That other guests will follow where the Executive leads goes without saying, and that it will combine the better for their pilgrimage to Mr. McKinley's Mecca is obvious from the fact that it has more room for the subject than any other place in the world. Then will it be "Westward Ho!" in the world of fashion, and society chroniclers, who, after all, are a variety of Laig Benach, Ephson and other Presidential has been, will miss the summer hotel at Somerset, and all that it implies.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE.

The Union Organized by the Election of Officers.

The Baptist Young People's Union of the District of Columbia, celebrated the first anniversary of its organization with a roasting and exceedingly interesting meeting last evening at the Fifth Baptist Church, Virginia avenue, between Fourth and Fifteenth streets southwest. All the different Baptist congregations in the city were represented by a full quota of delegates.

Beside the members of the union present there were also a large number of those interested in the work of the organization.

At the business session which was held previous to the religious service the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year:

President, R. A. Ford, re-elected; vice president, R. M. Henderson; recording secretary, R. M. Hubbard; corresponding secretary, H. A. Lyon; treasurer, J. H. Pratt.

The prayer service which followed the business meeting, was led by President Ford, who at the general session also delivered the address of welcome.

Within the church, which was tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums, were, besides President Ford, the Rev. E. Hervey, Rev. Dr. N. C. Saylor, Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson and Rev. Curtis Lee Laws, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Baltimore, and first vice president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America.

The subjects discussed during the evening were "Devotional Meetings" by the Rev. Dr. Hervey; "What the Union Stands For, and Loyalty to the Denomination," by Rev. Dr. Saylor, and "Loyalty to Christ in All Things at All Times," by the Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson.

The address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Laws.

METHODIST UNION BAZAAR.

Formally Opened to the Public by Rev. Dr. Wilson.

The trades bazaar, under the auspices of the Methodist Union and board of Christian Missions, for the benefit of the aged, was auspiciously opened at National Rifle's Armory last night. The bazaar will continue until November 19. The object of this fair is to raise funds for the Methodist Home for the Aged, and the objects of the latter being to aid weak churches.

National Rifle's Hall was brightly lighted, with bunting and with happy people. Above the stage was the image of a mounted Bible, had upon and inscribed as follows: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them." Streamers of white were stretched above the stage and inscribed with black letters, "Bible Society," "Foreign Missions," "Tract Society," "Home Missions," "Singing Society," "Sunday School," "Ladies' Aid Society," "Epworth League," "Look Up! Lift Up!"

Around the walls were American shields which were painted the names of great Methodists. The benches were draped in white and pink, yellow and black, green and white, blue and white, and red and gold.

Mr. G. W. F. Swartzell, chairman of the executive committee, introduced Rev. L. R. Wilson, D. D., who formally opened the bazaar. He announced the purposes for which the fair is held, and complimented the several committees in the effectiveness with which they had worked.

The armory floor was given over to the lunch committee. The room was decorated with red trees and made brilliant by lighted candles.

Mr. Myron Baker, the trick cyclist, gave an interesting exhibition.

One of the contributions to the bazaar is a pair of easy slippers made and donated by Mrs. McKinley. They had not been seen in the city, but will be exposed for sale tonight.

BOAT UPSETS ON THE POTOMAC.

Two Men Saved From Drowning by the Police Boat.

While patrolling the river off Arsenal Point yesterday afternoon, the police harbor boat Vigilant was summoned by the cries of distress to a small skiff which had capsized several hundred feet from the shore.

The wind was blowing a gale and a powerful squall had upset the craft completely and thrown the two occupants into the river. They were clinging tenaciously to the sides of the upset boat and crying loudly for help when the crew of the Vigilant sighted them and started to their rescue.

Both men, dressed wet and heavily exhausted and chilled from the exposure, were taken on board, while the officers righted the boat. They had been in the water but a short time, however, and before their timely discovery might have been drowned. As soon as the skiff had been righted and hauled out the two men again entered and struck out for the shore. They refused to give their names, and are not known.

SHE WAS CURED OF SEVERE HEMORRHAGE.

Mrs. Rose Murphy, 626 Cullum st. n. c. "That people who neglect what appears to be a simple cold will eventually pay dearly for that neglect; I know by experience. My trouble began just that way five years ago. I coughed more or less all winter, and when the warm weather of spring and summer came, the cough ceased, and I thought I was all right. "But the return of cold weather in the fall brought back the cough, harder and more frequent than before. And so every year added to my trouble, until last fall it became so bad that I coughed almost incessantly. It disturbed me at night. Every morning, as soon as I got up, it would start, and I would raise a great deal of phlegm—terrible quantities of it. The cough grew worse steadily, and finally resulted in a Hemorrhage. "I was sitting reading one day, coughing, as usual, when up came a mouthful of blood. It weakened me terribly, and I was sick for weeks afterward. I had a pain in my side from the constant coughing, and such a soreness between my shoulders that it was difficult to raise myself from the pillows. "I had no appetite and lost flesh. "I had no strength at all, and it was an effort for me to go up or down stairs. I cannot speak too highly of the benefit I have derived from Dr. McCoy's Catarrh Remedy. My appetite and strength have returned; there has been no more hemorrhage, and that awful cough that troubled me mornings has stopped. "I had no strength at all, and it was an effort for me to go up or down stairs. I cannot speak too highly of the benefit I have derived from Dr. McCoy's Catarrh Remedy. My appetite and strength have returned; there has been no more hemorrhage, and that awful cough that troubled me mornings has stopped. CURED OF ASTHMA.

Mrs. Jenny Smith, 600 6th st. s. w. "I don't think anyone ever had Asthma as bad as I had it. I coughed incessantly, and was so short of breath that I could not lie down at night. I have spent eight nights sitting up in order to get my breath. It was a year in which I had my last attack, and I feel that I am completely cured."

A CANTATA TO BE GIVEN.

The United German Societies Will Present It.

The representatives of the united German singing organizations of Baltimore, who have been the guests of the Saengerbund Singing Society of this city, were tendered a roasting informal reception at the Saengerbund Hall last night. The guests were Franz Faehn, president of the United Singers of Baltimore; Fritz Faehn, F. W. Weber, and Dr. M. Schapiro, members of the Harmonia Singing society of Baltimore, and Dr. Meisner, director of the Liederkreis and Arbitrator Mammereber Societies of Baltimore. The object of the mission of the Baltimoreans to the National Capital is to perfect arrangements for a joint concert by the members of the fourteen German singing societies of Baltimore and the 120 German choral organizations of this city.

The works that are to be produced are the ninth symphony of Beethoven and the prize Cantata of Mr. Meisner, of the Monumental City, and who was present last evening.

The representatives were given a song of welcome as they took their places at the table last evening. Messrs. Falkl, Meisner, and Faehn made brief speeches to the nature of their visit. President Faehn and Prof. Kauder, of the Saengerbund, responded. Mr. Kauder said that he thought the production of the cantata could be made the occasion of a May festival next year. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and called physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cure of croup.
