

The Times

(MORNING, EVENING AND SUNDAY.) THE TIMES COMPANY. STILSON HUTCHINS, President.

PUBLICATION OFFICE, THE HUTCHINS BUILDING, Corner Tenth and D Streets Northwest

Subscription Rates: Morning, Evening and Sunday, Fifty Cents; Sunday Only, Thirty-five Cents; Evening and Sunday, Thirty-five Cents.

Telephone Numbers: Editorial Rooms, 496; Business Office, 497; Circulation Department, 498.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

Table showing circulation of THE TIMES for the week ending Sept. 3, 1898, with daily figures for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

THE TIMES, in all its editions, Morning, Evening and Sunday, will be mailed to one address for FIFTY CENTS per month. Address changed as often as desired.

The Advertiser's Guarantee Company, of Chicago, hereby certifies that it has, by its expert examiners, proven and attested the circulation of THE TIMES, of Washington, the daily average paid circulation for the month of July, 1898, was 31,000 copies.

This is GUARANTEED to the advertiser of the country by a BOND of $50,000 in the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Maryland, deposited with the Northern National Bank, of Chicago.

ADVERTISING GUARANTEE COMPANY, by J. R. MASON, President.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1898.

Miles and Garcia.

The Congress of the United States has formally refused to recognize the provisional government in Cuba, organized under the plans of the Junta, and there is no reason now why it should be accepted as the responsible institution for the administration of Cuban affairs.

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

feating the re-election of President McKinley.

The fact that it has been considered necessary to resort to this obvious falsehood in order to stifle popular clamor and escape an inquiry will be taken by the country as a Republican confession of guilt.

Secretary Alger, through the intervention of the President, toward whom Secretary Sherman entertains the kindest feelings may be able to hush the condemning voice of the venerable and influential Ohio statesman, but the influence and the purpose must be so obvious as to make his silence more eloquent and significant than any words he could speak.

The boys, who left their homes a few weeks ago in robust health, are now, in some instances, prostrated only by conditions that imply and prove neglect of their reasonable and vital needs.

It is only the belief that he deserves something better than this that induces The Times to urge upon the action that can alone hold him in the place he has won in the esteem and affection of the American people.

Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration.

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

MR. DOOLEY ON DREYFUS.

The clearest statement that has been made of the nature of the charges against Dreyfus, the degraded French captain, is by Mr. Dooley, whose views find expression in the Chicago Journal.

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"If 't was an oplen thrille an' ye heard th' 'stiff-mony an' 'knew th' language an' saw th' 'stiff after 'twas blown open, ye'd be puzzled an' not care a rush whether Dreyfus was a Jew or not."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

A TIMELY WARNING.

No arraignment of the War Department and the Administration for the needless sufferings of our soldiers through inefficiency and neglect has been more direct and positive than that of the ablest and most influential of New England newspapers, the Providence Journal.

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

COL. BRYAN WILL RESIGN.

Col. William Jennings Bryan, commanding the Third Nebraska Volunteers, wants his regiment mustered out of the service so that he may gracefully resign his commission and take part in the Fall campaign.

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

IN THE POLITICAL ARENA.

All intelligence thus far received in the capital from scenes of political contests indicate that the Democrats may control the next House of Representatives.

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

AROUND THE HORN AGAIN.

The Oregon and Iowa Will Go to the Pacific Coast.

A matter which is causing very general comment in the Navy Department is the proposed order by Secretary of the Navy, Mr. D. M. Evans, that the Oregon and Iowa, two of the great battleships now attached to the North Atlantic fleet will be dispatched to the Pacific coast.

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

ALGER WANTS TO KNOW.

Case of Hugh Parrott and Others to be Investigated.

Secretary Alger has sent the following telegram to the commanding general at Montauk Point:

"A New York paper of about the 23rd ultimo published a statement of the death of Private Hugh Parrott, of the Eighth Regulars, in which it is charged that he had been shot by a private of the same company."

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy, "I don't know any thing about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "you're thoughts on this subject is interesting, but not conclusive, as Dreyfus said to the Pollack that he thought he could lick him. He has a right to ye'er opinion an' ye'er hold it any way."

"Because the Chicago Tribune publishes statistics to show that our soldiers were killed by incompetency and neglect, the Inter Ocean, of the same city, charges it with making an attack on the Administration."

The refusal of Blanco to admit provisions for the starving Cubans is said by the New York Commercial Advertiser to be "one of those annoyances that must be tolerated until Spanish rule is at an end in Cuba."

As a matter of fact, it was not expected that more soldiers would die in camp, in their own country, than on the battlefield.

The greater part of the fighting was done by the regulars, who were as ready six weeks before they left the country as at the time when they did leave.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban patriot, he commended himself to all who saw him before Santiago, except Gen. Shafter.

In no account that has been made public until now have the Cubans had credit for aiding in the landing of Shafter's army on the closely guarded shores of Cuba.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

There is no reason to doubt that the old Cuban general did what he could. What that was, Shafter's reports do not show.

At the least he was entitled to such an invitation to take part in the surrender ceremonies as he could accept and enjoy.

RELIEF FOR DISTRICT SOLDIERS.

The Noble Work of Many Washington Chapter, D. A. R.

In the Times of today is a column of matter under the heading, "Distress Here at Home; Needy Families of the District Volunteers," and describing work proposed to be done by a recently appointed committee, which has not yet met and has been given ten or twelve days in which to organize.