this report. A decade ago one of the most famous American firms of book-makers was that of Kelly & Bliss in New York. All sporting men know that for several years Kelly & Bliss have been out of the bookmaking business. "Yet a week before the Cornett and Fitzsimmons fight they came on earth again.

and began placing their commissions in the large cities of the East. They took the Fitzsimmons' end at whatever odds they could get, and, according to good expertiestimony, they must have cleared up at least $100,000. "Now, these gentlemen were not betting their money on a shoe string. They had no great love for Fitzsimmons, but there is a chance that they may have been in receipt of information which made them come to the conclusion that the Australian was a pretty safe investment. "I do not care to pass on these things, but it does look as though there is an inside story somewhere connected with the fight, which will one of these days make very interesting reading. I do not say that Fitz knew what was "Kid" McCoy is playing a week's engagement at Pittsburg, and of his moveents for the immediate future he taiked as follows to a Dispatch reporter Tuesday night: "I am only going to be here until get ready to meet "Reddy" Gallagher in a 20-round contest, and then I meet Dick Moore. I have also put up a forfeit of $1,000 to fight Creedon for the middle weight championship of the world. He has, I understand, a similar forest up, so that I have sent my money on to cover it. This means that we will get together som, for he will be back from England this month. The contest between Creedon and myself will be a very important one, as it has been talked about for so long a time. Creedon is a fine pugilist, and I am frank enough to admit that point. He has done some great things and he deserves credit for them. But I am of the opinion that I can uphold my own with him, and I am just as auxious to meet him as he is to meet me. So there is sure to be a go between us. I am a little heavier than I usually am on ac-That was a fine trip and I enjoyed it. I will soon be all right and I hope to win every battle in which I will be engaged."

RAIN AGAIN INTERFERED. Maryland and Georgetown Baseball Game Postponed.

The Georgetown 'Varsity team is having sore than ordinary hard luck in playing off its schedule of games with visiting college tenins. The Maryland Varsity team was announced to play the blue and gray yesterday afternoon on Georgetown Field and as with the Richmond College game rain again interfered. Even if it had not rained the diamend and field were so thoroughly soaked that playing would have been out of the question. The game was postponed, the date, however, has not yet been fixed. The next team to engage the attention of Georgeown will be the strong one from the University of Penusylvania, which comes to play its annual game on Saturday afternoon. The local fears is in excellent shape, and since the players have been changed game, the intelliging stronger built han it has after the reson opened. Capt. Mc-Carthy and Manager Collins hope they will be favored with a clear day and dry grounds on Saturday, so that they may be able to show the admirers of the team the kind of hall they have learned to play during an enforced rest.
