

TALENT HOODED AGAIN

Kinnikinnie the Only Favorite to Win Yesterday.

CLAWSON TAKES AN INNING

Twice Home in Front and Second Once in Three Mounts—Trillo at 1 to 2 Causes Much Grief—Leandro Another Joy Dose—Clear Sky and Cutting Wind—The Card for Today

The bookmakers had another inning at Benning yesterday. The talent seems to be unable to put two winning days together. Thanksgiving, they placed three favorites. Yesterday they fell down to one, and he was so decided a choice that it took $10 to win $1, and bookmakers have dwindled woefully. The books stood little chance to be seriously hurt.

There was a crowd of probably 1,500 people present. The sky was clear and the sun was bright, but a cutting wind prevailed throughout the afternoon that chilled to the bone, and while the racing was exceptionally good, there was little pleasure derived from it.

It was Clawson's day from the jockeys. He rode two winners and ran second once. Neither of the mounts that he landed first figured as favorite. Maher had three mounts, but landed only once—on Kinnikinnie in the last race, the only winning favorite of the day.

The first race was selling, six furlongs, for 3-year-olds and upward, non-winners of a race of the value of $100 in 1895, "ridden by boys who had never ridden a winner." There were twenty-eight entries and the race was divided.

Saratoga, Caldwell, opened at 6 to 5 and 1 to 2, but closed at 5 to 2 and 4 to 5; Tinkler, Glaburn, was well backed at 7 to 2, and even for the place, while South Africa, Potts, brought 4 and 5 to 1. The others brought from 10 to 100. It was announced that the jockey riding the winner would receive a bonus of $10. There was some delay at the post, the monotony of which was broken by South Africa running away. He went nearly half mile at a rapid gait before Potts could pull him up, and his chances for winning the race were gone. When given the word, Tinkler shot out ahead and was never displaced. In the stretch Saratoga and Fetiche ran a driving race for the place, Fetiche winning it, landing a length behind Tinkler, and a half length to the good of Saratoga. The time was 1:16 4-5. Fetiche sold in the pools at 15 and 4-5.

Eighteen horses faced Starter Cassidy for the second race, a dash of five furlongs for maiden fillies and geldings, two-year-olds to carry 95 pounds. Sensina, Maher, was the choice at 2 to 1; Lady Exile, McCue, brought 7 to 5 and 1 to 2; Avoca, O'Connor, and St. Sophia, Deat, each 6 and 2 with Newberger, St. Paul, and 2. The others all the way from 15 to 100. There was again considerable maneuvering at the post, and Fulminate, Glaburn up, emulating the example of South Africa, sent a hot race. He ran three-quarters of a mile before he was eased up. They finally went away to a good start. Sir Christopher showed two lengths in front as they went around the turn. He kept his place until within a hundred yards of the finish. Then Miss Order came fast, and fifty yards from home overtook and passed him, finishing first by a length. Sir Christopher barely saving second place from Lady Exile. The time was 1:10 2-5. Sir Christopher sold in the pools at 3 to 1 and 10 for the place. Miss Order paid 7 to 1 to win. Sensina finished eight horses back.

The second division of the selling event for two-year-olds and upward, non-winners of a race of the value of $100, ridden by boys who had never ridden a winner, furnished the third event. Again a bonus of $10 was offered for the jockey riding the first horse. Carter, was a strong favorite at 1 to 2. Judge Wardell, Hewitt, brought 4 and 1; Takanassee, Mitchell, 6 and 2; Walkenshaw, French, 15 and 4; Protus, 20 and 4; Gester, McCue, Hutchins, 10 and 20, and Regulator, McCreary, 100 and 30. These were all the starters. Judge Wardell went out first and finished first, Trillo second and Walkenshaw third. The time was 1:17. McCreary slipped off of Regulator in one of the false breaks, but was unhurt and rode the race out.

Leandro was made favorite for the fourth event, selling, six and a half furlongs for two-year-olds. McCue had the mount. His price was 9 to 5. Roysterer, Clawson, 2 and 1; Strangest, O'Connor, 5 and 8 to 5, and Fast Black, Maher, 6 and 2. The others brought from 20 to 100. There were ten starters. Leandro, with Specialist on even terms, went away in the lead. They ran like a team around the turn. Here Roysterer, with Fast Black at his heels, came through the bunch. It was a driving race between the pair to the wire, Roysterer getting the best of it by a length. Fast Black second and Strangest third. The time was 1:24. The interest of the day was centered in the mile-and-one-sixteenth race, the last event. There were five starters. Kinnikinnie, Maher, was a 7 to 10 favorite; Charantus, Clawson, was second choice at 5; Handal, Evans, 20 and 4; McCue, B and 5 to 2; Endeavor, O'Connor, 10 and 5. They got off on even terms, but rounding for the back stretch Charantus went to the front while Maher with Kinnikinnie laid pole back. They ran to the three-quarters pole this way, when Maher gave the favorite his head and he began to move up. Charantus held his lead to the last-furlong pole, but here he stumbled and Kinnikinnie ran out winner by a length. Charantus second, and Marsian third. The time was 1:31.

JIM CORBETT USES WORDS

"Calumny" and "Gossip" Now in His Fighting Repertoire.

TO BET ON HIS INNOCENCE

Former Champion Offers to Put Up Money—Swears Before a Notary Public—Articles of Agreement a Blind-Each Boxer Received One-Half of the Percentage of Proceeds

New York, Nov. 25.—Jim Corbett was about town today, explaining how he came close to losing his fight with Sharkey on a foul. The former champion is trying to convince the sports that their opinion of him is all wrong and unjust.

"Since Tuesday night," said Corbett today, "I have been the recipient of a lot of abuse and unfair criticism. I have been charged with misleading my friends, throwing down the public and doing every thing that is low and contemptible. Will this talk never cease? Must this calumny and gossip continue? Those who know me better know that I was never mixed up in a shady affair or transaction of any kind, and I defy any man to show that I was. I was innocent of any wrong doing on last Tuesday night, and I will give $1,000 to any man who can prove that I even had a motive for so doing."

"In regard to the statement of referee John Kelly that neither myself nor my manager requested him to call all bets off, I will wager Mr. Kelly $1,000 that John Conslime, my timekeeper, was the first man to suggest that matter to him. My manager, George Conslime, also requested him to do this, as will be seen by the interview which appeared in print after the battle. If I was a party to a fake I know what to expect. Like murder, this fight will out some day, and I will have to take my share of the thing if I have done anything wrong."

Corbett also made a statement, dwelling on the facts quoted above, and went before a notary public and swore to the truth of what he said.

It was learned on good authority today that the articles of agreement signed by both boxers at the time the match was made, and which stipulated that the boxers were to meet for a purse of $20,000, were merely a blind. The facts are that the battle was for a percentage of the gate receipts, and each boxer received 50 per cent.

It is probable that in the near future the officials of the Lenox Athletic Club will revise the regulations of the boxing rules in such a way that all knotty questions can be covered. That the code is incomplete is the consensus of opinion among many sportsmen. Many clauses are indefinite and obscure meanings. The powers of the referee are not clearly stated and other rules appear to need amendments.

It is probable that two changes to be made by the Lenox Athletic Club will cover the referee's authority to rule on bets and also the question of seconds in jumping into the ring. The officials believe that a referee should have power to declare off bets if, in his judgment, a fighter is applying for a job.

As evidence that the result of the big fight has not exactly killed the game, the Lenox Club managers said today that it has already sold $2,000 worth of tickets for the Dixon-Gardiner contest to be decided next Tuesday.

St. Louis Commercial Club Offers a Purse of $10,000 for It.

The management of the Commercial Club wired the principals last night, offering to hang up a purse of $10,000 if they will agree to fight here early in December.

Cleland has defeated the following men: Cal. McCarty, Hoboken, six rounds; O. Brown, Grand Rapids, three rounds; John Ryan, New York, six rounds; Bill Williams, Chicago, twenty-seven rounds; Harry Pearson, Michigan, ten rounds; A. Schaffer, Pennsylvania, ten rounds; Jack Lyons, Ohio, seven rounds; John Adams, Illinois, fifteen rounds; Dan. Delaney, St. Louis, six rounds.

He has also fought draws with Billy Plummer, England, two rounds; Dai. Hawkins, San Francisco, four rounds.

LEWIS DID NOT APPEAR.

Wrestler Murphy Says He Had a Date With Him to Make a Catch.

Jack Murphy, a local catch-as-catch-can wrestler, some time ago challenged Dick Lewis of New York, to a match, the terms to be arranged mutually. Murphy claims to be the champion of the District, and there has been considerable feeling between the two men for some time over a contest for the honor in question. It was determined, according to Murphy, to meet yesterday morning to put up the money and arrange the details of the affair.

Murphy and his manager, Thomas H. Redmond, were on hand at the time said to have been agreed upon, their pockets lined with money, but Lewis did not show up. Murphy claims that he has been disappointed three times by Lewis.
