Senators easily defeated the Philadelphias yesterday afternoon at National Park by a score of 5 to 2. The Buckeye lad gave but one much his base on balls, struck three out, made two singles, caught a high fly, covered first once, stole a base, and kept the seven hits of visitors Well scattered. It was a great game for the tall sycamore from the Ohio Valley. The whole team seemed to enjoy the effects of a brand new clixir, as they game on tiptoes from start to inish. De Moutreville, wretched in Brooklyn, was as slick as a thoroughbred winner of a Futurity. Old man McGuire's right arm bad a Fitzsimmons' swing, and his throwing was exceedingly accurate. Three funners were caught at second just as easily as a professional chicken thief plucks his prey off the lower roost.

assist of the last man out was on a ball over second tosse. It was a rattling stop, and that he caught Shugart, a fast runner, made the play all the more remarkable.

There was a big improvement in the batting of the home team. They took Onth's measure early in the game and found little trouble in cracking out singles bunching their hits so nicely that in two innings they earned four runs. DeMontreville made the star play of the game in the eighth. He singled for the ird time, stole second, and on Clements' ed the hall and while he was hold ne, and made it, Clements seemingly being asleep. Wrigiey and only one chance, and that would have been an error but for Tucker's wonderful pickup.

The visitors also played fast ball, but were unable to land on Swalm's clastic eurves, imperceptible shoots and back-bend-Only in one inning was more Ing drops. than one hit made.

Lave Cross was himself at second and for the first time in many moons the Quaker infield made a double play. Shugart adling Abbey's grounder with O'Brien on first, and covering second on a run e threw the batter out to Lajole.

Kelly, the new umpire, whom Gus Schmelz ended to President Young, officiated, and had a number of very close plays to decide. His voice is clear, his sight good, and he is prompt in making decisions. Several times the Quaker con tingent essayed to protest, but the youngste waved them back with a motion of the behind the but and immediately back of the pitcher with a man on first.

If he continues to do as well as he has started out he will be a valuable acquisition to the League staff. He had two easy teams yesterday, however; but if Ladies' Day and the Phillies. The Philadelphias will be here again this afternoon, and as it is ladies' day a good crowd is likely to be present. If the Senators will play anything like they did yesterday they merit support, and the loyal rooters are living in hopes that the victory over the Quakers is the beginning of another brace.

Club Owners Must Back Up President Young or He Can

The umpire question is the one important topic in baseball circles. The Times was early in the field, condemning the practice of blackguards and thugs who are masquerading as balk players, and who have unstintedly abused every umpice that Times has advocated. Among other things,

"Every winter the League magnates get together and try to do something which will put a stop to rows on the ball field. As far as theory goes, they arrive at conclusions which are all right, but when the time comes for a practical illustration of their views, matters are no better than they were before. For some reason or other, the scenes on the field this year are flercer than ever before. And who is to blame? Why, the poor umpire, is the ery, not only of the cranks, but of the players and some of the magnates as well.

"The umpire is the bane of the ball player's existence. If it were not for him, every team would win the pennant, to hear the members of each team talk.

Whenever a team forges to the front, the other teams immediately tell their friends that the umpires are favoring that team.

Nine out of ten persons who go to a ball game think that the captain of a team has the right to kick at a decision of the timpire. Such is not the case. The rules distinctly state that no player shall question any decision, and the captain shall question a decision only when an interpre-tation of the rules is involved. Were these rules enforced there would be no disgraceful scenes on the field.

"Nearly every time an umpire gives a close decision the players of one or the other team surround bin. The players know that they can gain nothing by such actions, as the decision given cannot be changed. But they imagine that they can scare him into giving them the best of the League shows that matters have reached a crisis. It is the custom of youngsters who have just broken into the game to have, a fling at the venerable League president whenever their team does not get everything in sight from the umpire. Umpires cannot give both teams the best of a close decision. 'I have seen our team get the worst of de-cisions and lose when we should have won,' said J. Earl Wagner, of the Washington club, to me the other day. 'I have elso seen our team get the best of decisions and win when I thought the other team wasentitled to the victory. The whole thing equalizes itself, however, during the sesson.'

" 'And I want to say,' continued Mr. Wagner, that President Young is the formdation stone of basebalt. The National League will never realize his worth until 2 he stens down and out."

"The majority of players are so bold as to assert that they are entitled to the best of it at home They do not want an umpire to do his duty. If they do not Cincinnati300014-8 graon to President Young, protesting the Pittsburg000100-1

The weaker umpires want to hold their positions. They do not want to take the bread and butter do not want to take the bread and butter out of their mouths, and so, in order to curry favor, they are apt to give the home

"The rules are all right as they stand. They provide for decorous conduct of players on the field. There would be no rows and the umpire's lot would be far more congenial were some of the magnates not engaged in attempting to browbeat and terrorize the umpires. Matters will go on ust as they are, notwithstanding what President Young may do, as long as some of the magnates continue their present attitude. These magnates and the players are responsible, not the umpires."

BRIGHTWOOD RACES.

There Will Be Three Contests at the Suburban Course Today.

Probably the most interesting races of the season will take place at Brightwood Trotting Park this afternoon. It will also be ladies' day, and the fair sex will be admitted free. The first contest will take place promptly at 3 o'clock. Busses will carry the patrons of the track from the cars to the track free of charge.

There are three events on the card. The 2:25 class has four entries, and considerable money has already been put up on the result. It will be a run for a fellow's money, and the lovers of harness racing will see a great race.

The 2:40 event will be a regular peawarmer, as several of the entries have and today's contest will be a bot one from wire to wire. Manager McGirr will be himself, and that is a guarantee that everyone who goes to the Park will have the best on the mar-

FATAL ACCIDENT IN THE SURF. A Prominent Citizen of Ocean Grove Loses His Life.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9. - John Hardy, with Jacob Scultherp, the mayor of Bradley Beach, and Charles Kitt-li, one of the best surf men along the coast, were upset while out rowing at 12:30 o'clock today about half a mile from the Bradley Beach shore. Hardy, who was a life-long resident of Bradley Beach, was struck by the boat as it upset and sunk at once. Kitteil dove twice for him in the midst of huge breakers, but, although he is credited with being one of the most powerful swimmers in the vicinity, he could not battle against the waves The accident happened in sight of a large number of summer visitors and created great excitement. At Koster's avilion the regular life saver was absent and the man on duty refused to venture Charles Boogle, captain of pilot boat No. 9, which was anchored off Ocean Grove, was near Lillageros' Pavillon, in Ocean Grove. He ran half a mile along the shore, threw off his extra clothing, as he rap, and when opposite the upset boat. dashed through the surf and swam through the great breakers, finally reaching the op-turned boat, and aided in saving Kittell and Sculthorp, who were almost overcome, although buoyed up for the time by the boat. Kittell, after he was brought ashore, said the huge waves caught the boat while n the trough of the sea, and filled it in minstant. He said that Hardy jumped as he boat went over but was knocked on he head by the stern of the vessel as he struck the water.

The body of the drowned man has not been washed ashore.

The clerk of the Cochran House went to Philadelphia and identified the man. Detective Weedon will be sent to bring the man to this city if the Philadelphia authorities Will permit it.

Week-Day Trips to Chanel Point.

Today and Thursday the River Queen will make the trip to Chapel Point, as has been previously stated, in response to numerous urgent requests. The same schedule will be used as on Sundays, leav-ing the city at 9:30 a. m., and getting all hands home again by 9:30 at night. This will give all those who wish to make the trip a chance to enjoy the outing at the Point, and avoid any un-due crowding of the steamer, as might be the case if only Sunday trips were made. The fishing and crabbing at the Point is unsurpassed anywhere on the Potomac, and the bathing beach (salt water) attracts great numbers of folks who has been previously stated, in response to Potomac, and the bathing beach (salt water) attracts great numbers of folks who delight in this sport and do not care to go so far down the river as the other resorts where salt water is found. As to the dinners, on the steamer is a care, first-class in every particular, in which the best of dinners are served. Also, there is good hotel accommodations on the grounds. The entire trip affords a sail on the river of 110 miles. One feature about which too much cannot be said, is the breezes. Now that the days are at their hottest, and a breath of fresh air here in the city is welcomed with delight, a trip of this sort, where one is sure of twelve hours of continuous cool, bracing breezes, is enough, alone, to attract a crowd sufficient to pack the boat. The River Queen leaves each Tuesday, Thurs-River Queen leaves each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday mornings at 9:30. The fare for the round-trip is 25 cents.

STEAMBOAT COMPANY SUED. Action Commenced for an Adjustment of Alleged Debts. A suit was entered yesterday before the supreme court of the District by James 8; Edwards, trustee of the late Mary C. Mo-Kibbin, against the Mount Version and Marsiali Ball Steamboat Company, Capt. Levi L. Blake, Kate C. Salisbury, Ernest S. Fenwick, the Central National Bank, Mary McKibbin, J C. Russ, and C. H. Freeman praying for an adjustment and a settlement of alleged indebtedness, and the plac-ing of liens on the capital stock of the defendant company. The plaintiff also as'es that an injunction be issued, preventing the disposal of any of the holdings of the parties to the suit in the stock of the present reorganized Mount Vernon and Marshall Hall Steamboat Company. It is alleged in the bill that Capt. Blake is not the owner of certain stock in the commany held in his name, but that he has incurred certain liens upon it or hypothecated it to secure certain creditors that Capt. Blake and the late Col. Joseph C. McKibbin, then owners of the boat company, secured a lean of $10,000) from Mary McKibbin, who was owner of 389 shares, and also that the defendants are additionally indebted in a much larger amount. The note for $10,000 is not an obligation of the company, but a personal matter with Blake and the estate of Mc-Kibbin. Festiles the indebtedness to the company incurred by McKibbin. Blake and Kate C. Sausbury, it is claimed that they are further indebted for additional sums drawn from time to time from the treasury of the company. At the time of his de-cease it is averred that the late Col. Joseph C. McKibbin was largely indebted to outside parties and died insolvent, he having no property other than his holdings in the company held in trust by the plaintiff Edwards as trustee of Mary McKibbin. The suit filed yesterday is due to the refusal of the present defendant company to adjust its inherent rights and fix the indebtedness of the first company for the prior Hen of $10,000 advanced by Mary McKibbin
