Many Tracts From Which the Commissioners May Choose.

Requirements That Will Control in s Selection-Plenty of Room Desired -Action of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia-Urgent Need of the Institution.

The District Commissioners have under onsideration at the present time proposals to sell various tracts of land for Advertisement for these proposals was made pursuant to a clause in the District appropriation act, approved June 5, 1900, in which $100,000 was set apart for the purpose, and the Commissioner authorized to make the purchase. The action of Congress in adopting the clause was, the result first of an again time the result of the purpose, and the commissioner authorized to make the people of Washington and School of a municipal heapital on the part of the rives and the people of Washington and School of a municipal heapital on the part of the rives and the people of Washington and School of a municipal heapital on the part of the rives and the people of Washington and School of a municipal heapital on the part of the rives and the people of Washington and School of the District of Columbia. As a result the Senate Committee, and experts from elsewhere were invited to Washington and examined by the committee. As a result the Senate Committee, and the propose of the propose quirements of the proposed hospital. One important thing will be to secure a tract of sufficient dimensions to afford suitable surroundings. Other things being equal the Commissioners doubtless will select the largest tract which can be purchased with the money available. Another point with the money available. Another point of equal imperiance is that of accessibility. The hospital should be upon one of the principal thoroughfares of the suburban part of the District, in order to be easily reached by the carriages or amburlance in which nations would be conveying the near one of the street car lines for the convenience of the nurses and attendents, as well as the friends of patients the convenience of the nurses and atten-cants, as well as the friends of patients and visitors to the institution. Therefore, while the Comprissioners will naturally seek a large tract and sufficiently remote. street convergaces, including the street

Need of a Public Hospital.

The District government pays annually institutions for the care and treatment of persons who would be taken to the public hospital if one existed. This amount is increased in the care of public charges tooking frow year to year as the city forward, say, five years, the District will be paying $100,000 annually for the care of public charges in private institutions. This amount at 5 per cent would build and equip a hospital equal to those which are the private institutions. This amount at 5 per cent would build and equip a hospital equal to those which are the private institutions. The mexical equal to those which are the private institutions, while the facilities for taking care of District patients would be vastly increased. The proportionate cost of caring for many patients is less than for a few on the scale of economy: therefore the testimony of experts agrees that the public hospital is best.

Another important fact to be considered is that while the District pays about $75,600 annually for the aupport and treatment of public patients, it does not restrict the testimony of public patients, it does not restrict the patients, it does not restrict the patients, it does not restrict the patients in the case of public patients, it does not restrict the patients in the patients of the case of public patients, it does not restrict the patients of the case of public patients, it does not restrict the patients of the case of patients and the public patients in the patients of the case of the case of patients and the patients of the case of the public patients in the patients of the case of the public patients, the patients is the patients, the patients of the case of the patients of the case of the patients of the case of the patients of the patients of the patients of the case of the patients of the

From one to five times each mortile the Sanitary Officer of the Police Department applies at the Garfield Hospital, Columbia Hospital, the Freedman's Hospital, or the Providence Hospital for the reception of a patient and is refused. Sometimes applications at all of them are turned down and he is obliged to take his patient to the Washington Asylum, the only public institution which can receive them. All these institutions are paid large sums annually either from special appropriations by Congress or from the respectively.

Hawken took a train for New York and Wild went to Reading, Pa., from which wild will be arraigned with Hawken tomorrow before Judge Taylor in the Police Court.

The typewriting machines were recovered by Detectives Miller and Peck. Hawken pawned one in Baltimore for $10 and the other in Newark, N. J., for $5. The report of the loss of the machines was made to the police on the lifth and lifth insts, respectively.

In an interview with a reporter yesterday Hawken disclaimed any intention of mentioned above. Her case was of a serious character and she was refused admission, though at the Preedman's Hosolital the Sanitary Officer was told that she would be received but for lack of heds.

Finally she was taken to the Washington Asylum in an exhausted condition, where her case was attended to in what elsewhere would be known as the poorhouse.

Special results of the condition of the conditi where would be known as the poorhouse.
From this circumstance it would appear that the private hospitals are willing enough to take public money, but play the t of the Pharisee when anything like a chronic case or one of difficult surgery is Another phase of the question is that the private bospitals are only incidentally and secondarily public institutions. They take care of private patients first who pay them well, and then, if there is room, and Hospitals of Small Capacity. In his last annual report Herbert W Lewis, Superintendent of Charities, said on where there are so many hospitals as we have in Washington, and where the amount appropriated for medical charity is so large, such a need should exist.
