

Lansburgh & Bro.

3 Big Wash Goods Values for tomorrow

Solid Colored Lawns for tomorrow. All solid colors that are 15c values, go for 10c yd. Suitable for linings, waists, or dresses. Absolutely fast colors. Shades are Blue, Heliotrope, Gray, Green, Red, Yellow, Turquoise, etc.

Linen Lawns, Natural ecru grounds, with dots, rings, stripes, and floral designs. These are 25c values tomorrow. They'll go very quickly at only 12 1/2c yd.

Black Batiste. Tomorrow we'll sell you a warranted Black Batiste that will prove satisfactory in every respect for 12 1/2c yd., that is a regular 18c value.

Lawn Dept.—Centre Aisle, Main Store

Lansburgh & Bro., 420 to 426 Seventh St.

OUR credit prices are as low as the lowest cash prices—in any store in Washington. That's easy to say—and it's just as easy to PROVE—if you will make a comparison. Every piece in this store is marked in plain figures—that will help you in deciding whether we are entitled to your patronage or not.

8c A YARD

FOR CHINA MATTING.

That's our price for the identical grades that are selling today for 15 cents a yard in the cash stores. More than this—we take all matting down free. Get everything you need for the home—say for it as you can spare the money—weekly or monthly—no notes or interest.

GROGAN'S MAMMOTH Credit House

817, 819, 821, 823 7th Street. Between H and I.

WE Bake Squires YOU May Eat Old Homestead BREAD. Satisfying, Wholesome, Non-Digestible. In fact "The Best Bread in Town." This Week's Display at J. T. TARBELL'S, Takoma Park. "Your Grocer Sells It."

Teeth Extracted Without Pain.

60 sets of teeth, $5. Gold fillings, $1. Sp. Silver Amalgam, 75c. Gold Amalgam, 50c. Crown, 75c. Porcelain Crown, $2. Teeth cleaned, 75c. All work done by electricity.

PHILADELPHIA DENTAL PARLORS 1305 F Street NW.

Steinway, Pianos Gabler, Chase, Poole, Huntington. On Easy Payments. E. F. Droop & Sons, 925 Penna. Ave.

Crystals, 10c. Matings, 75c. All work guaranteed. Specialist in Silver and English. A. KAHN, 85 F St.

INSIST ON GETTING MOTHER'S BREAD.

No bread so pure—no bread so healthful—no bread so nourishing. Not a fraction of dead matter in it. Refresh substitutes. Your grocer will supply Mother's Bread. We wholesale it. For sale by all grocers. Made by Corby Bros. 2285 Brightwood Ave. Phone 1440.

THE SOCIAL WORLD OF WASHINGTON

Few Important Social Plans Announced for May.

Literary Society Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Foster.

Representative and Mrs. Hitt and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Gave Dinners Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foster entertained the Literary Society last night. Mr. Foster being a member of that intellectual and very exclusive body. It being the last meeting of the season, an unusually brilliant programme of literary and musical selections was enjoyed by the forty members and about as many additional guests, and afterward supper was served.

The beautiful home in I Street, enriched with rare paintings, Oriental hangings, and priceless curios gathered by Mr. and Mrs. Foster during their travels about the world, was abloom with wild honey-suckle, bridal wreath, and dogwood blossoms that mingled in graceful profusion with crystal vases of La France roses and tall, stately palms.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson entertained at dinner last night in honor of their neighbors, the Mexican Ambassador and Señora Aspiz. The formal decorations were La France roses massed on a mirror plaque in the centre of the table, with single long-stemmed buds sprayed gracefully over the snowy cloth. Both the massive chandelier above the centre of the board and the candles in the silver candelabra burned under shades of the same dainty pink.

Representative and Mrs. Hitt entertained last night for a second time in honor of Dr. and Mrs. von Rotberg. The distinguished company consisted of the State and Mrs. Hay the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Gage, and Mr. and Mrs. Boardman.

Count von Brunneng and his bride returned to Washington in the early days of last week and almost every afternoon have been enjoying drives through the city and beautiful roads of the suburbs. This evening they will be entertained at dinner at the German Embassy.

The poets who write odes to May generally refer to her as the month of flowers before they get through, and they may be right, only they will never get Hymen to agree with them. Of all the months of the year, with the exception of the Lenten season, of course, no month bears so sparse a crop of orange blossoms and bride roses as does May.

For some reason or other a crabbed oracle of fore-tell times wrote a jingle about "A bride who weds in May will be happy a year and a day," and the sinister doggerel that said so little and implied so much grew into a household warning that, even in these days, is lived up to in awe. There are always sensible young people, however, in these days of grace who have their own notions that May is just about the most ideal time in all the year to get married and travel in, and several such couples have arranged for their weddings to occur within the next four weeks.

Dinners and luncheons in honor of Dr. and Mrs. von Rotberg and of Mrs. McKinley were kept the social calendar hospitably open to the diplomat and hosts of the week will be the Russian Ambassador, who has invitations out for next Friday and Saturday evenings.

A report comes from Rome that the Queen of Italy is so amazed—yes, and piqued—at being outshined at two court balls by the diamonds worn both by Mrs. Draper, wife of the American Ambassador, and Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, that the royal Margherita has decided to submit no longer to a coronet, and has put her own jewels in a casket, and at her last appearance wore only a coronet of Etruscan gold.

Philadelphia left nothing undone, socially, to add to the pleasure, and to show honor to Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Grant and her family, and the ladies of the Presidential party who went over to attend the Grant monument unveiling ceremonies last week.

A luncheon in honor of Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. Grant was given at the Bellevue on Thursday by Mrs. Charles Curtis Harrison. The guests were received in the waiting room on the first floor by Mrs. Daniel Holman, and they then proceeded to the parlor, on the second floor, where Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Grant, and Mrs. Harrison awaited them. President McKinley, Secretary Long, Secretaries Gage, Capt. Algeron Sartoris, Lieut. Alexander Sharp, Mr. J. Dundas Lippincott, Mr. Archibald Montgomery, Mr. John C. Anderson, and Mr. Charles Randolph Wood were present at the reception before the luncheon. At 1 o'clock luncheon was served in the small dining room on the second floor at five small tables, each being handsomely decorated with cut flowers, roses and magnolias.

Mrs. Joshua Lippincott gave a dinner on Thursday evening, at her residence, in honor of Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. Grant. The guests were Mrs. Lyman E. Gage, Mrs. John D. Long, Mrs. E. A. Hitchcock, Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, Mrs. Mary Grant Cramer, Mrs. Jube, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. John C. Anderson, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Edw. Charles, Curtis Harrison, Mrs. John Thompson Spencer, Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, Mrs. J. Madison Taylor, Mrs. John T. Morris, Mrs. Charles H. Howell, Mrs. Edw. Rensselaer. These present at the dinner afterwards occupied the proscenium boxes during the speeches at the Academy of Music.

On the same evening Mr. George L. Harrison, Jr., gave a dinner at his residence in honor of Miss Rosemary Sartoris, the guests invited to meet her being prominent members of Philadelphia's younger set, together with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Milbourne Townsend.

Miss Sartoris was again the guest of honor at a dinner last night, when her hostess was Mrs. John Thompson Spencer, with whom she will remain over tonight. The dinner was followed by a theatre party.

Representative and Mrs. Hitt entertained at dinner last night complimentary to Dr. and Mrs. von Rotberg.

Mrs. Charles Emory Smith will not close the family residence, 11 Massachusetts Avenue, but will make little visits to Washington from her Philadelphia home or wherever she may decide to spend the season, so as to be as much as possible the Postmaster General, while the official duties will keep him at the Capital the greater part of the summer.

The mechanical engineers, who will meet in session here next month, will be given a reception on the evening of May 11 by Mrs. Westinghouse, who is having a party annex to her residence prepared to accommodate so large a body. Mr. Westinghouse will sail for a brief trip to Europe next Wednesday on the American Line steamship St. Louis.

Miss Topham is home from a visit to her cousin, Miss Louise Earle Topham, The Terrace, Roland Park, Baltimore.

Mrs. William Parker Tiedel, Mrs. Dr. Westlands in May after 4 o'clock, 1746 Q Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Leavitt Francis will extend their honeymoon trip into May, when they will sail for a summer of travel abroad.

The Socialists of St. Aloysius Church will give a "birthday party" at Georgetown Hall tomorrow evening, for which a delightful programme of music and recitations has been prepared. Those who will contribute their talent to the entertainment are Miss Minnie Genter, Miss La Monthrop, the Misses Wardman, Miss La Clifton, Miss Jessie Gordon, Miss Helen Reed, Miss Pauline Eiselein, Miss Cecilia Doherty, Miss Ella Blaine Gleason, Miss Nellie Corrigan, Misses Katharine and Tannan DeVan, Mrs. James H. DeVan, Miss H. Conley, Mr. Ed Turpin, and Mr. George O'Connor. The accompanist will be Prof. S. J. Kubel, organist and musical director of St. Aloysius church.

The marriage of Mr. Richard Harding Davis and Miss Cecil Clarke is announced to take place next Thursday at St. Gabriel's Church, at Marlton, Mass. Miss Ethel Raymond will be Miss Clarke's maid of honor, and Mr. Charles Belmont Davis will act as best man. The ushers will be Mr. Charles Dana Gibson, Mr. John Fox, Jr., Mr. J. Davis Broadhead, Capt. Arthur H. Lee, of the British army, Capt. Lloyd Griscorn, Mr. Horace Howard Furness, Robert H. Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clarke, a brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Munn and family will sail from New York to Southampton May 3 on the American Line steamship St. Louis. Another passenger from Washington booked for the same trip is Dr. E. A. Scheinzig. No one goes abroad to attend the International Congress for Tuberculosis at Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fairfax, who have been the guests of Mrs. Fairfax's sister, Mrs. Ayres, since their return from Europe, have gone to New York. The Misses home of Mrs. Fairfax, who are Misses Van Rensselaer in her girlhood days. On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fairfax were guests of honor at a dinner given for them by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hamann at their new residence in Fifth Avenue.

The marriage of Mr. George W. Propp, assistant station agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at Washington, and Miss Annie Bastin, of London, England, will take place May 8 at 4:26 o'clock, at Waugh Church, Rev. Dr. Mendel officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Selke left yesterday for New York. They will sail next Thursday for an extended trip in Europe and a visit to their relatives there. They expect to return the latter part of September.

The Cosmopolitan Shakespeare Club met Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Webb, 254 Ninth Street northeast. The subject was "The Duty of the Government to the Indian." After the reading of the fourth and fifth acts of "Comedy of Errors," Rolfe's notes on same were read and discussed. The members present were Messieurs Thomson, Pierson, Webb, Whitney, MacCrarty, Foster, and the Misses Pierson, Halley, Jeffrey, Weiss, and Malone.

The marriage of Miss Edna Ray and Mr. William L. Saul took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alfred Ray, "The Highlands," near Kensington, Md., on last Thursday afternoon, Rev. J.

The Evans Dental Parlors

(Established 1880)

Are making a special offer of low prices for first-class work. We are not competing with cheap establishments in college associations, but with so-called regular practitioners, who use the same material and can do no better work. Our prices are less than half charged by them. We have only skilled graduate operators, who will positively do just as good work as can be obtained at any office in the city. Teeth extracted by our new scientific method—absolutely painless. Gold Crowns and Teeth without plates. Gold Fillings and all other dental work done without pain. Full set of Teeth, $5. You will find that we do just as we advertise, which is proved by our large and successful practice. We can tell you exactly what your work will cost by a FREE examination. Remember the place and number—

THE EVANS DENTAL PARLORS,

1309 F STREET N. W.

The Price of Health

Is the Carefulness in Good Eating.

RUETH'S PALMETTO BREAD

Is conducive to good health. It's the best baked and most nutritious bread known to the public.

Insist upon having...

PALMETTO BREAD.

YOUR GROCER SELLS IT.

Mayer Bros. Co.

$1.25 Gloves, 73c.

A special that will appeal to every economical woman, 3-clasp real kid gloves, in black, white, tan, mode, and gray, perfect fitting, products of one of the best makers. Always sell for $1.25. Warranted and fitted at our risk tomorrow at 73c.

We are Clearing Out All Spring Goods Preparatory To a Grand Summer Opening.

Trimmed rough braid SAILOR Hats, excellent make and properly finished ..... 49c

Split Braid Double Brim SAILOR Hats, trimmed with a-l-silk bands, leather sweat band, satin tipped, new Knuc. block. The greatest Sailor value in the town at ..... 99c

Children's Trimmed LEGRON HATS, in all colors, very tastefully gotten up ..... $1.25

Ladies' TRIMMED HATS, some of the very prettiest things of the season. Hats that sold for $6.50 to $10, patterned after the new Paris, London, and New York creations. $5.00

Table filled with JAP SILK WAISTS, in all colors, at waists that sold for $3. Special at ..... $3.00

LADIES' SUITS, in all colors, and black, elegant make and cloth, silk lined jackets, tight and reefer effects, broken sizes. Sold from $15 to $17.50. Reduced to close ..... $10.00

SHIRT WAIST TABLE. Made up of waists that sold from $1.49 to $2.25. All sizes; perfect fitting; products of the best makers in the country—market price ..... 99c

WRAPPERS—A table filled with a big variety of wrappers, excellently made, very best patterned for $1.50. Reduced to ..... 50c

MAYER BROS. & CO. 937-939 F Street.

F. Mackin officiating. The bride wore white tulle and chiffon. White roses fastened her tulle veil and the same flowers were in her bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eleanor G. Ray, and Miss Pearl Page, who wore white dotted swiss gowns and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Mr. Saul, with his best man, Oscar Johnson, stood waiting under an arch of white lilacs in the bay window, which was elaborately adorned with the same flowers. The entire room at the close of the reception, which followed the ceremony, and which was attended by a number of Washington guests, Mr. and Mrs. Saul left for their home in Newport News, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Wharton have arrived in Washington from Newport. They will go abroad next week and return to this country in June.

EGYPTIAN ANTIQUITIES.

An Appeal to Stop the Spoilation of Ancient Relics.

(From the Fall Mall Gazette), do as much as it might for the threatened destruction of the temple of Philae by the new dam, because they seem to have listened to the representations made to them, and to have done all that was possible to avert mischief in this respect. But M. Amelineau, one of his discoveries at Abydos shows a state of things existing there which would be tolerated by no civilized government. One of the largest mounds is composed of jars of all kinds, shapes and ages, containing the food and other offerings which the piety of the ancient Egyptians deposited there for the use of the dead. It is called the "tomb" because it is so high, and after giving various reasons why it should be materially reduced, he wound up by solemnly declaring that he was losing at least $1,000 a year.

"Well, Pat, if that's the case," said the superintendent, dryly, "I'd advise you to sell out and quit the business at once. You certainly can't afford to keep on if you are running behind a thousand dollars a year."

"Shure, an' I know it," said Pat, philosophically; "the business is ruinin' me inotirely, but I might ez well stick to it now that I'm at it. I've got to do something 'to make a livin' an' if I quit sellin' cabbage an' 'bratles' an' start at some other trade I might be after losin' more yet, I dunno."

The superintendent concluded to lower Mr. Noonan's rent and allow him to remain in the vegetable business.

See ad. of Homes and Investments—today's "Post" bargains. Stone & Fairfax, 806 F.

10 Cents a Day

Will buy or rent the best sewing machine on earth—the LIGHT-RUNNING DOMESTIC. Over 4,000 grandmothers, mothers, and daughters of Washington have been benefited by this machine. It is the particular find-spot is, as he puts it, "lost to science." The Turkish plan of appointing a commissioner to attend each explorer, and to be responsible to the government for the proper conduct of the expedition seems to be a better plan, and some step of the kind will have to be taken if the popularity of Egypt as a Tom Tiddler's ground goes on increasing.

"Victoria Zwiebach"

—is a hygienic bread. It makes the children's "wonder" if they are invited to the moment, or if they are invited. This, in expression of the old-fashioned view of a modern servant: "It isn't she isn't a good enough girl. She's willing and she's strong. But she's a 'wonder' she leaves the house ten times for every once she comes in."

The wisdom of a mother or grandmother can be put to a convincing reality to what disarming to criticism. There was, for instance, the girl servant who would meet any attempts at correction or blame with: "Well, I know. For mother's often said, 'Well, of all the girls I ever did see—you are one.'" And this there was no denying.

Charles Dickens understood this power of phrases from a French nonconformist, that can be so direct in its result, so unanswerable and conclusive. His books are filled with instances of the nature of Mrs. Crupp's spirit used in such language; of those plain words that state their case, unhampered or weakened by any search after extraordinary effect.

He would have liked the story of the needle-woman whose services were engaged by the day, and who had a habit of emphasizing her conversation with the words: "As sudden as I can get on my way in the morning, she said till evening at her work, and was a rooted determination in the house. But in her fine determination to put a convincing reality to what she said, she would speak as if she had at that moment appeared through the ceiling.

Of this force of expression, whether achieved by straight or inverted methods, "sling" gives many instances. And the American phrase that questions the security of an object or cohesion of a scheme with "Will it stay put?" is a language of ugliness apart, a very pattern of concentrated meaning. Among the cottagers this power of expression results, as we have seen, from their use of simple language; of those plain words that state their case, unhampered or weakened by any search after extraordinary effect.

He would have liked the story of the accident or of a sorrow in the language of the Bible, and one is reminded, by their almost crude simplicity of narration, of the quiet strength in the description of the death of the Shunammite's son.

"* * * And when the child was grown it fell on a day that he went out to his father, to the reapers. And he said unto his father, 'My head, my head.' And his father said to a lad, 'Carry him to his mother. And when he had taken him and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died."

"And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door upon him, and went out. * * *

The butler spoke like that. 'Unknowingly though it may be, they have kept a true sense of the weight and value of words. A Scottish farmer who had grown to love the wisdom of a Hibernian into one sentence. He had been listening to the story of a strong young heart beside him, and 'Ma dearie,' he said very quietly, 'he's no contentin' hisself with the use of the fine old simple words of our language can be funny as well as grand. This was in the cottage of an old woman who was very ill, and an English doctor-in-law came on a visit to nurse her.

"Well, I'm here till next Tuesday, m'm, but after that I must go. I don't know what'll be the result of it, but I'll be back in a week. You see, I leave five behind me, and all're my maies. My husband, two 'solders, and 'n' sons, an' two 'solders, and all're, it's not as if there was one among them as can do anything. Like, for themselves. So that's where it is. And I must get home, or I'd stay, any welcome."

Such unwitting irony, too, was in this woman's view of man, and the more scathing because it was so simply said.

I have touched before in my papers on epitaphs, and the real or feeling they convey. But for beauty of moderation this epitaph of a Scottish shepherd on his dog leads all the rest. The coolies are trained to fetch the sheep from the hills where they have been wandering, often for days. If there are some missing, "There's three wantin'," the man says, or "There's two wantin'," as the case may be, and he keeps watching the wave of his master's hand from a distance, and harkening to his voice, goes off again and again in search till the flock is found complete.

On a certain farm there was a dog, above his kind, sagacious and true. And when he came to die, the shepherd put just these words over his grave, "There's yin wantin'!"

SOME ODD SAYINGS.

Pithy Expressions of Unconscious Humor and Pathos.

(From the London Outlook.)

A French servant who had, no doubt, had a hard week, gave an excellent instance of the translation of an English phrase. It was a case of conveying to me that there had been a superfluity of work, which, if it continued, would prevent his taking advantage of a general holiday. "Heli! Al-right, al-right. But Madame does not know, perhaps, Monday (throwing indignant glances toward me) till twelve I have not been on ze back. Tuesday again, and wiz siz lonche, and once more Wednesday I have not been on ze back. All of which was only a very good way of putting our expression of "being on one's feet all day."

Among poor people such sentences are legion. One would wonder if they are invited to the moment, or if they are invited. This, in expression of the old-fashioned view of a modern servant: "It isn't she isn't a good enough girl. She's willing and she's strong. But she's a 'wonder' she leaves the house ten times for every once she comes in."

The wisdom of a mother or grandmother can be put to a convincing reality to what disarming to criticism. There was, for instance, the girl servant who would meet any attempts at correction or blame with: "Well, I know. For mother's often said, 'Well, of all the girls I ever did see—you are one.'" And this there was no denying.

Charles Dickens understood this power of phrases from a French nonconformist, that can be so direct in its result, so unanswerable and conclusive. His books are filled with instances of the nature of Mrs. Crupp's spirit used in such language; of those plain words that state their case, unhampered or weakened by any search after extraordinary effect.

He would have liked the story of the accident or of a sorrow in the language of the Bible, and one is reminded, by their almost crude simplicity of narration, of the quiet strength in the description of the death of the Shunammite's son.

"* * * And when the child was grown it fell on a day that he went out to his father, to the reapers. And he said unto his father, 'My head, my head.' And his father said to a lad, 'Carry him to his mother. And when he had taken him and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died."

"And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door upon him, and went out. * * *

The butler spoke like that. "Unknowingly though it may be, they have kept a true sense of the weight and value of words. A Scottish farmer who had grown to love the wisdom of a Hibernian into one sentence. He had been listening to the story of a strong young heart beside him, and 'Ma dearie,' he said very quietly, 'he's no contentin' hisself with the use of the fine old simple words of our language can be funny as well as grand. This was in the cottage of an old woman who was very ill, and an English doctor-in-law came on a visit to nurse her.

"Well, I'm here till next Tuesday, m'm, but after that I must go. I don't know what'll be the result of it, but I'll be back in a week. You see, I leave five behind me, and all're my maies. My husband, two 'solders, and 'n' sons, an' two 'solders, and all're, it's not as if there was one among them as can do anything. Like, for themselves. So that's where it is. And I must get home, or I'd stay, any welcome."

Such unwitting irony, too, was in this woman's view of man, and the more scathing because it was so simply said.

I have touched before in my papers on epitaphs, and the real or feeling they convey. But for beauty of moderation this epitaph of a Scottish shepherd on his dog leads all the rest. The coolies are trained to fetch the sheep from the hills where they have been wandering, often for days. If there are some missing, "There's three wantin'," the man says, or "There's two wantin'," as the case may be, and he keeps watching the wave of his master's hand from a distance, and harkening to his voice, goes off again and again in search till the flock is found complete.

On a certain farm there was a dog, above his kind, sagacious and true. And when he came to die, the shepherd put just these words over his grave, "There's yin wantin'!"

Pat's Reasoning. (From the New York World.)

Some years ago an Irishman named Pat Noonan had a vegetable stand in one of the city markets. Pat was a chronic knicker for who he considered "his rights," and at the same time about as shrewd and witty a specimen of the Emerald Isle as could be found in a week's travel, outside of the "old darts" and, no matter how awkward a predicament he found himself in, his mental quickness generally showed him a way out.

One day he was complaining to the superintendent of the market that the rent of his stall was altogether too high, and after giving various reasons why it should be materially reduced, he wound up by solemnly declaring that he was losing at least $1,000 a year.

"Well, Pat, if that's the case," said the superintendent, dryly, "I'd advise you to sell out and quit the business at once. You certainly can't afford to keep on if you are running behind a thousand dollars a year."

"Shure, an' I know it," said Pat, philosophically; "the business is ruinin' me inotirely, but I might ez well stick to it now that I'm at it. I've got to do something 'to make a livin' an' if I quit sellin' cabbage an' 'bratles' an' start at some other trade I might be after losin' more yet, I dunno."

The superintendent concluded to lower Mr. Noonan's rent and allow him to remain in the vegetable business.

See ad. of Homes and Investments—today's "Post" bargains. Stone & Fairfax, 806 F.

10 Cents a Day

Will buy or rent the best sewing machine on earth—the LIGHT-RUNNING DOMESTIC. Over 4,000 grandmothers, mothers, and daughters of Washington have been benefited by this machine. It is the particular find-spot is, as he puts it, "lost to science." The Turkish plan of appointing a commissioner to attend each explorer, and to be responsible to the government for the proper conduct of the expedition seems to be a better plan, and some step of the kind will have to be taken if the popularity of Egypt as a Tom Tiddler's ground goes on increasing.

"Victoria Zwiebach"

—is a hygienic bread. It makes the children's "wonder" if they are invited to the moment, or if they are invited. This, in expression of the old-fashioned view of a modern servant: "It isn't she isn't a good enough girl. She's willing and she's strong. But she's a 'wonder' she leaves the house ten times for every once she comes in."

10c.

Infants' extra fine quality corded SWISS CAPS, with double ruffle. Edged with lace. They come in white, pink, blue, and tan. Worth 18c. Cash 10c or Credit.

Henry Reuter.

Sole U. S. Agr. 203 G Street.

Our New Credit Way. Our New Credit Way.

AN UNEXAMPLED ARRAY OF BARGAINS!

With our store news we've developed for the public a craving appetite for bargains. It's kept us hustling to supply that appetite. But there seems to be an inexhaustible supply always on hand here. We present to you tomorrow a hundred or so very pronounced and unmistakable bargains in much-in-demand merchandise. In every shelf there are as many rare opportunities as there are goods, so that you could almost pick at random and secure your share of supply. Don't hesitate any more about asking for credit than you would about having your bundle wrapped. It's one of the business principles of this store and nothing more. Our New Credit Way grants you the easiest kind of terms.

Decisive Price Cuts on Ladies' Wear.

We are to clear out our stock of ladies' tailor-made suits, shirts, etc. You're anxious to buy them at this time of season. With such conditions there ought to be some lively selling here in this department. Prices are really sensational.

Lot No. 1.	Lot No. 2.
Ladies' tailor-made "Eton" and "Grenada" suits in all the leading styles and very latest shades of tan, gray, brown, mauve, etc. Jackets are perfect fitting, tailor stitched and pressed, and lined with best tulle silk. Skirts cut in the circular effect, elegantly lined with best tulle silk. Cash or Credit, $3.98.	Ladies' tailor-made suits in all wool covert and Grenada. Cloths in the latest shades. Jackets are made in the Eton and reefer effects. Lined with the best tulle silk. Skirts are perfect fitting, 3-man-tailored, overlapped seams, and finished with buttons. $15 value. Cash or Credit, $6.98.
Lot No. 3.
Consists of all our full tailor-made suits in Venetian, Covert, Camela Hair, and Grenada Cloths. Jackets are made in the new Eton, reefer, and By-front effects. Lined in plain and fancy tulle silk. Skirts are cut in the Victoria circular and flare effect. Some of these suits are handsomely trimmed in braid and buttons. Values up to $25. Reduced to—Cash or Credit—$8.98

Ladies' silk waists in all the leading shades of turquoise, carter, and black, in the new cording and tucking, well lined and perfect fitting. $6 values. Cash or Credit—$2.98

Big Notion Values.

1 dozen Bonnet Pins.....	5c
B-4 Pins.....	1c
100-yard Spool Silk.....	1-1-2c
Large bottle Shoe Polish.....	4c
Wholesale Casing.....	4c
Corset Laces, dozen.....	5c
Safety Pins, dozen.....	1-1-2c
Mourning Pins, box.....	1c
6 dozen Shirt Buttons.....	4c
Old Hair Curlers.....	1c
Silknettes, all colors.....	4c
2-rubber tip Lead Pencils.....	1c
Roll Toilet Paper.....	4c
Tape, all sizes.....	1c
2 oz. Bump Hooks and Eyes.....	1c
Carter's Ink.....	2c
Ironing Wax, with handle.....	1c
Carter's Mangle.....	2c
Strip Garter Web.....	3c
Clark's Cotton, 200-yard spools.....	2c
100-yard spool Machine Silk.....	1-1-2c
Paper Pins, all sizes.....	1c
Paper Needles.....	1c
Bottle Petroleum.....	2c
200-yard Spool Basting Cotton.....	1-1-2c

Values in Ladies' Underwear.

Ladies' good quality muslin chemise—square yoke—button front—feeling seams and long and wide. $1.75 value. Cash or Credit, 17c

Ladies' extra fine quality cotton skirts—made with yoke, deep hem, full width and a cluster of tucks. 27c Worth 35c. Cash or Credit.....

Ladies' muslin gowns—yoke made with two rows of insertion and 14 tucks. The neck and sleeves are finished with cambric ruffle—full width and length. Worth 85c. Cash or Credit..... 39c

Domestic Leaders.

Extra large size Turkish Towels. 15c quality. Cash or 11 1/2c Credit.

Large size Bedspreads. Very big value—this offer