How different are the ballplayers representing the City of Culture and those who hail from the City of Oysters. It was a rare treat to have witnessed yesterday's game at National Park.

There was a gratifying absence of the rowdiness so conspicuous among the Orioles. There is as much difference between the two teams as there is between a dark cloud overhanging National Park and a beautiful sunset on the picturesque Potomac.

WIN BY A SCRATCH.

The Giants Have a Hard Time Beating the Brooklyners.

New York, July 31.—The New Yorks again won from Brooklyn today, but by the skin of their teeth. Up to the ninth inning Joyce's men had been unable to score, but a combination of two hits, errors by La Chance, Smith and Kennedy and a palpably wild pitch by the umpire resulted in four runs. The 11 runs spectators were in a constant fever of excitement.

Young Wrighty was again shifted. He covered third yesterday because Reilly, Mr. Wagner said, had a broken finger. The youngster again demonstrated that he is a ballplayer, and twice he threw the runner out at second, once taking part in a double play.

McJames was on the rubber for the Senators, and because of his wildness the Bostoners scored seven runs. Three of his bases on balls resulted in runs, and the man he hit crossed the plate ahead of Nichols when the latter sent the leather into the bleachers for a home run. But at that pitched good ball, and had Tom Brown handled Stahl's single cleanly things might have been different.

Old man McGuire found young man Nichols just to his fancy, and was crushed one of the kid's leather into the bleachers. The fact of the matter is, the Senators had little trouble in hitting the prince of twirlers in the early part of the contest, and in the first four innings they batted him for a total of fourteen times—through to win two games some times, but the superb fielding of the visitors prevented any chance for additional scores.

DeMontreville and O'Brien put up the nicest sort of ball, and they vied with the same facilities on the other side. Tom Tucker was earnest and aggressive, and no doubt he would accept his position as old co-player than accept the position of Commissioner of the District of Columbia. His work was clean, his batting strong and his voice loud and vigorous. He got too earnest, however, and Umpire Emslie forced him to the bench.

Tenny, the college graduate, put up a record-breaking base play. He accepted eighteen chances and some of them were not easy.

Robby Lowe, agile, docile and genteel, covered a mile of territory and his work was clean and precise. Bobby Allen, who was disappointed from the diamond several years ago and who came to life again this year, showed that he has not forgotten any points in the game worth remembering.

With the hope, no doubt, of breaking the spell which has fallen upon the Senators, Tom Brown took the first turn at the bat, but the change did no good. At one time it seemed as though the Wagners would win, but it turned out otherwise, and the many cranks in the city who are ferreted the Orioles felt perfectly satisfied.

After Brown and Selbach went out in the third DeMontreville smashed the sphere for a single and McGuire ripped the first ball pitched to him over the fence in right field, earning two runs.

In the fourth there was a succession of errors and Nichols was torn up in a lively manner. Abbey and Wrighty singled, McJames went out, Brown hit safely, and Selbach made a fierce triple, the latter scoring the fourth run on the next out. That was the last one, as the beautiful twirler caught his second wind and was invincible after that, although McGuire made a three-bagger in the seventh and Brown a double in the ninth.

Nichols' home-run hit sent Bergen, who had been hit after having two strikes, across the plate in the second.

In the sixth Duffy and Stahl walked, and Collins and Lowe singled, three runs resulting.

Stahl's single, Brown's error, and Col-

BREAK EVEN AT ST. LOUIS.

The Colonels Van the First, But Lose the Second.

St. Louis, July 31.—The Browns and Louisville played two games at Sportsman's Park this afternoon, each winning one. McBethmont was overcome by heat in the first game, and gave way to Grimes, who proved easy for the Colonels. The Browns won the second game by a batting rally in the eighth. The second game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Attendance, 5,000.

The President's Outing.

The President, according to reports, is enjoying his outing at Lake Champlain very much. Everyone would take an outing in the summer time if they could, in fact, health almost demands it. Let those that cannot get away try a Little Tharp's Berkeley Whisky. Taken as a tonic, it supplies the system with the energy used up by the excessive heat.

A World's Record Goes by the Board in the Bike Meet.

Boston, July 31.—One world's record went by the board at the bicycle meet at Charles River Park this afternoon. John Case and Victor Eberth, of Worcester, Mass., the present American champions in their event, finished fourth in the best, but covered the distance in 1:56 1/2, which is 4 1/2 seconds faster than the previous world's record made by the same pair on the same track June 23.

The multicycle race between a tandem, triplet, quadruplet, quintuplet and sextet was the most exciting event of the afternoon, and the time made by the sextet, which won the race in the best two out of three heats, was phenomenal. In the first heat the big machine crossed the tape after a close race in 1:48, and in the second heat the time was bettered 1:45 1/2. In the latter heat the triplet finished second, the tandem third, the quintuplet fourth and the quadruplet fifth. The first four were close together.
