FAMINE THREATENS HAVANA

The People Suffering Greatly for Want of Provisions.

GOMEZ'S GUERRILLA WARFARE

Wonderful Success of His Fabian Policy—Spain's Resources Almost Exhausted, While the Cause of the Insurgents is Daily Developing Greater Strength.

Havana, via Key West, July 18.—The situation in Havana city is very alarming, because the whole population is threatened with famine. Cattle from the country can only be obtained in such small numbers that only the very rich can pay the enormous prices demanded for meat.

The Spanish army all over the island is also suffering for want of provisions. To satisfy the troops, Gen. Weyler, as his usual practice, adopted arbitrary measures against the property of the residents of Havana.

Several Spanish followers, followed by a detachment of troops, called also at all the private residences and demanded the immediate delivery of all the chickens, eggs and other supplies in the house.

A BLOW KILLS A PUGILIST

New Orleans, July 18.—At Columbia, La., Charles Tompkins, a white man, and a negro, had a friendly boxing match last night. Whittington, the smaller of the two, dealt Tompkins a heavy blow over the region of the heart, and he dropped to the ground dead. The coroner made an examination and decided that death was due to rupture of the heart, produced by the blow received. Whittington is in jail.

BICYCLE MAKERS COMPLACENT

Chicago, July 18.—Local manufacturers do not apprehend the flurry in the foreign bicycle market will have any effect in this country. Of late years American tubing has been more extensively used here than that of English or German make. The consensus of opinion among Chicago makers of bicycles is that the scare in Birmingham was caused by speculators, who desire to effect immediate orders for tubing.

Dr. Lott Loses a Fortune and Dies of Grief.

THE WORK OF ELLEN PECK

Represented Herself as the Wife of a Danish Admiral Worth Millions and by Slow Degrees Gained the Doctor's Confidence—Other Men She Has Robbed.

New York, July 18.—In Mrs. Mary Hansen, a woman who posed in Brooklyn for more than a year as the wife of Admiral Johann Carl Hansen, of the Danish navy, the police of that city think they have discovered Ellen Peck, the notorious confidence woman, who has robbed many wealthy men of this city and Brooklyn, during her long career and who is known throughout this country and across the Atlantic as one of the cleverest swindlers who ever lived.

Mrs. Hansen's principal victim, Dr. Lott, a well-known physician of Brooklyn, is now dead. He died on May 10 last, as the direct result, his relatives say, of worry over his loss through the woman. The other victims are Miss Nellie Sien, a trained nurse, who was employed at one time by Mrs. Simpson, and a friend of Dr. Lott, whose name is not given. Mrs. Lott's maid is also alleged to have been lured in a small sum by Mrs. Hansen. After Dr. Lott's death it was discovered that between $2,000 and $3,000 had been paid to Mrs. Hansen by the doctor on a few promissory notes.

During 1894 Dr. Lott was called to attend Mrs. William Simpson, who lived with Mrs. Hansen as her son-in-law and daughter, and who, it is alleged, helped along the woman's swindling operations. They have been arrested and are now out on bail.
