

The Times

(MORNING, EVENING, AND SUNDAY.)

Subscription Rates: By Mail—One Year: Morning, Evening, and Sunday, $6.00...

Circulation Statement: The circulation of The Times for the week ended May 12, 1900, was as follows: Sunday, May 6, 19,550...

Readers of THE TIMES who may at any time be unable to procure copies at any newsstand or railroad station, or on railroad trains...

MONDAY, MAY 14, 1900.

This week will decide whether the wishes of the Administration or the demands of the country are to control the Senate in the matter of canal legislation...

But they need to be up and doing! The transcontinental railway lobbyists and the Panama syndicate schemers will be close to headquarters from now until a solution is reached...

They can win, however. They know it and the people know it. No excuse for non-action will be accepted.

The hidden terror again. First Secretary Root, then Lord Salisbury, and now Senator Lodge, all slipping to the same tune of the hidden terror that is about to appear from somewhere and do hideous mischief to somebody!

Are we to take these gentlemen seriously? Have they knowledge of real dangers, or is all this jingo business to be accepted as part of the Administration plan to blind the American people to its real determination to surrender the Monroe Doctrine?

We are willing to admit that the gloomy outlook presented in the speeches of Mr. Root at the Grant anniversary dinner, and Mr. Lodge in the Senate on Friday, may be justified by facts within their knowledge, but of which the public is ignorant.

It is thoroughly so to the dangers that would surround us if the Monroe Doctrine were to be relinquished in the ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

Whether such contingencies be worthy of consideration or not, we are in complete agreement with Senator Lodge in his contention for a strong navy and its construction without any delay whatever; only high in Latin and Greek and low in English composition, there seems to be something very wrong somewhere. And this frequently happens. The cause of this singular phenomenon is very simple, when one comes to investigate it. As taught in our schools, Latin and Greek require merely a good memory—as good as that of a parrot.

It may occur to the mind of the impartial critic that, if the American stage is degenerating, the same is true of the English. Since some of the worst plays this season have come from the direction of London, it is not true that the whole, true that our stage is in a lower condition than it was twenty-five years ago.

It is not true that the meretricious and inartistic plays and extravaganzas which are making carloads of money today are simply supplanting a newly-created demand and do not take the place of better plays at all.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

They are not. The class of people attracted by these "shows," as they are appropriately called, did not exist in this country fifty years ago. The people who, in former years, went to see good, clean, bright comedies, vaudeville and witty society dramas, and Shakespearean tragedy, go to see the same things nowadays, and have, generally, no difficulty in finding them.

Political Notes and Gossip: Hopetal in Hoosierdom.—Democratic leaders in Hoosierdom view as a good augury the withdrawal of the Hon. B. F. Shively from the race for Governor of Indiana, as well as from that for Vice President.

Gen. Louis Botha Described by a Correspondent: CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 13.—A letter from Lourenco Marques, under date of April 1, says: "The untimely death of General Joubert has brought to the front one of the most remarkable of the younger Afrikaners, Louis Botha."

CLEWS ON THE OUTLOOK: A Financial Critic Who Takes a Hopeful View: Henry Clews, the New York financial writer, in his weekly letter, says of the outlook for the stock market and of the business conditions of the country in general:

THE BOERS' NEW COMMANDER: Gen. Louis Botha Described by a Correspondent: CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 13.—A letter from Lourenco Marques, under date of April 1, says: "The untimely death of General Joubert has brought to the front one of the most remarkable of the younger Afrikaners, Louis Botha."

Is Forker Doomed?—The friends of the Hon. Joseph Benson Forker are just beginning to realize that there is considerable doubt as to the probability of his personal organization which he built up while fighting the Hanna-McKinley crowd has disintegrated since he attached himself to the interests of the man who are known very cordially to despise him.

Philadelphian: The attempt of Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia, and his henchman, English, to blackmail the Hon. John Wanamaker has resulted in giving the sleepy citizens of the Quaker City an insight into the workings of their municipal government, which has caused some of them temporarily, at least, to sit up.

Here is a Power:—The friends of Major George W. Kirkman of the Forty-fourth Volunteer Infantry are preparing a nice surprise for the President. Major Kirkman is a West Point cadet, and an officer in the Regular Army who is now serving in the volunteer service with a higher rank.

Attorney General Griggs in quiet right in his contention that the new building for the Department of Justice should be a credit to the city, but why does he waste time in arguing that it is a credit to the city, when he has no right to do so?

General Davis has nothing but praise for the garrote as an instrument in capital punishment. He thinks it much more humane than hanging, and the President in transmitting his reflections to the Senate seems to agree with him.

Mr. Hanna professes himself much pleased with the Populist ticket nominated at Sioux Falls. With quaint and simple modesty, however—as rare as a bluish on his metallic cheek, he has no word of praise for the creations of his genius put forth by the Mid-Roaders at Cincinnati.

The Western View: (From the Chicago Chronicle.) William J. Bryan will be nominated for President by the Democrats, not because one faction of the Populists has nominated him, but because he is the Populist candidate for office.

Trade and Trade Restrictions: (From the Indianapolis News.) Trade is a natural thing. It is governed primarily by natural laws. It can be interfered with by legislation, but it cannot be destroyed.

The Deeny of Kipling: (From the Omaha World-Herald.) Aspiring young authors never have a chance to forget that the magazines never pay for names but for merit until they see what the magazines are getting out of them.

Only Sleeping: (From the Indianapolis News.) The Ship Subsidy bill is not dead yet. Alas! it is the good that die young.

Steel and Wire Offices: The Company's Headquarters in New York: NEW YORK, May 13.—Headquarters of the American Steel and Wire Company, which have heretofore been in Chicago, have been moved to New York.

Four Porto Ricans with the Squadron at Jefferson Barracks: ST. LOUIS, May 13.—With the Fifth Cavalry Squadron at Jefferson Barracks are four natives of Porto Rico. One is a youth with military aspirations.

Not the Only Hired Nation: (From the Indianapolis News.) Lord Salisbury wonders at the root of bitterness against England. Possibly he emphasizes it too much, but there is a root of bitterness against England.

Lord Roberts' Difficulty: (From Harper's Weekly.) All of the railroads of South Africa pass through regions which afford facilities for attacks by small bodies of the enemy.

Third Parties: (From the Boston Herald.) He who reviews the political history of the United States for the past ten years will, we think, be convinced that there is room in this country for more than two parties at the same time.

Violence would not only kill any chances for success on the part of the Populists, but it would also kill the present crisis, but it should be put down if the entire male population of St. Louis has to do the work.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Violence would not only kill any chances for success on the part of the Populists, but it would also kill the present crisis, but it should be put down if the entire male population of St. Louis has to do the work.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Violence would not only kill any chances for success on the part of the Populists, but it would also kill the present crisis, but it should be put down if the entire male population of St. Louis has to do the work.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Violence would not only kill any chances for success on the part of the Populists, but it would also kill the present crisis, but it should be put down if the entire male population of St. Louis has to do the work.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.

Ward Ceremonies Attendant When a Spanish Monarch Dies: (From the London Times.) Strange and almost weird is the ceremonial which accompanies the burial of a Spanish King.

Two Burglars in Skirts: Young Girls Arrested for Plundering a House at Night: AUBURN, N. Y., May 13.—Margaret Labor and Catherine Latta, sisters, aged 2 and 15 years old, are in jail here on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury now sitting in this city.

When the King is Dead: (From the London Times.) The girls live in Genoa. On the night of May 5 they broke in the door of the home of Harvey Stanton, the neighborhood village of Locke, taking away almost the entire contents of the house.