Our Modern Shoe Retailing Surprises the Old-timers.

It is just as natural as the flow of the river that we are shoeing more people with every succeeding day. Everybody who knows us, knows that any shoe that bears the name of "WM. HAHN & CO." MUST give good wear. If it does not, full satisfaction will be given if it is returned to us.

This season we are beating all former records in amount of shoe selling—because we are SELLING shoes for the price we would have to PAY for them today—in consequence of the enormous purchases we made before the tariff went into effect.

SUES MISS GRACE HOWARD

Mrs. Manore Wants Damages for Alienating Affections.

ENGAGED IN MISSION WORK

Defendant Met the Plaintiff's Husband While Conducting Grace Mission—Denies the Charges Against Her and Asserts Her Relations With Manore Were Business Ones.

Chambers, S. D., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Milla Manore has begun suit here against Miss Grace Howard, daughter of Joe Howard, Jr., the New York journalist, for alienating the affections of her husband, Joseph Manore. The suit has created a sensation. Miss Howard is well known in Washington, and has been a frequent caller at the Department of the Interior.

Mrs. Manore claims $5,000 damages, and in her complaint, which is on file in the clerk of court's office here, makes many serious charges against Miss Howard. In July, 1887, Miss Howard established an Indian mission school seventeen miles from here, on the Crow Creek and Wind River reservation. After the first two years the school, which had been named after Miss Howard, in honor of her husband, was transferred to a Government contract school. In the enlarging and expanding of the school's influence she always received every encouragement from the officials of the Indian Bureau in Washington and from the agency authorities.

Her contract with the Government did not expire until June of this year, but at the solicitation of friends she decided early in the present year to relinquish from the management of the school. The latter fight, waged in Congress against contract schools, had considerable influence in her decision. She informed the Indian Office that if the Government was willing to buy her school she would sell it to the Government. Agent Blatter, of the Indian department, was sent to investigate, and as the result of his report the Government paid Miss Howard a satisfactory price for her interest in the school. Shortly after this Howard transferred the school to the Government. She purchased a desirable cattle ranch west of here on the White River, and embarked in the stock business. Attorneys for the defendant have just filed Miss Howard's answer to the plaintiff's complaint. She says that in the month of November, 1894, she employed the plaintiff and her husband to do certain work and labor in connection with the school and management of the Indian school then under her charge, and that both remained there until July, 1896, when plaintiff left. She denies any familiarity with Manore, and declares it is untrue that he spent most of his unoccupied time with her, but, that on the other hand, he was very much interested in her company than any other employee at Grace Mission, or any other time than was absolutely necessary in order to carry on the business of the Indian school.

Defendant denies that she ever sought the company of Manore, and that she never furnished a vehicle and team so Manore could take her driving. Each time Manore drove her to any place, it is asserted, it was on business connected with the running and operating of Grace Mission, or in the performance of such duties as Manore was employed by her to perform. Every other allegation of plaintiff is denied, and the defendant asks that the complaint be dismissed. The case will be tried at the next term of the circuit court, which convenes in this city next month.

The Manores are old residents of the country, and are well known throughout this region. Mrs. Manore and her parents are highly respected. Manore has remained in the employ of Miss Howard constantly since November, 1894, and is now the manager of her stock ranch. They are in town quite frequently and have a wide acquaintance here. Prior to accepting a position as Grace Mission, Manore was a farmer in this county, and in and around loved happily together. A separate suit has been brought against him by his wife for support.

WILLIAMS TIRED OF JAIL.

Will Ask Court to Grant Him a New Trial.

Counsel for Dan Williams, the ex-policeman, charged with the embezzlement of police court funds, will file a motion for a new trial in Judge Bradley's court, on Monday morning. Together with the motion, two affidavits from Drs. N. P. Barnes and A. E. Johnson, testifying as to the condition of Williams' health, will also be submitted. The two physicians made an examination of the prisoner yesterday, and found his health almost impaired from the short term of confinement which he has suffered.

They will ask for his release on bond on Monday, pending arguments and a decision on the motion for a new trial. The motion for another trial is based on technicalities, identical with those which were offered to the court when they moved that instructions be given the jury to acquit.

The most important point is that the money alleged to have been embezzled was a part of the United States fund, not the District funds, and that the indictment under which he was convicted was, therefore, invalid.

Fluorine Petitions for Release. Through Attorney E. V. Brookshire yesterday George R. Fluorine, formerly an agent of the Pension Office, and indicted by the grand jury in Keokuk, Iowa, for an alleged falsification of expense vouchers, filed a petition in the District supreme court for release from the custody of the District marshal.

Fluorine is being held for appearance in court, where he is to be heard on the motion of the district attorney to transfer him to the Iowa jurisdiction. Fluorine claims that the Iowa indictment is incompetent and further that the district court has no jurisdiction in the matter.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. ### DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT.

Coroner's Jury Reconsiders the Railroad Company's Employees.

A jury of inquest called by Coroner Carr met yesterday at the sixth precinct station and investigated the killing of Mr. Herman L. Lewis, who was fatally injured by a switching engine at the South Capitol street crossing. The jury, after a short deliberation, rendered a verdict that the injuries received by Lewis were accidental, and that no one should be held responsible for the occurrence.

Finding the body was sent to Frederick, Md., where it was interred in the family cemetery.

Garfield Post.

The annual inspection and re-election of James A. Garfield Post No. 7, Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, was held on Wednesday evening, November 3, in their hall, No. 419 Tenth street northwest, by Department Commander Thomas S. Hopkins and staff.

The inspection was made by Assistant Commander Robert Arrau, of Post No. 2, who very highly complimented the adjutant and quartermaster, Comrades Fred B. Smith and J. H. Johnson, upon the thorough manner in which they performed their duties.

Speeches were made during the evening by Commander Hopkins, Senior Vice Commander Rudy, Junior Vice Commander McCabe, Adj. Gen. Hendricks, Quartermaster Gen. Powell, and a number of commanders of other posts, each of whom was greeted with applause. The comrades of the post were enthusiastic and expressed their appreciation in no stinted measure of the account rendered by the department commander and his staff of their stewardship during the past year for the benefit of the comrades of the Grand Army.

The volume and impressive ceremony of the muster-in of a recruit to membership elicited some highly eulogistic remarks from the department commander as to the effective and efficient manner in which Commander Arrau and other officers of the post, who participated therein, performed their duties. He also complimented the post on its large attendance, its enthusiasm and dignified appearance.

After the ceremonies a delightful repast was served, to which full justice was done, and the evening terminated in an impromptu talk over cigars.

Unity Club's First Entertainment.

The Unity Club held its first public entertainment of the season on Wednesday evening at the Auburn, Twenty-second street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Dr. W. A. Croft, in "My Summer Outing," greatly interested the members and guests of the crowded parlors, with his graphic descriptions of the Yosemite, Yellowstone Park, Alaska, and the dangers and pleasures of the Klondike adventures. Vocal and instrumental music was pleasingly rendered by Misses Grady and Murray, blind musicians of the "Rogues' Circle." Dr. E. A. Duncan and Miss Lizzie Magie were very amusing in their respective recitations. Mr. R. S. Boyce, president of the club; Dr. W. W. Baker, vice president, and Mrs. F. A. T. Voorhis, treasurer, declining reelection, were respectively succeeded by Mr. R. Grant Barnwell, Mr. S. K. Hall, and Miss C. Louise Hurlbert. Miss Mary C. Bennett was re-elected secretary.

Improved Cooking Arrangements on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Colonial Express.

For the better accommodation of its patrons, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that the Pullman buffet cars running on the Colonial Express between Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston, have been equipped with "broilers," so that steaks, chops, spring chickens and potatoes can be cooked and served hot from the stove. This is done by means of an ingeniously constructed gas stove, and it adds greatly to the convenience of this very popular train. Orders given from the menu card will be served with promptness. The Colonial Express leaves Washington week days at 7:50 a. m.; Baltimore, 8:50 a. m.
